Town Decides To Vigorously Enforce Zoning Bylaws

By Sue Aucella Deacon

At the time of year when construction is flourishing around town, Andover officials have decided to take a stronger stand against violations of the zoning bylaws.

Following recent problems at the Olympic Village subdivision, "there is a perception that existing bylaws are not being enforced as vigorously as perhaps they could be," Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore explained this week.

"The bylaws were put there to enforce," Town Manager Kenneth Mahony added. "We're going to take a little more positive action to see that they are."

The manager said he wants to see the community development department take immediate action to stop bylaw violations, and according to Gilmore, the department will now have immediate access to special town counsel, town engineers, and the fire and police departments to make that possible.

In addition, Gilmore said, some developers may be required to post performance bonds to ensure that their developments are completed to the town's satisfaction — and if they are not, problems will be corrected at the developer's expense.

Gilmore, Building Inspector Sam DeSalvo and Public Health Director Everett Penney, Jr. are the town administrators responsible for enforcing zoning bylaws, reporting to the manager, Planning Board, Conservation Commission and Board of Health.

DeSalvo said violations of the gravel removal bylaw are among the most prevalent in Andover. One example of the problem: a stop-work order was recently placed on part of Olympic Village off Woburn and River streets because officials say developer Arthur Kalogianis violated the gravel removal laws at that subdivision, as well as the conditions of his subdivision approval.

The building inspector added that businesses operating out of a residential zone and unregistered "junk" cars left in view of public streets are among other violations of the zoning laws common in Andover; businesses in residential zones in particular are "popping up more and more frequently," he noted.

Junk car owners will receive one written warning before their case is turned over to town counsel, DeSalvo said, and this year officials will "go after" those with previous violations first.

Penney said the Board of Health is currently reviewing its rules and regulations for new developments. The best building lots in Andover have already been devel-

Doherty Math Scholars Score First In County

Doherty Junior High math scholars achieved a team score that ranked them first in achievement in Essex County in eighth grade competition.

Ian Davis, son of Dr. and Mrs. David Davis, 186 Elm St., Andover, received the highest individual score in Essex County, which was also the second highest score in New England. Carlos Gonzales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Gonzales, 123 Haverhill St., Andover, placed fourth in Essex County competition.

In seventh grade competition more than 70 scholars achieved a team score that ranked them second place in Essex County and 20th in New England. Andrew Greenstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Greenstein, 3 Rutgers Road, Andover, achieved a personal score that ranked second in Essex County.

Mrs. Marcia Harol, Lois Fermon and Thomas Malone, mathematics teachers at Doherty Junior High School who coached and trained the two teams, had praise for all the competitors. "They really worked hard to get ready for the competition. They worked at home and during every free minute they could find in school and in study hall. They're a great group of students and truly deserve this distinction."

These results were reported by the New England Mathematics League which conducts such competition in many schools in all counties of New England. Doherty Junior High students were members of a branch group known as the Intermediate Mathematics League. The New England Mathematics League conducts similar competition for participating junior and senior high schools. In the competition all members compete in the examination.

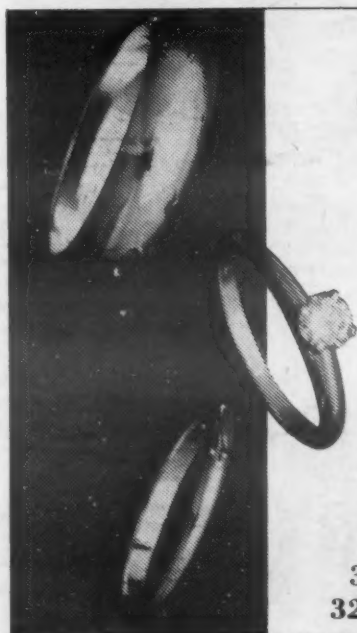

The largest car ever built was the Bugatti "Royale" of which only six were made. It measured over 22 feet in length and the hood alone was over seven feet.

Video Games License Granted

The Knights of Columbus have won permission to install three video games in their Osgood Street meeting hall, with one restriction.

While the selectmen voted unanimously to grant the K. of C. three automatic amusement devices licenses, they stipulated that those machines must remain in view of the bar in the main hall. The group had planned to install the video games in a back room used for games.

Selectman William Dalton said he did not believe that restriction was necessary because the hall is not "frequented by children," but Donn Byrne suggested they try the restriction and "see how it works out."

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said that a license violation for one game will result in the revocation of licenses for all three.

Licenses, Permits Approved

During a regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night, the Board of Selectmen approved a number of licenses and permits.

New England Telephone and Telegraph and Massachusetts Electric were both granted permission to install underground utilities to serve the new "tea lots" subdivision's three streets (Bayberry, Teaberry and Blackberry lanes). The telephone company was also given permission to lay underground conduits on York Street and Salem Street.

Phillips Academy received confirmation of approval of a one-day beer license for June 11, for noon to 3:30 p.m.

Arthur Kady of Montclair Avenue, Andover, was granted a local auctioneer's license; while Francis Ronne of Marshfield was granted a one-day auctioneer's license for the sale of printing equipment at New England Printing Machinery, Inc., Stevens Street, Andover, at 11 a.m. June 21.

The board approved a sewer connection for an industrial site on Ballardvale Street, Wilmington, off River Street, Andover. (Owner Robert Murray will pay Andover a $500 annual fee to make up for property taxes the town will not receive for that portion of the building located in Wilmington.)

And Bay State Gas received confirmation of permission for emergency excavations done during May on Sutherland Street, Juliette Street, Punchard Avenue and Central and School streets.

Block Parties Signal Summer's Return

The return of summer means the return of the block party in Andover, and the selectmen approved plans for two parties Monday night.

Residents of Wolcott Avenue had permission to close their street from 4 to 9 p.m. Monday night, with a Tuesday rain date.

And Enmore Street residents have permission to close their street from Dufton Road to Linwood Street extension from 2 to 10 p.m. July 23, with a July 24 rain date.

The town manager recommended approval of the two requests, with the stipulation that arrangements must be cleared through the Police Department.

No Fireworks At Fourth Celebration

Andover's Fourth of July celebration will not include fireworks this year, Selectmen Chairman Gerald Silverman noted Monday night.

Silverman said the annual fireworks display has been canceled because of the "exorbitant cost" of putting on a good show — many townspeople have been disappointed by the fireworks in recent years — and because of a recent court case "dealing with safety and the responsibility of the town."

The Fourth of July Committee, however, is planning a full day of events to be held in Central Park on the Fourth, and Punchard Avenue, Main, Bartlet and Morton streets will be closed off for a parade, with the selectmen's approval.

Horribles Parade Fourth Highlight

A highlight of this year's Fourth of July Celebration will be the Second Antique and Horribles Parade.

The most attractive feature of a Horribles Parade is that anyone or anything can be involved—kids, dogs, carriages, families, groups, cars, trucks or bicycles—dressed or decorated in any way.

This year's parade promises to hold as many laughs and surprises as before. Wit, satire, imagination and fun are the key ingredients, and if last year's parade is any indication, Andover seems to have an abundance of both.

The onslaught of the gypsy moths seemed to be a favorite theme a year ago. Among some of the features were the Andover bag ladies, a horribles "streaker" and Snow White and the 11 Dwarfs.

Puppet Show Set For Rec Park

Puppets Unlimited will present "The Wind in the Willows" puppet show on Wednesday, June 29, at 11 a.m. at Andover's Recreation Park. Adapted from Kenneth Grahame's classic children's novel, the story is recreated with puppets, scenery and a classical music score which bring to life the serenity of the woods and the animals who make it their home.

The story follows the misadventures of Mr. Toad, a pompous braggart, who is forever getting into trouble. Although he has promised his friends, the faithful Water Rat and Mole, that he will try to behave, when springtime comes he will try to behave, when springtime comes he is of to no good again. He ends up in the city prison and it is up to his friends to try to rescue him. The forest, river, Toad's mansion and a courtroom are the settings of the story.

Puppets Unlimited is comprised of puppeteers Robert Rogers and Greg Glaser from Norwalk, Conn. They wrote the script, built the puppets, created the scenery and constructed a ten-foot-high set. After the 45-minute show, they will conduct a brief discussion (demonstration of puppetry using puppets from the performance).

Puppets Unlimited has performed for thousands of people from Virginia to Vermont and has produced several television features for young people.

A small fee will be charged to those persons not registered in one of the DCS playground programs. In the event of rain, the puppet show will be held at South School.

Disney Classic Will Open Film Series

Cinderella will be the first of a series of eight family feature-length movies at Central Park. Cinderella will begin at dusk Monday, June 27, where everyone's favorite rag-to-riches story will be brought to life with lilting music, beautiful artwork and a supporting cast of unforgettable characters romping through one memorable moment after another.

The film series includes: Bambi (July 11); Robin Hood (July 18); Benji (July 25); The Great Muppet Caper (Aug. 1); No Deposit, No Return (Aug. 8); Close Encounters (Aug. 15) and Superman (Aug. 22).

An Elmer Fudd cartoon short will run prior to the showing of Cinderella. In the event of rain, scheduled movies will be shown on Tuesday evening.

Top Essay

Teachers Present Findings

David Gangi, a language arts teacher at West Junior High, and George Spanos, a business education teacher at Andover High School, recently presented the results of their year-long study with Andover students at an international convention in Montreal, Canada.

Educators from all over the world met at the American Educational Research Association's annual convention to present their individual research in the field of education. Gangi and Spanos, along with other Andover teachers, worked under the supervision of Dr. Marvin Lew of Simmons College. Their research study was entitled "Group Contingencies in the Secondary Schools: Some Research Applications."

They studied the effects of group contingencies on students in the secondary level across various academic settings as part of their graduate work for a Master of Science in Education which they were awarded in May in Boston.

Other Andover teachers involved in the program were Kenneth Maglio, George Sullivan, Jerry Schimmel, Joanne Devney, Steven Tisbert and Chet Orban from West Junior High and Lynn Parker, Donna Perlowski and Carol Strout from Andover High School.

Completes Recruit Training

Marine Pvt. Brent R. Finnagan, son of Richard Finnagan, 3 Cuba St., Andover, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studied the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained proficiency in a variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

"Criticism is the art wherewith a critic tries to guess himself into a share of the artist's fame." — George Jean Nathan.

On Dean's List

Area students named to the Dean's List at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y. for the spring semester include Mary Kathryn Driscoll, 1 Marland St., Andover, a junior majoring in civil engineering; John R. ## Students Honored At Tufts

Fourteen Phillips Academy students were among 57 Massachusetts high school students attending a Tufts University banquet in May to honor students scoring high on a nationwide German test given annually by the National Association of Teachers of German (NATG).

Attending the dinner were Dirk Murphy, Sung Hee Kim, Viva Barthus, Patricia Wagstoff, John Cain, Susan Collins, Alfred Dupuy, Mark Dubrosielski, Arren Fisher, Vivek Dave, David Little, Timothy Smith, Paul Vrana and Thomas Herzog along with John Chivers, Phillips Academy German teacher.

The students were given award certificates and book prizes donated by the German Consulate.

Marlies Stueart of Wellesley High School, president of the Massachusetts chapter of NATG, and president-elect Christiane Zehl Romero, associate professor of German at Tufts. The Massachusetts chapter of NATG sponsored the dinner which featured the Tufts Chorale singing Brahms Liebeslieder waltzes in German.

Galvin To Tour Paris With GBYSO

Sheryl Galvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Galvin, will take part in the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra's tour to Paris June 19-28. The Senior Orchestra, under the direction of Eiji Oue, will perform concerts at the Centre Pompidou's newly dedicated Stravinsky Fountain, outdoors at Sacre Coeur as part of the national Fetes de la Musique, at the St. Louis Church at Invalides and in the Agora at Evry, a "new town" outside Paris. The orchestra will be broadcast on Radio Luxembourg and will travel to France at the invitation of the French Ministry of Culture. Many concert arrangements were made by the staff of the Paris Choir Boys, who will visit Boston in late July.

Funds for this tour were raised by the orchestra members, the GBYSO Parents Committee and members of the GBYSO board of directors. This tour marks the last event in GBYSO's year-long celebration of its Silver Anniversary. GBYSO is sponsored by Boston University and a community board of directors and has members from 80 communities in New England.

Participates In Exercise

Navy Lt. J.G. Robert L. Lennon, son of Robert Lennon, 503 Good St., Andover, recently participated in exercise "National Week" in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is an officer assigned to the guided missile frigate USS Clifton Sprague, homeported in Mayport, Fla.

National Week was an eight-day U.S. Sixth Fleet exercise involving approximately 20 ships and more than 200 carrier and land-based U.S. Navy aircraft.

The exercise tested naval warfare responses to a multi-threat air, surface ship and submarine environment.

Picnic Benches Placed At Reservations

Through contributions totalling over $1,200 picnic benches have been placed at several Andover reservations, owned and maintained by the conservation commission.

Louise VanEveren of the Andover Chapter of the Appalachian Mountain Club, with assistance from the conservation commission, organized cleanup campaigns at the reservations and also undertook the public contribution drive to obtain the new benches.

The benches are now located at the following reservations 'The Boulders,' Rogers Dell, Shawsheen Reservation, Carmel Woods, Haggetts Pond, Pal Alexander and Canoe Launch.

Assisting in leading the cleanup activities at the various reservations were Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert, retired High School Principal Philip Wormwood, Philip K. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman.

The new slate of officers of the Andover AMC chapter are Dr. Fred Wallace, president; Linda Pearson, vice president; Lomer Pothier, treasurer and Carolyn Wlodyka, secretary. Lee Dodd serves as membership chairman.

Mrs. VanEveren has again been asked to assist as hostess for the Elder Hostel program conducted by the AMC at Pinkham Notch, Gorham, N.H.

After 25 Years She Will Retire A Bit Reluctantly

By Sue Aucella Deacon

When she decided to get a job, she wanted to be sure she could still spend summers and school vacations with her children: a position in the nearby junior high school cafeteria seemed perfect.

Twenty-five years have passed, her children are long since grown, and Mary Deacon is still working in the Andover schools — until next week, when she will retire as manager of the Bancroft School kitchen.

Her decision to retire was a reluctant one. "I wish I could say I wasn't going to miss it," she admits, "but I am. I'm really not thoroughly happy about it — it seems like a hard thing to do."

Mrs. Deacon has lived on Summer Street for 33 years, after moving to Andover from Brockton with her husband, the late Cornelius Deacon, and their two children (Judie, now of Point Richmond, Calif., and Tom, of Andover). Warm and quick to smile, she looks far younger than her years (which, however, she will not admit for publication).

She started as a "utility girl" in the kitchen of the former East Junior High (now Doherty Junior High) 25 years ago, working the cash register and the dishwashing machine, serving lunches, buttering bread — "all the little jobs" — for two and a-half to three hours a day. (The family dog, Sport, missed her so much that he found his way to the school and peered in the cafeteria windows, waiting for something good to eat.)

She worked at the junior high for ten years, until her supervisor, Florence McGrath, encouraged her to take the cafeteria manager's position at the new Bancroft elementary school.

"I didn't think I could do it," Mary recalls. "I just didn't think I could handle a responsibility like that. Flo really talked me into it, and it worked out. I stayed on."

As manager, Mary learned to cook and bake for up to 300 children a day, manage a staff that has ranged from three to five workers over the years (it is currently a staff of three), keep the books for the kitchen, send in orders for supplies every week, and keep her kitchen clean — "and it is clean," she says firmly. "I'm leaving it nice and clean."

Learning to "be a boss" was the hardest part of the transition, she says, "but I picked it up all right." Now she finds the most challenging part of her job "the timing, making sure the meals are out on time. I'm always looking at the clock to make sure it's getting done."

Convenience foods have made her job a little easier in recent years: instant potatoes have replaced peeling and scrubbing, cooking and mashing potatoes for example, and instant pudding has supplanted pudding made from scratch. But most of the cooking and baking is still done from scratch, and her job is often demanding.

"It can be tiring, the way I run around," Mary says. "But it's a good accomplishment at the end of the day, feeling that I've fed all these children."

Bancroft lunches, at 65 cents, are "excellent," Mrs. Deacon maintains. "I'm very conscientious about how I prepare my meals — I'm very fussy about that. Maybe it's because I like to eat!"

Her daily count has fallen from an average of 300 meals sold each day to 200 or 225, but she hasn't noticed any dramatic changes in students or their eating habits over the years — although she notes that many seem to have more pocket money and may be spending it on after-school snacks.

The count rises to 300 and higher whenever pizza, the all-time student favorite, is served: "Pizza day is a very big day." (Food Service Director Richard Barron occasionally surveys students to find out what they like to eat, and "it always comes out pizza.")

Students also like hamburgers, hotdogs, peanut butter cookies and chocolate cake, she reports. Corn is their favorite vegetable; they hate peas. The youngest children will eat only "plain food, like peaches or Jello. They don't like anything fancy."

There is no question which lunch students dislike most: scrambled hamburger and gravy served over mashed potatoes. "They call it Gravy Train," Mary explains. "They don't like the looks of it — but it's very tasty." Bancroft kids aren't very fond of turkey and gravy either, she adds.

The teachers enjoy soups and salads Mrs. Deacon makes especially for them, and "chicken day." They also enlist the manager's aid in special baking projects: students mix up bread or cookies in the classroom, then bring them into the kitchen to be baked. "The kids come in all carrying their little trays — they're really so cute," she says, smiling.

Bancroft's notoriously leaky roof made for some lighter moments on the job for several years: The manager remembers singing "Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head" with her crew as they worked around buckets placed "all over the place until they finally fixed it."

It is the people at Bancroft that make her job hard to leave, she says. "I like the social part of it. I love the children, and I like associating with the teachers. I like my work — all of it, really."

Although she is leaving her position as manager at Bancroft, "I still want to be a part of it," Mrs. Deacon says. She plans to work part-time in the school cafeterias — but she also intends to spend more time working around her house ("I want to finish that back hall"), refinishing furniture, sewing, seeing her family in Brockton and Stoughton, visiting her daughter in California.

"But I still want to feel as though I'm part of the school," she adds. "I'm going to miss everybody — the kids, the girls I work with, calling up Mr. Barron and saying, 'Mr. Barron, this is me' — he gets a kick out of that."

"I've put in a lot of years," Mary Deacon says softly, "and I really have enjoyed it."

Awards Presented At Pike Graduation

On Monday, June 13, 26 ninth graders and 32 eighth graders were honored at a traditional afternoon ceremony in the Andrews Auditorium on the Pike School campus. Headmaster David A. Frothingham presented diplomas to 58 graduates before a capacity audience of families and friends. In addition, 20 present eighth graders have elected to remain at Pike for the ninth grade.

Alice Jablonski, head of the Upper School, presented each graduate to trustee John J. Riordan who represented and extended the greetings of the board of trustees.

Adam Reeder, '79 of Andover, was the invited guest who delivered the graduation address. For many years it has been the custom at Pike for a member of the class that graduated four years earlier to speak to the graduates. This year Reeder graduated cum laude from Phillips Exeter Academy, receiving top prizes in American History and French. He was recently named a National Merit Scholar and will attend Yale University next year.

Awards presented during the ceremonies to outstanding graduates included: Founder's Award for outstanding record in mathematics, Thomas Graham of Andover; Headmaster's Award for leadership in non-academic affairs as well as high standards of scholarship, Patrick Riordan of Georgetown; Margaret J. Little Award for spirit including integrity, generosity and thoughtfulness, John Barker of Wakefield; Grieco Prize for academic improvement, personal growth and positive influence on fellow students, James Corbin of Lowell; Alumni Prize for academic improvement and friendliness, Catriona Logan of Andover; French Prize, Shawn Kravetz of Andover; English Prize, Stephanie Finelli of Methuen; Fine Arts, John Barker for performing art and Stephanie Finelli for studio art; Girls' Athletic Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship, Anne Sturges of Andover; Boys' Athletic Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship, David Sullivan of Boxford; and Kerri Kattar Award for athletic ability and enthusiasm, Suzanne Parish of Andover and Matthew Bellows of Topsfield.

1983 Pike graduates are listed alphabetically with the schools they will attend next year.

Puppets Teach About Handicapped Students

Two special visitors, Mark and Melody, performed at Bancroft School Friday, June 3. The "Kids on the Block" are six handcrafted puppets which are almost life size. Four of them have special needs; Mark has cerebral palsy and is confined to a wheelchair; Ellen Jane has Down's Syndrome; Renaldo is almost totally blind and Mandy is deaf and speaks with her hands. Melody is a non-disabled puppet.

"The Kids on the Block" is a program designed to help children and adults to learn that even though the handicapped are different, they can lead full satisfying lives. Instead of being ignored, they are potential playmates and friends. The short, poignant skits help the audience to become sensitive to the special needs of the handicapped and also aware that they, too, are very much the same as all other people. Following the skits, the audience is encouraged to ask the puppets questions and discuss what it is like to be handicapped.

In addition to the "Kids on the Block," the third grade loft has experienced a wide variety of puppet styles and puppeteers throughout the spring. They have ranged from small and large hand-held puppets, such as "The Kids," to the rod and marionette puppets used by the Bennington Vermont Puppeteers. Judy O'Hare of Reading, a professional puppeteer, used all of these types of puppets in a performance for the children. She then conducted a workshop on making hand-held puppets, assisted by the third grade team of E. Finnegan, A. Kenney, D. Pelc and J. Powers. The parents and teachers who participated created a permanent collection of puppets for Bancroft School.

Puppetry is also being used in the third grade loft as a means of developing creativity both in arts and crafts and in writing skills. By making their own puppets for their own original skits or adaptation of an old favorite, the children have used puppets at all levels of artistic expression. The culmination of a season of puppets will be a student performance given the afternoon of June 16, third loft, Bancroft.

"The Kids on the Block" program is sponsored by the Junior League of Boston, a non-profit organization whose purpose is to promote volunteerism and initiate projects to meet community.

Amporn (Tuo) Noiwan will leave for her native Thailand soon.

Tuo has spent the school year here in Andover as an American Field Service exchange student. She attended classes at Andover High School and recently took part in the graduation exercises.

Her many friends and especially her host family, the Francis O'Neils, will miss her ready smile and friendly ways.

Before leaving for home, Tuo will join other area AFS'ers on a three-week bus tour of the east coast and then depart from New York. She has offered to share her AFS experience with readers of the TOWNSMAN.

"Could you imagine how great it would be to have a chance to stay in another country for a year, especially on the opposite side of the world? I never thought about that until I had a chance to join the American Field Service.

"All I knew about the United States was that it was a very interesting country with high technology and a mixture of different cultures from the western world. I didn't know anything about New England at all.

"I've been in Andover for almost a year now. I have learned so many things, not only how use English in daily life, but also the American culture. My family and I have gone skiing in Vermont, camping and canoeing in Maine, to Disney World, Florida, and to Washington, D.C.

"Now, don't be worried if you have a plan to go to Thailand. I'm sure an AFS student will do just fine in my home country. Even though you may be a stranger there at first, people over there are so friendly and would be glad to help.

"Most of the kids are supposed to take English as a second language when they go to junior high, but they never use it anywhere else. They'd love to practice that with you, although they may be shy to use the foreign language.

"Thai is a very neat language to try. It has 44 words, 21 vowels and five tones. Though there are some words which are spelled the same, they may have different meanings in the different tones. The tones make Thai more like music than an ordinary language.

"The meals may look delicious, but you'd better be careful when you try it! Some foods are very hot, but as long as you have rice in your dish, you will be fine. That's one of the reasons why we have rice as a main dish, another reason is that we can grow rice in any part of our country and it has been our main export for a long time.

"The most interesting part about Thailand is the beauty of geography. It is separated into four parts; the north with mountains and rivers, the northeast with farms and rice fields, the middle with ancient palaces and temples and the south with beautiful beaches and islands. Each part has its own type of culture which is slightly different from the others, especially music and the dances.

"I'm so glad to have come and stayed here this year. I have had a chance to improve my English and learn your way of living. Most of all, I have met some terrific people who have been so helpful and kind to me. I'd like to thank everyone who has helped to make my AFS experience a wonderful one."

Irene Hsieh

Presented Certificate

Irene Hsieh, 12, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hsieh of Danforth Circle, Andover, was recently presented a certificate for completion of level one violin requirements during graduation ceremonies at the New England Conservatory Preparatory School, Boston.

Miss Hsieh has studied violin at the conservatory for the past two years, taking courses in music theory as well as private lessons. She is a member of the Junior Youth Chamber Orchestra at the conservatory.

She was awarded a certificate after passing all requirements for level one in violin studies during graduation ceremonies held Friday, June 10, at Jordan Hall at the conservatory.

A seventh-grader at Doherty Junior High, Miss Hsieh is an honor roll student, a member of the school newspaper staff and Math League, and a ballet student. This summer she will attend College Academy at Bradford College, Haverhill, a three-week program for gifted and talented students.

"Would you believe...

"That was before I went to Diet Center."

"I got on their weight-loss program and in just 14 weeks lost 70 pounds. Then I continued to thin down until I reached my ideal weight."

"This was the first time I had been on a diet that I wasn't constantly hungry. In fact, not only was I not hungry, but my energy level increased. That's because their program is based on solid nutrition and lots of it."

"You should try it too... it will make you feel great while you slim down and get rid of that excess weight."

RiverFest '83 Activities Saturday At Deer Jump

Bob Nuzzo, left, and Derek Roberts, with the Andover High Ecology Club entry in the Saturday Riverfest Boat race. 'The Recyclable,' made out of empty beverage cans, will be launched during the morning races.

The events for RiverFest '83 on June 18 at the Deer Jump Reservation in Andover include Ilo Howard's Urban Angler Program, guided nature walks, displays, sales and demonstrations of camping equipment and canoes by Moor and Mountain, tours of the Greater Lawrence Sanitary District's hydro-electric plant and the Essex Company's fish elevator.

Merrimack Valley Arts League members, Joan Wilde, Margaret Pustell and Mary Jane, Coney, potters, Nancy Britton, Meg Senuta and Lori Wilson, weavers and spinners, Nancy Whitmore and Sandra Pomeroy, woodworkers, Greta Helmer, natural dyes, Margot Porter, dried weeds and flowers, Marsha Miller, fish prints, Sue Wish, carp kites and Brian Morrill, sketching, will demonstrate throughout the day.

Competitive boating events will take place in the morning with registration due by 9:30 a.m. Canoeists and kayakers should contact Bob James and scullers and rowers should call Mac Odell.

Other morning events include Rep. Sue Tucker's film, "Acid Rain: Requiem or Recovery," the Still Point Ecological Dancers of Northern Essex Community College dancing "Orca," and entertainment by the Ramblin' River Four. There will be opportunities to get on the river in canoes, a Salmon excursion boat and Yankee Marine motor boats.

Haverhill's Sweet Adelines will entertain in the afternoon. There will be a decorated boat parade and the arrival by boat of area elected officials greeted by the Ramblin' River Four doing "Songs for Tsongas." Prizes will be drawn at 3 p.m.

Andover Women Chosen Officers Of State LWV

Two Andover women were elected officers to the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts meeting in convention at Tufts University on June 8 and 9. They are Susan Shaer, 2 Seminole Circle, elected as first vice president, and Virginia Cascino, 5 Hackney Circle, elected as treasurer. Both women will be serving their second two-year term in these offices.

Joyce Robinson, 50 Wild Rose Drive, was appointed as field service consultant for Region IV for her fourth year.

Other local league members participating in some parts of the convention were: Dana Duxbury, state league specialist in natural resources; Judith Medler, local league president; Karen Young, second vice president; Mary Ann Marusich, finance chair; Linda Carpenter, former nominating chair; Therese Reichert, nominating committee; Julie Stratton, state LWV staff person; and Janet Surrett, Willard Robinson and Theda Leonard, banquet guests.

State studies for the next two years were adopted: a study of day care for children in Massachusetts (first year) and a study of alternative solutions to prison overcrowding with emphasis on benefits and limitations of incarceration and the benefits and limitations of alternative forms of punishment (second year). The county government and regional planning action biennium local league participants will be asked to review the league's current position on county government and prepare a concurrence statement which will be sent to local leagues for evaluation.

The state study on health care consensus was distributed, setting the present position on health care after some four years of study.

St. Robert's Graduates Honored At Reception

"Reflections" was the theme for a Mass and reception held Tuesday, June 7, at 7:30 p.m. in honor of the high school graduates of St. Robert Bellarmine Parish.

All graduates, families and friends were invited to attend the Mass by Rev. Frederick J. Collins, pastor, and Rev. Thomas A. Nestor, assistant pastor. Special readings and music, which had been prepared by the seniors, were given. Stewart Coleman, Neil Keane, Diane Carroll, Becky Budrewicz, Tim Moynihan and Ann Marie Tanin were readers. Lisa Dorsey was the soloist and Sister Joan La-Casse, SND, did a meditation.

Marti Convey, SRYG advisor, made presentations to youth group commissioners.

The Colleen Griggs Scholarship was presented by Fr. Collins to Tim Moynihan who will attend BC next fall and the newly-named Rev. William Fitzgerald Scholarship was presented to Ann Marie Tanin, also going to BC. This award was formerly known as "the pastor's scholarship," but has been named in honor of the second pastor of St. Robert's who died in 1981.

Following music provided by guitarist Kathy Coughlin and singers Lisa Dorsey, Amy Fitzpatrick, Amy Skinder and Carolyn Skinder, guests adjourned to the parish hall where a buffet, prepared by parents of pupils in the junior class, was served by a committee headed by Mrs. Gerald Gingras, Mrs. Edward Thompson, Mrs. William Glencross, Mrs. William Deppe and Mrs. Harold Keegan, chairman.

Ushers for the evening were Steve and Mike Murphy and Matt Sheehan. Decorations were by Melissa Glencross, Marianne Hannon, Kerry Hannon and Susan Reidy.

Enrolled

Sandra Cookson, 7 Arundel St., Andover, has enrolled in the commercial art program at Chamberlayne Junior College in Boston for the Fall semester.

The program prepares graduates for entry level positions in advertising agencies and design studios as mechanical artists, with the ultimate goal of reaching the position of art director. There are also opportunities for positions in the art departments of related businesses such as department stores, newspapers, typographers and large corporations.

To Appear At Summer Playhouse

Jay Winnick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Winnick, Kathleen Drive, has signed a contract to appear this summer with Summer Rep/Parkway Playhouse in Burnsville, N.C.

He will be seen as Model in "Fiddler on the Roof," the salesman in Eugene O'Neill's "Ah, Wilderness!," and as a member of the Royal Navy in Gilbert & Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore."

Winnick is a 1981 graduate of Andover High School where he appeared in many drama department productions. He is a junior at the University of North Carolina-Greensboro, majoring in Theater Arts, with an acting concentration. The company will appear in Greensboro for three weeks and will open in Burnsville July 6 for a four-week run.

Her husband, a graduate of the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, is vice president of sales at U.S. Tangible Investment Corp., Boston.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple will live in Andover.

Gardeners Win Major Awards

The Four Seasons Garden Club of Andover won two major awards at the annual meeting of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts in Sturbridge. Both awards were given for projects involving community service to the town of Andover.

The Mildred S. Parker Conservation Award was presented to Carole Shwetz, chairperson of the conservation committee, and Frances Salerno, club president, for Four Seasons' long-time efforts at the Foster's Island Reservation nature trail in Ballardvale. Virginia Begg, chairperson of the civic beautification committee, and Mrs. Salerno also accepted the certificate of Merit for Civic Development of the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

The Certificate of Merit honors the club's achievement in landscaping the handicapped entrance at Memorial Hall Library. This award, first announced at the National Council's annual meeting in Louisville, Kentucky, was won in competition with the entire New England region.

The Foster's Island Reservation nature trail has been maintained by the club since its creation in 1972. The club has planted numerous wildflowers, coaxed those already present into fuller bloom and established markers for the public's enjoyment. Members have published a guide to the trail, available free from the club.

Club members purchased and planted shrubs, trees and flowers for the new handicapped entrance to the library on the north side of the building. Grounds were weeded, edgings dug and bark mulch laid in this major beautification effort. The club recently replaced the magnolia, removed last fall from the front of the library, with a hardier variety. Dozens of annuals have also been planted.

The Four Seasons Garden Club's efforts to enhance the town of Andover are supported by their fund-raising activities, including selling perennials at the recycling sale in May, the Pinewood Gardens sale day, also in May, and a holiday lecture-demonstration in the fall.

Awards

Major awards, such as the Mildred S. Parker Conservation Award and the National Council's Certificate of Merit, acknowledge volunteer efforts to the community.

Summer Program

The Learning Disabilities and Reading Clinics (LDRC) of Arlington and Wilmington are once again offering individualized instruction throughout the summer to improve basic skills in reading, writing and arithmetic.

Diagnostic testing, study skills and S.A.T. and S.S.A.T. preparation courses will be offered at nominal fees.

The focus of study skills instruction is to teach students to deal more effectively with their school work.

For S.A.T. and S.S.A.T. preparation, students learn strategies for tackling the verbal and/or math sections of the tests and apply them to numerous sample problems in class.

LDRC teachers hold Master's degrees in their areas of concentration.

Students attend two-hour classes once or twice per week in the mornings, afternoons or evenings. Parent conferences are held after testing to discuss the student's levels and formulate plans and goals for their sessions.

For information or registration, call Steve or Melissa Goerd.

Win Top Awards

Virginia Begg and Carole Shwetz of the Four Seasons Garden Club with major awards presented the organization at annual meeting of Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts.

Physicians Directory

Lawrence General Hospital has published a directory of physicians. To obtain a free copy, call the hospital's public relations office.

The directory listings are based on information provided by the doctors on the staff who wished to be included, and include each physician's specialty, office location, phone number and hours. Most physicians note if they are taking new patients, make house calls or nursing home visits, if their office is accessible to the handicapped and if a fee schedule is available.

Carrier In Methuen Concert

David Carrier will be the performing artist at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall Wednesday, June 22, at 8:30 p.m.

Carrier, a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, has studied choral conducting with Lorna Cooke de Varon, and organ with Yuko Hayashi, Robert Schuneman and George Faxon. He is director of music at the Second Church in Newton and director of the Newton Choral Society.

He will play Grand Piece Symphonique-Cesar Franck; Partita; Nun Komm, der heiden Heiland, Op. 8, No. 1-Hugo Distler; Prelude and Fugue in f minor, Op. 7-Marcel Dupre; Sonata Eroica, Op. 94-Joseph Jorgen.

The Boston Music Hall organ was the first concert organ to come to the United States and became the pride of Boston. Nevertheless, 21 years later, it was put in storage to make room for the expanding Boston Symphony Orchestra until it was purchased by Edward F. Searles of Methuen. Methuen Memorial Music Hall, an imposing building with Baroque ornamentation, was erected to house it. Entirely rebuilt, the organ was rededicated in 1909 before a private audience. Not until July 1926 were the people of Greater Lawrence admitted to the hall when it was opened in connection with the 200th anniversary of the Town of Methuen.

The Music Hall is located on Broadway (Route 28) in Methuen.

The next recital will be Wednesday, June 29, with organist Russell Freeman.

Trimming Roses

Mrs. Belva Hopkins trims rose bushes that border the pool in the recreation area of her home.

The Spade and Trowel Garden Club of Andover will sponsor a "House, Garden and Pool Tour" this Saturday, June 18, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Four family-oriented homes will be featured. The first home is Cascia, the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Royal, a three-story brick colonial built in the 1920's in Shawsheen. The Webster home is an owner-designed home that features a greenhouse and perennial gardens. The pool area at the Hopkins home, is surrounded by rose bushes, a tennis court, and gardens. The White home is a ranch with a large yard featuring a fish pond and waterfall, a foot bridge, and a cabana.

The Spade and Trowel presents this tour to raise funds to continue the care and beautification of the Chestnut Street Court where they have maintained gardens for many years. The Water Treatment Plant is another project of the club where shrubs and trees have been planted over the years.

Tickets may be purchased at the home of Mrs. Robert King, Williams Street, Andover or at the homes on the tour.

September Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Ponty of 30 Birch Road, Andover, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Caren, to Ira Moskowitz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Mokowitz of Westwood, N.J. Ms. Ponty's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Heifetz of Andover.

Ms. Ponty, who will retain her name, is a graduate of Phillips Academy and the University of Rochester, and spent her junior year in Aix-en-Provence, France. She received a master's degree from Brandeis University's Florence Heller School, and is employed as a special assistant to the commissioner of the Human Resources Administration, New York City.

Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of Rochester and received a master's degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi, and Sigma Pi honor societies, and is employed as an engineer for Bell Laboratories, Murray Hill, New Jersey.

A September wedding is planned.

Stulgis-Chuckrow

Amy Phillips Chuckrow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chuckrow of Chappaqua, N.Y., was married June 4 to Jonathan William Stulgis of Andover.

The ceremony was performed on the moors in Nantucket by the Rev. Edward Anderson of the Unitarian Church. Mrs. Sherwood Guernsey, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Her children, Margo and Katie Guernsey, were flower girls. John Earle of Somerville was the best man.

The bride attended the Horace Greeley High School and graduated from the Barlow School and the Rhode Island School of Design. She is a painter and weaver. Her father is a builder investor.

Stulgis, a graduate of Phillips Academy, Andover, and Williams College, is an independent custom builder. He is the son of Atty. and Mrs. Vincent F. Stulgis of Andover.

The couple will reside in Charlestown.

Archeologists estimate that primitive man as early as 50,000 B.C. discovered that certain spices could make food taste better.

Hajj-James

Valerie Elizabeth James, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald V. James of Forest Street, Danvers, was married to Thomas Michael Hajj, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hajj of High Street, Andover, on May 22 at St. Richard's Church, Danvers.

The Rev. David Efimetz officiated at the four o'clock ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Sharon Burt of Danvers was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Judith Michaud of Beverly, Susan Cross of Danvers and the groom's sister, Judith Carney of Bradford. Monica Carney of Bradford, the groom's niece, and Debra James of Danvers, the bride's cousin, were flower girls.

David Hajj of Andover, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Ronald V. James, Jr. of Danvers, Andrew Lyons of Lawrence and Timothy Wright of Andover.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Towne Lyne House, Lynnfield.

The bride, a graduate of Danvers High School and Newbury Junior College, Boston, is employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. of Salem. Her husband, a graduate of Andover High School and Salem State College, is employed by Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. as well.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple is residing in Marblehead.

Accepted

Richard W. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Sullivan, 20 Abbot Bridge Drive, Andover, has been accepted into Berklee College of Music's new Career exploration Program from June 30-Aug. 19. His curriculum will include private instruction, ensemble performance, theory, harmony, arranging and ear training.

This special program is designed to assist high school students considering music as a vocation to identify individual musical and educational strengths, formulate career goals and develop an approach for obtaining professional education to realize these goals.

Sullivan will be exposed to Berklee's professional curriculum and will receive instruction from its jazz faculty.

Certified

Marcia Druth, an Andover Realtor, has been awarded the Certified Residential Specialist (CRS) designation by the National Marketing Institute, an affiliate of the National Association of Realtors.

The award was announced during the Marketing Institute meetings, held in conjunction with the National Association of Realtors mid-year meetings, May 6-13 in Washington, D.C.

The CRS designation is a symbol of achievement in education and residential sales experience. The 12,362 individuals now recognized as Certified Residential Specialists have completed required course work and demonstrated expertise in applied residential marketing.

Druth is a sales associate with The Victor Company, Inc. Realtors, 168 North Main St., and is a member of the Greater Lawrence Board of Realtors.

She has been active in realtor and community affairs and is a past president of Sisterhood, Temple Emanuel.

Confirmation Sunday At West Parish

West Parish Church will celebrate Confirmation Sunday, June 19, at the 10:30 a.m. Worship service. Rev. Graham L. N. Ward, senior minister, will officiate.

The confirmands are: Jennifer Harmoning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. David Harmoning; Jennifer Amstutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Amstutz; Jennifer Schroeder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Schroeder; Kimberly Guild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Guild; and Susan Kachen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kachen. They have been studying under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Easton and Rev. Tom Call.

The confirmands and their families will be guests at a dinner sponsored by the Christian Education Committee on Friday evening in the church hall. Doris Newton will share her childhood experiences and ongoing years as a member of West Parish Church.

Last Sunday the fourth grade students were presented bibles during worship service. They have been under the direction of Mrs. Palla Schreurs, Mrs. Marcia O'Donnell and Mrs. Carol Prentiss. The students are John Benson, Craig DerAnanian, Kristen Garland, Jeremy Gibson, Amanda Gulezian, Laura Hammer, Wayne Henderson, Elizabeth Marshall, Heather Read, Gary Rollins and Amanda Witman.

Vacation Bible School Planned

The Andover Baptist Church's Vacation Bible School will be held from June 27-July 1. "The Sunshine Patch—Growing God's Way" is the theme for the five-day program planned by the Andover Baptist's Bible School staff under the leadership of Mrs. Wayne Greenwood.

During the morning sessions from 9:15 a.m. to 12 noon there will be classes for four-year-olds through sixth grade, a nursery for three-year-olds and under and an adult class for women.

Youth classes for grades 7-12 will be held at 7 p.m.

Pre-registration will be held in the church vestry on Central Street, Saturday, June 25, from 10 a.m. until noon. Registration forms will also be available at the Andover Baptist's Sidewalk Bazaar booth in front of Macartney's June 24 and 25. Mrs. David Thompson is registrar and further information may be obtained by calling her or the church office. There will be no registration fee.

Rev. Cornell Reappointed Pastor

Bishop George Bashore, United Methodist Bishop of the Boston Episcopal Area, has appointed the Rev. Gary S. Cornell to his third year as pastor of the Ballard Vale United Church during a meeting of the Southern New England Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church at Bryant College, North Smithfield, R.I., June 9-11.

The Ballard Vale Church begins its summer worship schedule with the family service at 9:30 a.m. in Shaw Fellowship Hall. There will be a class for younger children at the same hour. A time of fellowship and light refreshments will follow the service.

The annual family weekend at the United Methodist Camp Aldersgate in North Scituate, R.I., will be held beginning this Friday and continue through Sunday.

Auto Show

An Antique Auto Show and Auto Parts Flea Market will be held Saturday, July 16, (raindate Sunday, July 17) at South Weymouth Naval Air Station in South Weymouth. All proceeds from the event, which is being held by the Rotary Club of Weymouth, will benefit the handicapped and elderly. There will be auto parts flea market spaces, dash plaques for participants, trophies and a BMX bicycle trick show for the kids.

The naval air base will host an open house on the same day. For further information, contact Paul Modestino at South Shore Medical Supply.

The first women's college level school was founded in 1821 in Troy, N.Y., by Emma Willard. It was known as Troy Female Seminary.

When the first European explorers arrived in America, there were about 800,000 Indians.

oped, he said, and builders are now turning to what are politely called "secondary lots" — what he calls "junk lots."

The biggest problem with such lots is that they are usually located next to wetlands, and away from town sewer lines. Developers end up installing septic systems near wetlands, and town officials have new concerns for protecting the town's water supply.

"The board of health is tailoring its rules and regulations to match the situation now occurring in Andover," Penney explained.

The community development director said that requiring developers to post bonds as security that work will be done "as planned, and within a reasonable time," could help curb violations at subdivisions. "That would be a fairly substantial club that we would have," Gilmore said.

Performance bonds will be made part of the existing earth removal permit process for developers considered "unreliable, unpredictable or just plain sloppy," he explained, "or when we have a situation where if it wasn't done properly, it would be a major liability to abutters and to the community. In those cases, posting a security would be warranted."

Town officials are also considering the possibility of requiring developers to hire construction inspectors to oversee their work, at the developer's expense. Gilmore said the town is now examining the legality of that idea.

Town staffers will have greater access to legal counsel now, because Special Town Counsel Thomas Arnold will hold regular office hours in Andover each week, Gilmore said. "He will indicate the legal procedures we can take when we have violations. And we'll have a more thorough follow-through with legal counsel."

The building inspector added that he will now use his "best judgment" in stopping work "immediately" when he believes it is in violation of the zoning laws, "without waiting a week for a report to the manager." Immediate access to the town engineer and the police will also let him "close down a job a lot quicker," he said.

The health director pointed out that one of the objectives in establishing the community development and planning department was to "make more effective the enforcement hammer that the town has. I'm glad to see a renewed commitment to enforcement. It's really a fine-tuning of our direction in controlling growth and development."

Feverfew is a low, hardy plant with white daisy-like flowers. People once believed that it could drive away fever. Its name means to put fever to flight. It doesn't work.

Zoning

But he added that despite some problems, Andover is not overwhelmed by zoning disasters. "We don't have a lot of unfinished roads and drainage and failed septic systems," Penney said.

Gilmore agreed that the town is, for the most part, in good shape. But property owners in violation of Andover's zoning laws can expect "a difference in attitude" from town officials, he indicated.

"If we have problems and violations, we're going to go after them," the director said. "Enough is enough."

The only president to be elected unanimously by the Electoral College was George Washington, in 1789 and 1792.

The shortest lived U.S. coin was the twenty-cent piece, issued regularly only in 1875 and 1876. They were too easily confused with quarters.

Host Families Needed

Jean L. Matthes

Passport-to-Spain directors, Peter R. Beaven and Jean L. Matthes, announce that approximately 35 high school students from Bilbao and Madrid, Spain, will arrive in the Andover and North Andover June 30. Host families are still needed to accommodate the students who all speak English. Many have been to the United States before.

These youngsters attend private schools in Spain and are looking forward to being guests in the home of American families the month of July. While here they will attend morning classes four days a week and enjoy excursions and planned activities during the afternoon hours. On Wednesday of each week all-day trips are arranged to the beaches, mountains and places of local interest. American hosts are encouraged to join their Spanish guests in these activities. In addition, the program offers American students ample opportunity to learn about the Spanish culture and become better acquainted with the Spanish language.

Anyone interested in becoming a host family should contact the Passport-to-Spain office, 91 Main St., Andover. Passport-to-Spain is a non-profit organization established to provide Spanish students with the experience of living for a four-week period with American families and to offer a similar exchange during the school holidays for American host students to be guests in the homes of their Spanish friends. For additional information, write or telephone for Passport-to-Spain brochures.

Square Dance

The Salem Folklife Society presents David Smukler calling New England-style contra and square dancing on Friday, June 17, and every first and third Friday through August, at the Salem Council on Aging Building, 5 Broad St., Salem. Music will be provided by the Salem Country Orchestra. No partner is required and beginners are welcome.

Pack 75 Members Get Awards At Banquet

St. Augustine's Pack 75 held its Blue and Gold Banquet as the final pack meeting of the season, planned by assistant cub master Jill Redd. Den 2 presented the colors and reviewed the meaning of the Cub pledge with each boy responding.

Cub master Richard Redd presented Cubs Wolf Rank awards for May and June. Jim Odum, Mark McKenna, Andrew Paradis, Eric Demers, Gregory Santousosso and Allen Soong each received three silver arrows. Receiving awards of Bear Rank were: Cannon Redd, one gold arrow; Bobby Kenny, Bear Badge, one gold and one silver arrow; Glen DiBenedetto, one gold arrow. Bobby Kenny and Glen DiBenedetto received one-year Service Star Pins.

Earning awards toward Wolf Rank were Denny Godwin, one gold arrow, and Joey Liguori, one gold and four silver arrows.

Den 2 won the needlepoint insignia for most parents attending.

Den 1 won the Cub pennant for best inspection.

An exhibition of all handcraft, derby cars and projects completed during the year were on display.

Tiger Cubs Todd Taylor and Ryan McMeniman were received into the Cub Pack and presented neckerchiefs and slides by their dads. John Taylor was welcomed as a new leader for the 1982-83 season.

Certificates of appreciation were given to den leaders, Joanne Kenny, Anne Paradis and Marjory Odum.

Den 1 closed the meeting with a sing-a-long.

Human Relations Policy Adopted

The School Committee adopted a new policy on human relations last week, and also approved on a first pass a new policy on committee communications with the school staff.

The human relations policy, approved on a first pass last month, states that "healthy human relations are part of the educational responsibility of all school staff."

It therefore calls for programs in all grades dealing with "racial, ethnic and religious sensitivity, and a curriculum that includes 'the minority experience', rather than treats it as 'a separate entity'."

Under the new policy, every school will also establish channels for "members of the minority community to communicate their concerns," and the superintendent will report to the committee on implementation of the policy each August.

Originally, the policy required the superintendent to report "all problems encountered in the schools during the past year and corrective action taken." But Susan Poore suggested that sentence be stricken because an annual documenting of problems could lead to bad publicity on "sensitive" issues.

The committee voted unanimously to adopt the new human relations policy.

A proposed policy on committee/staff relations, however, led to a more complicated discussion before the committee voted to approve it on a first pass; they will discuss the policy again during their next meeting.

The communications policy sets guidelines for establishing "open channels of communication" between the committee and school staffers — emphasizing that communication should be through the superintendent.

It adds that informal committee visits to the schools will be arranged with school principals, and the superintendent will be informed.

The committee ran into some disagreement over a section of the policy dealing with what staff and committee members should — and should not — discuss during social encounters.

The version they finally agreed upon states that although committee and staff members may be inclined to discuss "educational matters and general school system concerns" in a social setting, they should not discuss personalities, personnel grievances or "other privileged information."

The policy is intended to emphasize that committee members have authority only when they are convened at a legal committee meeting, "or vested with special authority by committee action."

Secondary Schools Survey To Be Taken In Fall

A questionnaire surveying students', parents', teachers' and townspeople's opinions on Andover's secondary schools will be distributed in the fall, the School Committee decided last week.

The committee voted unanimously to spend $2,600 to $3,100 to print, distribute and tabulate the results of a survey developed by a parent advisory group earlier this year. Additional costs are to be "worked out" later.

Jack Slavin, chairman of the survey committee, told the school committee his group has produced "an excellent questionnaire" and wanted to see "a strong finish" for the project.

The survey is now ready to be printed, at a cost of $1,600. The cost of mailing and returns will be $1,000 to $1,500, Slavin indicated. He said the group would like to mail the survey in October, collect returns in early November, and report the results to the school committee by Christmas.

The survey will go to all junior high and high school students and their parents, all teachers, and a sampling of 3,000 "citizens at large," Slavin said, for a total of 9,000 surveyed.

Committeeman Robert Smith, who has been working with the parent group along with West Junior High Principal William Hart, said the questionnaire was "very sound," and urged his colleagues to vote funds for printing and postage from their current 1100 (school committee) account. Funding to finish the project will fall under next year's fiscal 1984 budget, he indicated.

The survey committee will seek community help in tabulating the results to help keep costs down, Smith added.

During a previous school committee meeting, Hart estimated the cost of printing and mailing the survey at $5,000, prompting the school committee to ask that Hart, Slavin and Smith take another look at the project and report back to them last week.

Looking For Strawberries?

The staff at the library has compiled two timely handouts to aid patrons. The first is a listing of all farms in the area that allow strawberry picking, including hours, location and phone numbers. (A similar list will be prepared later for vegetable and fruit picking.) The second is a book list with gift suggestions for graduating seniors from high school. Both handouts are in the main reading room.

New Book Policy

Due to the Ballarvale Branch Library being open only Mondays and Thursdays, a new policy will go into effect immediately. Books may be reserved, but will be held for three days only. New books will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.

Bancroft Road Parking Banned

To help ease traffic problems on Bancroft Road, the selectmen Monday night voted unanimously to ban parking on both sides of one portion of the road. Parking will still be allowed on one side of the rest of the road.

In an earlier discussion, however, the board came to no conclusions about parking problems on North Main Street.

Bancroft Road resident Harry McKenna told the board that parking on the street has created problems for more than three years. Drivers often park illegally on the road and sidewalks while they attend soccer and softball games on the playing fields off Bancroft Road or special events at Bancroft School, he said.

McKenna said the illegal parking makes the road more dangerous, especially along two blind curves. He suggested banning parking on both sides of the street "at least" along those curves.

The selectmen voted to ban parking on both sides of the street from Main Street to 29 Bancroft Road, which is beyond the school.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony said the Police Department has tried to control the problem with "a very heavy effort" to ticket cars parked illegally on Bancroft Road. He suggested that when the police issue permits for use of the playing fields, they point out that parking is available on back fields in the area.

And he suggested that swapping Little League games at Sanborn School with the adult leagues that now play at the Bancroft fields would help, because there is more parking available at Sanborn.

Selectman Charles Wesson recommended that drivers be asked to park in the Bancroft school parking lot during games. And Norma Gammon pointed out that because parking for all-school events held at night, like a recent science fair, creates problems on the street, Bancroft should not invite the whole school to events on the same night.

The board also discussed parking on North Main Street just north of Shawsheen Square, in front of the Aberdeen block. (Parking is not allowed on the other side of the street.)

Mahony said he had received a complaint that parking there slows down traffic between the square and Route 495 by forcing two lanes of traffic into one lane.

But the manager said he would be "reluctant" to remove that parking because there is "little enough parking in Shawsheen" —and because clearing an extra lane might encourage more speeding on the street. The police chief does not favor eliminating the parking, he indicated.

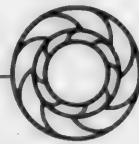

Selectman William Dalton added that even if parking were banned, some drivers would continue to park illegally, and "it only takes one car to foul up traffic."

Chairman Gerald Silverman asked the manager to find out if the businesses occupying the Aberdeen building offer enough parking spaces to meet the requirements of the zoning bylaws.

North Main Street was the site of a recent fatal pedestrian accident: Two elderly people died of injuries sustained when they and a companion were struck by a car while trying to cross the street in front of the Christian Scientist Church on a rainy night.

The manager said he believes the street is "as safe as it can be made," but added that he would review the speed limit with the state and have the limit changed if necessary.

Wesson recommended cutting back tree branches that obscure street lights, and putting in additional street lights, which would require state approval. Silverman noted that existing crosswalks are not located near street lights; he suggested painting over those crosswalks and moving them under the lights.

Merchants Allowed To Use Sidewalks

Should downtown merchants be allowed to display their wares outside on town sidewalks? According to a town ordinance, they may not — unless they have the selectmen's permission.

The board Monday night granted one storeowner that right, provided that the town will not be held responsible for accidents under the owner's insurance policy.

The selectmen voted unanimously to allow Scanlon Hardware to display such merchandise as lawnmowers outside its Main Street store. They specified that Scanlon's may use up to three feet of the nine-foot wide sidewalk.

Selectman William Dalton said the Police Department received an anonymous telephone call Saturday complaining that Scanlon's should not have merchandise on the sidewalk. But Dalton said such displays "lend an air of festivity" to Main Street and should be allowed, with restrictions for safety reasons.

Dalton said the selectmen should put into writing any exceptions that they grant to the ordinance, and he noted that those exceptions would be "subject to our withdrawal."

Selectman Donn Byrne added that exceptions to the law would be granted on a "case-by-case basis."

Boston Pops Will Officially Open Collins Performing Arts Center

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Andover will celebrate the opening of what town officials are calling one of the finest centers for the performing arts in New England — the high school's new J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center — with a Boston Pops concert Sunday, Sept. 25 at the center.

Andover Savings Bank President Robert Henderson announced Tuesday that the bank will sponsor the concert, paying for the Pops appearance.

Tickets for the fund-raising event, meant to help pay maintenance and operating costs for the new 1,250-seat auditorium, will go on sale Aug. 1 at all bank branches. Ticket prices have not yet been established.

Glen Gulezian, co-chairman of the committee that has been planning opening ceremonies for the arts center, said the Pops concert will top off a day of activities free and open to the public, including an outdoor ceremony at 2 p.m., indoor dedication ceremonies at 3 p.m., and an all-town picnic including entertainment and refreshments.

Gov. Michael Dukakis is expected to attend the dedication ceremonies and possibly the Pops concert, Gulezian said. The co-chairman said he was "not sure" if Pops conductor John Williams would appear at the concert, but added that Harry Ellis Dickson will conduct if Williams does not.

During a Tuesday afternoon press conference at the bank, School Superintendent Kenneth Seifert described the opening of the $4.5 million arts center as "a long-running dream now bearing fruit."

The auditorium project began in 1979 as part of the $13.72 million school building program, which includes renovations and additions at Andover High School, West Junior High and Doherty (formerly East) Junior High.

School Building Committee Chairman Kenneth Gropper said the high school auditorium was planned not just for school use, but for community use as well, "and that's what it's coming to fruition as."

Town and school officials hope the facility will attract professional theatre, music and dance productions, making it what Selectman Chairman Gerald Silverman called "a cultural center north of Boston." Silverman said he envisioned pre-Broadway tryouts eventually playing at the center, pointing to Andover's "good location" and accessibility to Routes 93 and 495.

The arts center committee, co-chaired by Gulezian and John Shuman, called on Erika Zaccardo, director of Performing Arts, New England Foundation for the Arts, Inc., to evaluate the new center.

Zaccardo, whose organization arranges New England appearances for performing artists, said New England has only two arts centers, one in Burlington, Vt. and another at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

"In Massachusetts, and New England as a whole, we couldn't be more pleased about having such a magnificent facility," she Principals in the Tuesday announcement concerning the Boston Pops concert opening the performing arts center were, from left, Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert, J. Everett Collins for whom the center is named and Robert M. Henderson, president of Andover Savings Bank which will underwrite the Pops appearance.

Developer Agrees To Modified Plans

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Planning Board Tuesday night voted to modify plans for the Olympic Village subdivision off Woburn and River streets, with the developer's agreement, but with the condition that the developer must take steps to prevent soil erosion and blowing dust at the construction site.

Developer Arthur Kalogianis of T.D.J. Development Corp. proposed modifications to three lots in the 77-lot cluster development, while the rest of the subdivision will be developed according to plans approved in 1980.

The town imposed a stop work order on portions of the development several weeks ago, after finding that Kalogianis had violated his 1980 subdivision approval and the town's earth removal bylaw on the three lots.

The developer had removed a knoll from the area, fronting on River Street, removing 2,500 to 3,000 yards of earth material and grading beyond the levels approved by the planners in 1980.

Atty. Reginald Marden of Andover, representing the developer, said Tuesday Kalogianis would agree to modifications to the three lots — and would accept no conditions on the planners' approval of those modifications.

But board member Paul Curley said he wanted to see a plan for landscaping the site to stabilize excavated areas, and the rest of the board agreed.

Several abutters said they were also concerned that soil erosion and dust could become a problem at the 99.5-acre development (which includes 33 acres of wetlands). Kalogianis said 80 percent of the land is currently exposed.

Stephen Cotton of Foster's Pond Road said the planners should require the developer to take immediate steps to keep the dust down: "Those measures would have been required of the developer had he played by the rules" and asked for approval to modify his plans before he did the work, Cotton said.

"We're doing the developer a favor by approving something he has already done in violation of his (1980) approval," planner George Moran pointed out.

Marden said his client was willing to loam and seed the sloped areas behind 11 house lots within 60 days. The developer

Enforcement Necessary

Announcement this week that the community development department will strictly enforce the town's zoning regulations is a welcome move.

It indicates that this department, created to expedite development as well as insure conformance to zoning regulations, is making a significant return to the town and conforming to its original intent.

When the department was created over five years ago, then Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said the town's rapid development dictated that all departments which have to do with any sort of development should be under one department head. The effort would allow a smoother line of communication between regulatory boards and would eliminate long delays in permit issuance.

Also, where violations of ordinances were found, there would be an avenue for quicker response on the part of the town.

All of this, while proving expeditious for contractors, provided for insuring protection for the town and its residents.

For several years, Andover had bylaws which were strict, but a lack of personnel and channels of communication made for difficult enforcement.

The result, of course, was that in some cases the town became responsible for making street improvements in subdivisions where contractors left work undone. In some cases, the town became partners with the new residents of those subdivisions in financing repairs, or bringing roads up to town standards, since the contractors had either left town, or insufficient bonding was filed.

Also, for several years, installation of septic systems became a problem when the sanitary systems were installed improperly or in defiance of what the town ordered. The result was additional cost to homeowners when the systems failed.

Some of those problems still occur today to Andover homeowners who are now compelled to improve their systems in accordance with town regulations at additional cost.

The new regulations adopted by the board of health several years ago caused considerable controversy in the process of hearings and final approval. Since the new regulations have been on the books, however, there have been few problems with septic systems in the community.

As Andover continues to grow, and prime development space begins to dwindle, it becomes more apparent that stricter enforcement will be necessary to avoid the problems which occurred in the past, as indicated here.

The community development department, with the support of the town manager, public safety agencies and special counsel, have indicated this week that strict conformance to the town's bylaws will be followed.

The effort promises assurance that adequate protection will be offered the town and homeowners alike, thus eliminating problems which became financial burdens for both parties in the past.

Flags were Impressive

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Memorial Day, May 30, is the day each year in the United States of America when we the people, honor our war dead from all wars—the last, Vietnam. We honor with reverence, humility, gratitude and dignity veterans who fought and died to defend our flag and way of life in the United States of America. Lest we forget veterans' who made the supreme sacrifice in our name would that they have not died in vain, for in our memory they shall always remain.

Andover had a fine parade despite the rain, plus plenty of viewers along the route of the parade, standing in the rain which was most gratifying to see. It was a wonderful, impressive sight to view the Memorial Street of Flags, the idea of John Lewis, veterans service Officer of Andover. Thanks, Mr. Lewis, for your great idea put into practice. The flags we will display each year on Memorial Day, May 30, Flag Day, June 14, Fourth of July and Armistice Day, Nov. 11.

In closing, let us always observe Memorial Day with reverence, humility, gratitude and dignity and pass on to posterity to do likewise. Let us live up to our name, the United States of America, with a government of the people, by the people and for the people. That is what our forefathers fought for and some made the supreme sacrifice as succeeding generations in every war have done. Lest we forget.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — June 1908

The Townsman is in receipt of a very timely and important communication from one of its regular readers, bearing upon the injury that is being done to the trees in town by electric wires. The contention of our correspondent is that the trees are losing many branches by coming into contact with live wires.

The purchase of the Seminary real estate by Phillips Academy was to be expected. They are the natural owners and they need this property for their natural development. How to pay for and improve the property as is necessary is a problem for the Phillips management that will require wise and active effort.

Punchard Commencement exercises began last Sunday with the baccalaureate sermon. Rev. Frederick Palmer of Christ Church delivered the baccalaureate sermon. Mr. Palmer gave the graduates some very good advice and urged them that if their future life did not come up to their expectations that they should adapt themselves to suit the times, and in due time their expectations would be realized by persistent work.

50 Years Ago — June 1933

One of the latest innovations in local Junior High school work, Social Science, will be continued next year and will be somewhat extended. It is the intention of the school department to continue the present seventh grade division in Social Science through the eighth grade division next year using the Rugg system.

The Holt association of America is invited to the Nicholas Holt Homestead on Holt's Hill as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ward, Saturday afternoon, July 1, from 4 to 5.30 o'clock. All are asked to bring a basket lunch and share in a large family picnic supper on the ancestral hill top in the glory of an Andover sunset.

Does anyone in Andover remember the visit of Matthew Arnold, the English poet and essayist, to Andover in December, 1883? Chilson H. Leonard, Ph.D., of Phillips Exeter academy has been compiling for several years from newspapers, magazines, books of reminiscences, and such sources a record of Arnold's relations with America. He would like to add to his study some of the more personal and first-hand accounts of the poet's visit, and he hopes that some of the readers of the Townsman might be able to supply some information from contemporary letters and diaries, or from memory.

25 Years Ago — June 1958

The first graduating class from Andover High School will receive diplomas Friday night in traditional ceremonies in the new building. Special awards and announcement of scholarships will highlight the program, as the senior class of 116 takes part in its final academic activity. Honor essays and addresses by valedictorian and salutatorian will follow the theme "Are Our Cultural Values Deteriorating?"

Elm Farms — a 40-store grocery chain — plans to build a shopping center on 13 acres of the Schlott property on North Main Street. Representatives of the firm, appearing before the Planning Board Tuesday night, posed legal question for town counsel relating to interpretations of the new shopping center bylaw adopted at town meeting. Foremost in their minds is the doubt that the Schlott property actually comes under the bylaw at all.

Mason F. Arnold, 105 Elm St., has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Representative, Fifth Essex district. Party nominations will be held in the primary next fall and election is held in November. Arnold, a member of the Board of Public Works, is a native of Pawtucket, R.I.

Baltic Holocaust

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

On June 14th Baltic Holocaust will be commemorated by thousands of Massachusetts citizens of Latvian, Estonian and Lithuanian ancestry.

They will gather to mourn the 600,000 innocent men, women and children executed or eliminated by the Communists. Prayers will be heard for family members who were herded into cattle cars, shipped to Siberia and never heard from again.

One out of every ten Balts was wiped from the face of the earth by the henchmen of the Kremlin. The brutal, inhuman carnage started by the Communists on June 14, 1941, cannot be forgotten, yet we wonder why it has been permitted to continue to 1983. Wherever we look, we see the bloody hand of the Kremlin continuing its policy of death, torture and terror. We grieve for 2,000,000 Cambodians, the 10,000,000 Ukrainians and all the millions of the others killed by Red terror. We grieve for all people once free, now held captive by Communists.

We hopefully cheer Solidarity and the Polish people and the Afghan Freedom Fighters now shedding blood to keep their freedom. Yet, we watch in horror as the KGB murders Catholic priests in Latvia and Lithuania and we despair at the recent wave of arrests of innocent people.

As we commemorate the beginning of the Baltic Holocaust, we look to the media, government and religious leaders to fulfill that often-heard declaration "We shall never let horrendous crimes against humanity to ever happen again."

Why are we allowing them to continue in silence?

Sponsors of Andover's Alternative Education Parents' planning group were bitterly disappointed Tuesday night. September implementation of their 60-student open education project was ruled out by the school system for lack of three things: sufficient school funds, faculty involvement with the planning and "reasonable school control of the project."

The mosquitos had their day in court Wednesday and lost. A Suffolk Superior judge Wednesday morning dissolved the temporary restraining order which had halted the mosquito spraying program and denied an application for a preliminary injunction against the town program. The action was filed by a group of Andover residents who oppose the mosquito spraying program.

The South School principalship was finally settled late Tuesday night, with the election of John Woodward, Wayland, a junior high administrator who turned to elementary education two years ago. Woodward holds degrees from Bowdoin College, the University of Grenoble in France, and Harvard University's Graduate School of Education.

For Those of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Run down to The Haven this afternoon at 2 p.m. for the next meeting of The Haven Associates. You'll be glad you did!

There is still room on the Nantucket day trip June 23. Featuring a lovely boat ride to the island, plus luncheon at the Jared Coffin House and tours of the charming, historic island, the trip costs $50.

This is registration week for the summer courses to be given at the senior center. Just think of those nice summer days in air-conditioned comfort—doing interesting things and learning all kinds of new activities. You'll enjoy it so much. Get down and sign up!

The performance of "Sugar Babies" is scheduled for July 20 instead of the 13th, and there are only a few seats left. So, if you are interested in going to Boston with the group from The Haven, don't delay. Cost for transportation to the theater (and home, of course) plus orchestra seats is $23.

We're looking for your help in providing goodies to sell at the Sidewalk Bazaar, June 24 and 25. Especially quick sellers are baked items and we'd appreciate your contribution. We'd also appreciate your letting us know what you plan to contribute. A brief phone call from you will be so helpful.

July 1 is the date for the next pot luck luncheon at the center. Reservations are required so that we'll have enough places set up. If you can't bring food, there is a $3 fee for your lunch. If you do plan to bring a salad or a casserole or a dessert, the staff would like to know it. Immediately following the luncheon will be an early-bird Bingo session, followed later in the afternoon by the regular Friday Bingo.

Tickets for the Voke School Annual Bar-B-Que June 29 are going fast. Cost is 75¢ with service beginning at 11 a.m.

As you know, the regular hot lunch program ceases at the close of school. Arrangements have been made for a special summer program at Doherty Junior High beginning Wednesday, July 6, and continuing through August 12. Lunch will be 50¢ and reservations must be made before 9:30 a.m. of the day you wish to attend. Call The Haven at 470-0870 to let them know you plan to be there. The regular program ends June 22.

JACK ANDERSON AND JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

'Public' fuel corporation yields
'private' advantages for its executivesBy Jack Anderson
and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — The Synfuels Corp. has a name that sounds like a private enterprise, but it is paid for — lock, stock and barrel — by the American taxpayers. We are keeping our eye on it because it is spending billions of dollars on energy projects of little promise.

The corporation was set up by Congress in 1980 to help develop new sources of energy, and it was given $15 billion to spend. The people who run Synfuels seem determined to spend every penny of it, but the American people will be fortunate if they get a dime's worth of return on their investment.

The Synfuels executives have given first priority to their own salaries and comforts. Four of the corporation's top executives draw salaries bigger than a Cabinet secretary's. One out of every three Synfuels employees makes more than $50,000 a year. The highly paid executives squander additional thousands of dollars apiece on travel every year. The corporation has luxurious offices in downtown Washington, complete with sauna baths and squash and racquetball courts.

Yet Synfuels has little to show for all its excessive spending. Our associates John Dillon and Corky Johnson have examined hundreds of internal documents which show that the corporation is pouring money into dubious projects.

The White House is aware that something is amiss. An internal memo states that "the goals established by Congress... will not be met." Scaling Synfuels back, the document continues, "would minimize or eliminate the risk of large government losses through white elephant projects."

The White House memo recommends that a commission be appointed to decide whether Synfuels should live or die. But Rep. Jim Wright, D-Texas, got wind of the staff report. He's from a state where the oil and gas interests have a large stake in synthetic fuels. He also happens to be the House Majority Leader.

So when Wright telephoned the White House, he got immediate results: The idea of killing the Synfuels Corp. was stricken from the White House agenda.

MOST WANTED DICTATOR? Muammar Qaddafi, Libya's mercurial strongman, is the Central Intelligence Agency's public enemy number one. He has supplied money and munitions to a worldwide menagerie of revolutionary extremists. He has provided terrorists with shoulder-fired missiles capable of shooting down airliners. He is constantly stirring up the international waters.

But there is one intelligence report that really causes the skin of CIA strategists to creep. In 1970, Qaddafi tried unsuccessfully to purchase an atomic bomb from China. And now, he reportedly has acquired the ingredients to build his own crude nuclear device. This frightening weapon may soon be in the possession of the man whom the intelligence community regards as the world's most reckless ruler.

There have been reports that Qaddafi suffers from schizophrenia, paranoia and serious psychoneurotic disturbances. Here is what one secret psychological profile has to say about Qaddafi's mental stability:

"Available evidence is insufficient to confirm or deny definitely whether he has a mental illness... (but) there is much information about his strangeness, lack of stability and emotional disturbances."

For these reasons, the CIA would like to see Qaddafi removed from the scene. But the agency is prohibited by law from attempting to depose foreign leaders.

There is, however, a loophole. As the CIA interprets the law, the agency can give support to others who might wish to see the Libyan dictator replaced. In fact, the CIA has encouraged elements in Qaddafi's own army to remove him, and the agency has been accused of involvement in at least two attempted coups. Qaddafi escaped both times through sheer luck.

Sometime in the future, Qaddafi won't be so lucky. He will be deposed, we predict, and the CIA will deny it had anything to do with it.

ANTI-TRUST REFORM: The Justice Department is putting the final touches on a package of reforms for the nation's anti-trust laws. The new proposals will buck tradition and allow joint research ventures among technology companies. The reason: The Justice Department wants to make sure the U.S. doesn't fall behind Japan in the high-tech race.

ISLAND BASES? Intelligence sources are keeping a close watch on the two tiny islands of Sao Tome and Principe, off the western coast of Africa. Officials of the islands are being courted by Cuba. Intelligence analysts are worried they may allow their territories to be used as military bases from which Cuban operations in Africa may be launched.

POLITICAL HOT POTATO: Sources have told us that some Democratic presidential candidates are toying with the idea of enlisting Jimmy Carter's support in the south. Other sources are predicting the Democratic hopefuls will think twice about dealing with the unpopular Carter and reject the idea.

The Merrimack Valley Garden Clubs of the Northern District won a National Land Trust Award B for their work on the banks of the Merrimack River and their efforts to bring an awareness of the problems of the river to their membership.

Mrs. Thomas W. Conley of West Newbury, chairman of the Mass. Land Trust Committee, received the $100 prize at the annual meeting of the National Council of State Garden Clubs in Louisville, Kentucky, and plans to donate it to the Merrimack River Watershed Council at Riverfest '83 on June 18 at the Deer Jump Reservation in Andover.

A condition in receiving the award is commitment to a long range goal. Mrs. Conley emphasized the continuing support of the Merrimack Valley Garden Clubs.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement,

While a U-shaped kitchen is considered by many to be a most efficient design, kitchen planning must take into account the amount of time, effort and energy that will be expended in cooking and cleaning. A countertop that is either too high or too low can become very tiresome for the food preparer. Although the standard kitchen counter surface is 36 inches high, the ideal counter should be 2 to 3 inches below the cook's elbow height. A counter that is used for baking should be 5 to 6 inches below elbow height. A good place for the location of a special-height counter is usually next to the refrigerator since this is where most food preparation takes place.

There are numerous ways to make your kitchen look bigger, be more efficient, better lit, etc. Our experts here at WINDSOR KITCHENS will be glad to let you in on the answers to your specific problems. Call 372-3444 today for a consultation. We're in Ward Hill on Rte. 125 a half mile north of Western Electric and our hours are Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri 9-8, Sat 9-4, eves by appt. And to all dads, young and old, Happy Father's Day.

By Rick Harrison

A pair of outstanding pitching performances by Chris Colsia and Scott Deery, both righthanders, highlighted last week's action as the Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team split a pair of games in Greater-Lawrence League action.

Colsia scattered six singles and struck out 10 as the two-time defending league champions struggled to a 5-2 victory over South Lawrence East at Mark Devlin Field.

Deery tossed a brilliant three-hitter at South Lawrence West, but received little offensive support as Gold left 11 baserunners stranded in a 1-0 loss to South Lawrence West at Mt. Vernon Park.

Those results left Andover Gold with a 2-1 league record and 3-1 overall mark, one game behind undefeated South Lawrence West in the early season standings.

Gold, which will make its 13th annual trip to Montreal, Canada, June 25-29, was scheduled to face North Andover, East and West this week.

Andover Gold, 5-2

This game went extra innings with South Lawrence East tying it 2-2 in the bottom of the seventh before Gold pushed across three runs in the top of the eighth.

Colsia went the distance with a six-hitter, walking just two and fanning 10.

SLE inched ahead 1-0 in the bottom of the third when Joe Baglione spanked a one-out single to leftfield, stole second and scored on an error.

After failing to mount a serious threat over the first five frames, with East making several excellent defensive plays, Gold finally broke through in the top of the sixth with a pair of unearned runs.

Leo Gravell led the inning with a sharp single to leftfield, and when Shane Smith's bunt was misplayed, raced to third. Smith subsequently stole second and both runners scored when Larry Aiello's one-out infield grounder resulted in an error.

Colsia later reached on a two-out error, the runners advanced into scoring position on stolen bases, but East pitcher Tim Finn fanned the next batter to keep the score 2-1.

South Lawrence East tied it in the bottom of the seventh when Tom Fascione drew a leadoff walk, moved to second on an infield out and scored as Finn dumped a two-out, two-strike RBI single to rightfield.

Smith opened the Gold eighth with a walk and alertly raced to third as Mark Doherty beat out a bunt single. Doherty then stole second and Kevin Rourke followed with a perfectly-executed suicide squeeze bunt to plate Smith.

Babe Ruth

A two-out walk and a single in the bottom of the eighth put Colsia in minor trouble, but he ended the game on a tapper back to the mound.

Gravell went 2-for-4 and made an outstanding catch at second base while first baseman Aiello also stabbed a hot-line drive in the second to take a hit away from Steve Wilson.

SLW, 1-0

South Lawrence West snapped Gold's two-season carryover league win streak at 11 straight games with its 1-0 triumph as righthander John Schibel outduelled Scott Deery on the mound.

Both pitchers permitted just three hits with Deery allowing only three singles and hurling no-hit ball over the final four frames.

Schibel struck out nine, but kept himself in constant trouble by issuing seven walks. Deery walked just one and whiffed two.

SLW notched two of its safeties and the only run in the bottom of the first on a catcher's interference call, and Dave Blanchette slapped an opposite-field single to right. Mike Lane made a strong throw to the plate, but Blackwell was able to beat it by a full running stride.

Deery faced just 17 batters over the next five innings, and no SLW runner advanced beyond second base the rest of the game.

Gold was unable to break through, however, although it had at least one man on base in every inning.

Walks to Leo Gravell, Shane Smith and Deery loaded the bases in the top of the first with two down, but Larry Aiello's sharp grounder was turned into a foreceout at second base by shortstop Blackwell.

Schibel left Chris Colsia stranded at third base in the second after he singled, stole second and moved to third on a balk.

Mark Doherty and Smith drew walks in the third, Mark Lane reached on an error and pinchrunner Kevin Henderson stole second in the fourth and in the fifth Smith was left on base again after he walked for the third time.

Colsia hammered a one-out double to centerfield in the sixth, moved to third on a passed ball, but again died there as Schibel fanned the next two batters.

Gravell opened the seventh with a long double to left-centerfield, Doherty drew a one-out walk, but a popout to the catcher and Schibel's ninth strikeout ended and Gold's win streak.

Colsia went 2-for-3 at the plate and saved a run in the field with a backhand stab at shortstop of Blanchette's soft liner (runners at first and second) in the bottom of the third frame.

Gravell played another steady game at second base.

Red Sox 19 - White Sox 17

The Red Sox came from a 13-2 deficit to edge the White Sox 19-17 in a two and one-half hour, six-inning contest.

The White Sox jumped to an early 7-2 lead in the first inning, then added six more in the second for a seemingly insurmountable 13-2 lead. The Red Sox came back with six in the fourth and one in the fifth while the White Sox added four over the same period leaving the score 17-15 heading into the last inning. The Red Sox then capped their come-from-behind victory with four runs on hits by Jeremy Gibson, Andy Weiner, Jeff Foley and a clutch two-run double by Chris Landers. The White Sox loaded the bases, but with two outs Gibson managed to get the ever-tough Peter Kannam, who already had three hits, to fly deep to centerfielder Wade Ward who made a nice catch to preserve the victory.

The Red Sox unleashed a 20-hit attack. Weiner had four hits, Kevin Foley, Paul Lembo and Dan Fay had three and Gibson, Landers and Dave Milne had two each. Michael DiStefano and Kannam each three hits for the White Sox, to account for six of their 10 hits.

Tyler Vadeboncoeur started on the mound for the Red Sox and went the first three innings with Gibson hurling the final three frames and picking up the win. They combined to allow 10 hits, struck out three and walked 14. White Sox hurlers, Mark Schwetz, Bill Haley, Chris Kew and Andy Peck, combined to strike out 5, walk 9 and allow 20 hits. White Sox second baseman DiStefano was the defensive star of the game with a number of fine running grabs of infield popups.

Orioles 12 - Tigers 11

Hugh Maginnis and David Carriere, with seven RBIs between them, led the Orioles to a come-from-behind victory over the Tigers 12-11. Carriere's line drive single to right with the bases loaded in the last of the sixth proved the difference as the winning run scored.

In the third Maginnis belted his first home run, a three-run shot that cleared the fence in left center. Carriere tripled to right in the fourth, scoring two runs. A great throw by Tiger rightfielder Paul Salafia nailed a potential third run.

The Tigers opened the scoring in the first when Salafia cleared the bases with a triple. Jose Guerra and David Sopp doubled and singled respectively to add an additional run. The

Little League

Tigers' third proved fruitful as three more runs scored. Sopp, Ian O'Neal and Dave Howes base hits were the key blows. In the fifth Steve Howes' triple scored three more tallies.

Oriole base hits were registered by Carriere (2), Pat Kelley (2), Brett Hammond (2), Chip Stella, Jay Busby, John Gilmartin, Mike Smith (1) and Maginnis' homer. O'Neal and Salafia each had three for the Tigers.

Maginnis pitched a complete game, improving his record to 4-0. He struck out 13 Tiger batters. George Bilger, Sopp and Sean Ryan shared pitching duties for the Tigers.

Indians 4 - Red Sox 1

In a well played pitchers' duel, the Indians edged the Red Sox 4-1 in seven innings. Kevin Foley (seven strikeouts) and John Glynn (seven strikeouts) went head-to-head for six innings. Both teams played excellent defense. The score was 1-1 after the first inning and stayed that way until the Indians pushed across three in the seventh.

Foley led the Sox with two hits; Andy Weiner, Jeremy Gibson and Jeff Foley each had one. Glynn led the way for the Indians with three hits. Derek Camarota (two hits) key single knocked in the key runs in the seventh and Peter Donegan's double brought across the fourth. Jamie Spinelli (double, 1 RBI) and John Pike also had key hits.

Defensively, Sox second basemen Jeff Foley and Gibson played well. The tribe's shortstop Matt Pothier and first baseman Camarota were the defensive standouts.

Pothier and Jeff Foley pitched the seventh inning.

In a game between the Indians and Orioles both teams hit well but the Indians came out the winners.

Offensive standouts for the Orioles were Craig Knight (three hits), Mike Smith (double, single), Hugh Maginnis (single) and Bret Hammond (single). Hitters for the Indians were Pothier (2 doubles, single, 4 runs, 6 RBIs), James Spinelli (2 doubles, single, 5 RBIs), Glynn (2 singles, 1 RBI), Camarota (2 singles, 2 RBIs), Donegan (single, two RBIs) and Chris Pothier (single, 1 RBI).

Defensively, Eric Hammond for the Orioles and Stephen Spinelli for the Indians played well.

Yankees 11 - Twins 6

The Yankees jumped to a 6-0 lead over the Twins in the first inning and went on to an 11-6 victory. The big inning was sparked by a home run by Pat Breen, his first of the year, and a long triple by Steve Liaw, his first hit of the year. The Yankees collected 13 hits with Josh Malitsky leading the team with five hits, including a triple. Liaw and Breen with two hits apiece and single hits by Sean Bergan, David Jaye, Bob Lowry and Pat Hayes. The Twins collected four hits, including a long double by Chris Lane, and singles by Peter Radulski, Keith Abernathy and Doug Bruk.

Completes Training

Defensively, Breen played another fine game at shortstop and Lowry played well at first base for the Yankees. Keith Abernathy made a couple of nice plays at second base for the Twins while Radulski played well in centerfield. Yankee pitchers were Malitsky, Hayes and Breen; for the Twins, Todd Musteroit, Scott Livermore and Jerome Guerard.

Mets 4 - Pirates 3

In the continuation of a regulation tie game from the first half, the red-hot Mets had two outs and nobody on when slugger Mike Troy drilled an automatic double. Jeff Lazzarino then singled in the go-ahead run. The Mets' infield got two force outs and David Tucker fanned the last batter to earn his second win.

Mets 11 - Pirates 1

The Mets collected six early runs and 12 hits off the young Pirates' hurlers. Andy Shea maintained his lofty batting average with a perfect three-hit day and a fourth-time steal of home. Bo Wilmer and Chris Stout chipped in two safeties each. For Frank Orlando's charges, Curt Solomon had the only hit off David Tucker (five-inning winner) and Shea who mopped up in the sixth. The Mets second half record stands at 4 wins-1 loss.

Dodgers 6 - Braves 2

Pat Finn was the distance winner as he outpitched hard-luck loser Jeff Manning. The Dodgers broke open a tie game with five runs in the fifth. The Braves loaded the bases with one out in the sixth, only to have the next two batters ground out. Brendan McGrail excelled both ways.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore
And Margaret Cronin

The Essex County League has completed its schedule. The In-Town Program has one more week to go. Brief results of last week's games and make-ups by the Under 12 Division appear below; next week's TOWNSMAN will include results of the Under 10 Division make-up games.

Under 14 Division

Andover Titans 1 - Saugus Cobras 4

Andover took an early lead when Scott MacIntire assaulted the Saugus nets. Saugus tied it up towards the end of the first half. In the second half Saugus played much stronger and penetrated the defense three times to give them a 4-1 victory. BOW: Paul Kenney, Bill Martin, Mr. Sankar and Laly Martin.

Swampscott Tornadoes 1

Andover Blasters 1 - North Andover Surf 0

The Blasters concluded the season with back-to-back victories against Swampscott and North Andover. Kim Wagner gave Andover the lead against Swampscott, who came back to tie it up. Both teams fought hard for the extra goal and the win in the second half, however, goalie Brenda Baker turned back all of Swampscott's shots and Merri Puglia scored for Andover on a pass from Laurie Habeeb to give the Blasters the victory. BOW: Goalie Baker and Krissie Carothers.

In the game with North Andover, Wagner scored early in the contest on a fine pass from Kim Anderson. North Andover made many attempts to tie it up during the second half, but the defense stood firm to retain the 1-0 victory for Andover. BOW: Tom Carothers, Vin Puglia, George and Sheila Kachen.

Under 12 Division

Manchester United 1 - Nottingham Forest 3

Scott Clementi scored a hat trick to give Nottingham Forest the victory over an undefeated Manchester United team. Clementi scored in the first, second and fourth period with assists going to Stephen Kight, Tim Parker and Jason Blandini. Manchester United tallied in the third period to prevent a shutout when Matt Kelly scored on a pass from Joe Difraia. BOW: Gene Park, Paul Vallee and Steve White (Manchester United) and Ames Prentiss, Kevin Murphy and David Josselyn (Nottingham Forest).

Crystal Palace 0 - Notts County 0

In a very defensively played game neither team was able to penetrate and score. Two penalty shots were stopped, one by Matt MacVicar while in goal and the other by defenseman Chad Gomes. BOW: Jeremy Kahan, Matt Maderos and Bob Dawley (Crystal Palace) and the entire Notts County team.

Aston Villa 2 - Rotherham United 0

Aston Villa tallied their first win of the season in a hard-fought game. The Villa got their points in the second half with goals by Chris McBride and Jason Tucker with assists going to Dallas Babineau, Joey Hastings and Mark Shwetz. BOW: Donald Keamy, Mike Hein and John Teichert (Aston Villa) and Joe Gillam and Greg Afarian (Rotherham United).

Blackburn Rovers 3 - Tottenham Hotspurs 3

In a hard-fought contest between the Rovers and the Hotspurs, both teams displayed excellent teamwork and the game ended in a tie. Ricky Bertetti, Ken Harvey, assisted by Bertetti, and Bobby Antonucci tallied for the Blackburn Rovers while Peter Caruso scored twice, one on a corner kick from George Willard, and Willard scored on a pass from Matt Cinelli. BOW: Dennis Aikman, Daniel Ely and Sean Spires (Tottenham Hotspurs) and Michael D'Angelo and Ken Harvey (Blackburn Rovers).

Rotherham United 2 - Bolton Wanderers 1

Bob Nash scored in the first period for the Rotherham United team on a pass from John Thompson. The Bolton Wanderers were able to tie it up when Mike DeMartino scored on a penalty kick. The score remained tied until the fourth period when Nash and Thompson teamed up again for the score and the win. BOW: Terry Retelle and Eric Stapper (Rotherham United) and Kevin O'Handley and Peter Cookson (Bolton Wanderers).

Aston Villa 0 - Nottingham Forest 1

In a very evenly fought game Aston Villa lost when Nottingham Forest was able to break through their defense and score in the second period. BOW: Eric Guiliano, Adam Clark and Adam Guild (Aston Villa).

Notts County 1 - Manchester United 1

Manchester United tallied in the first period with an unassisted goal by Deron McCoy. Notts County fought back and were able to break through the United's defense with a goal from Brett Cox to tie the game. Both teams tried unsuccessfully to break the tie in the fourth period. BOW: Chris Merrill, Jason Male and Deron McCoy (Manchester United) and the entire Notts County team.

Blizzards 7 - Gales 1

The Blizzards were able to tally in all four periods to give them an overwhelming victory over the Gales. Heather Pomeroy scored a hat trick, Nancy Abramson (2), Michele DiStefano and Carolyn Oskar both tallied with assists going to Pomeroy, Abramson, Meg McConville and Dania Gammon. BOW: Jessica DeMoulas and Caitlin Callahan (Blizzards).

Volcanoes 7 - Cyclones 0

The Volcanoes dominated throughout the game

Equifest

As part of the Equifest '83, the Dodge World Championship Rodeo will appear for the benefit of the Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine at the Topsfield Fairgrounds for four action performances, June 30-July 2.

The rodeo will feature barback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, cowgirls' barrel racing, team roping and bull riding.

Performances are 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

giving the Cyclones a workout. Susan Gianelly scored a hat trick for the Volcanoes with the other goals coming from Erin Lynch (2), Susan Boush and Mina Sheel. BOW: Amy Cunningham, Andrea Duffy and Megan Buckley (Volcanoes) and Michelle Vetrano, Kelly Moynihan, Emily Trespas and Megan Nix (Cyclones).

Hurricanes 1 - Stormers 2

The Stormers tallied first with a goal from Jennifer Stableford on a pass from Jodi Jangro. The Hurricanes came back and tied it up with a goal from Jodi Sanders in the second period. The Stormers were able to break through the Hurricanes' defense for one more goal and the victory points when Lisa Berberian scored on a pass from Shaleen Cassily. BOW: Cara Zappala, Stephanie Gabriel and Julie Mason (Hurricanes) and the entire Stormers team.

Earthquakes 0 - Volcanoes 3

In an evening make-up game the Volcanoes were able to break through the Earthquakes' defense with scores in the second, third and fourth quarters. The goals were scored by Erin Lynch, Mina Sheel, assisted by Megan Buckley, and Susan Gianelly. BOW: Andrea Duffy, Stacy Reilly and Beth Robinson (Volcanoes) and Kristin Monahan and Cate Doherty (Earthquakes).

Stormers 6 - Cyclones 3

The first half ended in a 2-2 tie with Shaleen Cassily and Susan Goldstein, assisted by Kerry Fitzpatrick, scoring for the Stormers and Megan Sheehan, with an assist from Brenna Cronin, and Cronin on a penalty shot, for the Cyclones. The Cyclones took the lead in the third period with a goal by Cronin, but this was to be shortlived as the Stormers came back with goals by Cassily, Goldstein and Jodi Jangro (2) with assists going to Cassily, Tricia Novelline and Liza DiClementi. BOW: Lori Howe, Brenna Cronin and Megan Sheehan (Cyclones) and Mary Waldie, Elise Wald and Elaine O'Brien (Stormers).

Tidal Waves 3 - Blizzards 2

The Blizzards were the first to score when Heather Pomeroy took a pass from Nancy Abramson. The Tidal Waves came back with a penalty kick from Tricia Doyle. Abramson scored on a pass from Kim Regan only to have Joan Asgeirsson tie it up with a penalty shot. Both teams fought a hard fourth period, but the tidal waves were able to break through the defense with a goal by Asgeirsson on a pass from Doyle to give them the victory. BOW: Diane Bohaker, Michelle Meli and Steffanie Wilson (Tidal Waves) and Carolyn Oskar, Marci Schwartz and Dania Gammon (Blizzards).

Under 10 Division

Asteroids 1 - Space Invaders 2

The Asteroids were first on the scoreboard with a goal by Sanjiv Sheel on a pass from Rejji Hayes. The Space Invaders fought back with two tallies to give them the victory. BOW: Jason Connolly, Peter Arthur and Maurice Henderson (Asteroids).

Sky Divers 0 - Froggers 1

In a good defensively played game the Froggers were able to tally the win when Jonathan Moore scored in the fourth period. Andrew Novelline put on an excellent display in goal for the Sky Divers. BOW: Douglas Gordan and Marc Levitan (Sky Divers) and Dave Halleran and Matt Hosmer (Froggers).

Night Drivers 2 - Donkey Kongs 0

The Night Drivers were able to break through the Donkey Kongs defensive line in the third period with goals by Chris Zappala (penalty kick) and Phil Bellizia on a pass from Paul Filosi. BOW: John Kulcasar for great goalie work and the entire Night Drivers team.

Missile Commanders 7 - Centipedes 1

The Missile Commanders dominated most of the game with goals coming from Michael Henry (his second hat trick of the season), Scott Henry, Donald Fraser, Paul Bernardin and Gregory Poor with assists going to Bernardin, Duncan Harris, Andrew Hsieh and Michael Henry. BOW: Paul Bernardin and Duncan Harris (Missile Commanders).

Defenders 5 - Star Raiders 3

The Defenders were able to come away with their first victory of the season in a hard-fought game which saw goal scoring by both teams. The defenders goals came from Gus Quattlebaum (2), Jon Frothingham and Martin Dugal with an assist going to Noah Caruso. The Star Raiders goals came from Mark Maesano, Adam Tenofsky and John-Christopher Martin. BOW: Chris Barch, Gregory Santososso and Jutin Rosenblatt (Star Raiders) and Kyle Blais, Brent Dow and Ted Ratyna (Defenders.)

Aliens 3 - Pac Men 1

The Aliens came away with the victory with a hat trick from Jeff Hamilton, assisted by Allen Soong and Ian Begg. The Pac Men did prevent a shutout when Kurt Ballou scored on a pass from Jeff Parker. Colin Nix turned in a fine game at goal for the Aliens, preventing any more Pac Men goals. BOW:

Mark Baker and Matt Anthony (Aliens) and Jeff Parker and Andy Frankengerger (Pac Men).

Buzzards 1 - Bluejays 0

The only tally of the game came in the second period when Lisa Hayes broke through the

Owls 0 - Crows 0

The game remained scoreless in spite of solid offensive drives by the Crows. Holy Parker put on an outstanding performance in goal for the Owls in the fourth period preventing the Crows from scoring. BOW: Tara Richards, Kathleen Melia and Amy Habeeb (Crows) and Jennifer Asoian and Stephanie Gulla (Owls).

Cardinals 5 - Falcons 0

The Cardinals put on a fine offensive display against the Falcons with scores coming from Rachel Zenofsky on a pass from Tara Cattie, Nicole Poisson with two unassisted goals, and Nicole Thompson (2) with an assist from Michelle Doucette. BOW: Parris Sheperd and Krissy Smith (Cardinals) and Rebecca Barry, Colleen Shepard, Carmela Sapienza and Heather Norton (Falcons).

Hawks 0 - Eagles 1

The Eagles were able to break through the Hawks' defense in the fourth period with an unassisted goal by Leanna Mills. Maura Everett did some nice work in goal, preventing the eagles from adding to their score. BOW: Kerry Hagerty and Leanna Mills (Eagles) and Alissa Ginsberg, Marci Jaye and Jennifer Howard (Hawks).

Canning

The food science and nutrition department at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute in Danvers will offer home canners the opportunity to use, without charge, the processing facilities and equipment at the school. The canning center will be operated on a non-profit basis to promote good safe canning procedures and to stimulate agriculture through home gardening and farmer's markets.

The center is open for two four-hour sessions a day, five days a week. For more information and reservations, call the school.

Individuals must supply their own produce and mason jars. Samples of each bath will be tested by the staff to insure safety.

The educational mission of the center is to teach preservation techniques so that food will be safe to eat and no incidents of botulism occur.

Receives Award In Lacrosse

James H. Grover, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grover, 35 Marian Drive, North Andover, received a major award for lacrosse at the recent Nichols College spring sports banquet.

Grover, class of 1984, has been elected a co-captain of the 1983-84 basketball team and is a member of the Varsity Club.

He is a graduate of Andover High School. Nichols College, a four-year independent school with about 1,000 students, is a center for the study and practice of free enterprise capitalism, primarily emphasizing business and public administration. Located in Dudley in south-central Massachusetts, Nichols is a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and fields teams in nine men's and three women's varsity sports.

In 1937, Olympic hurdler Forrest Towns beat a prize cavalry horse, trained as a running jumper in the 120 yard hurdles.

Cubs 4 - Cardinals 4

After seven innings there was no winner in this crucial tilt. The Cubs outplayed the Cards as they had pitcher John Russell with 11 whiffs, 6 team offensive hits and two double steals. Starters Russell and Barry Connors (nine strikeouts) were strong as were relievers Thad Lee and Mark Russell. Offensively, Chris Caltagirone had a long double and Steve Palmer had a key hit. Defensively, Tim Haggerty and Dan Ferris were outstanding. This game will be continued at the next meeting of the two squads.

Pirates 4 - Dodgers 1

The young Pirates upset the Dodgers on the strong arm of Scout Lanouette and his route-going effort. Strong team defense was the key. Dana Orlando led the winners with two hits. David Blank pitched well and shutout the Pirates after a rough early start. In a dramatic ending, the Dodgers had the bases loaded with two outs in the sixth when Steve McSweeney hit a long fly and was robbed by Mike Murnane to end the game.

Cardinals 4 - Braves 3

The hard luck of the Braves continues as they drop their sixth one-run loss of the season. Glenn Driscoll starred with ten strikeouts and pitched his best game. But, in the sixth, the Cards put together a walk and sloppy fielding to win. Brian Lane excelled on defense. Billy Batchelder also deserved better.

Mets 7 - Pirates 2

The front-running Mets combined good pitching and timely hitting to beat the pesky Pirates. Andy Shea pitched the route, whiffing 14 and allowing only five hits. Mark Angelos continued his good hitting with two hits. Kurt Seifert earned defensive honors at catcher. For the Pirates, Matt Dufresne had three safeties and Curt Solomon a long double. The winners were led by Shea with two singles and a three-run homer in the fourth.

Gets Grant

Bay State Gas Company has made a $3,000 grant to Merrimack College to support a recently established Writing Center on campus.

The grant will be distributed in $1,000 installments over the next three years.

Organized by Dr. Judith Stanford of the English department, the Writing Center was created to help students develop their writing skills. No fees are charged.

Faculty members and trained student tutors are available to assist students during drop-in hours in the Writing Center, Room 320, McQuade Library. Special workshops dealing with specific aspects of writing are scheduled.

Writing Center services include assistance with specific writing problems as well as guidance in choosing a topic for a paper, organizing a paper, research procedure and development of critical reading leading to perceptive writing.

Volunteers

If you have a few hours a week you would like to spend in a meaningful way, consider becoming a volunteer at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington.

Volunteers are invaluable members of the health care team. They help the professional staff and patients in numerous ways and assist with organizing fund-raising events.

Persons with typing skills, knowledge of library or copying procedures or who enjoy patient contact and are willing to work in the oncology department should contact Vera Milano, communications coordinator, at the center.

West Halts East Streak

Last week the annual East-West baseball game was played at Doherty Junior High as West handed Doherty its only loss of the year.

West, the underdog with a 7-3-1 record compared to Doherty's 14-0, felt the need to avenge their loss to Doherty earlier in the season.

In the first inning West jumped to an early 1-0 lead as Eric Friedenson beat out an infield hit to short, stole second and third base and scored on a throwing error. The lead was increased to 2-0 in the third when Leo Gravel walked, stole second and scored on an RBI single by Bob Pothier. In the fifth inning Peter Quintal led off with a walk, stole second and third and scored the eventual winning run on a single by Scott Wilkins.

Initiates Service To Attorneys

A new lawyer assistance service opened in Newton under the name of The PASEN Co.

Jane T. Woodworth, president, said her firm will assist attorneys in insurance liability cases, handling any or all aspects of a claim including research, case analysis and case evaluation.

"Many tort attorneys find they spend more time with initial case investigation, including insurance coverage questions than they do preparing their legal arguments," Woodworth said. "We can change that by assisting them at almost every level of case claim preparation."

Inquiries can be made by contacting The PASEN Co., P.O. Box 348, Newton Highlands, MA 02161. Woodworth is a native of Andover.

Spiegel Convention Speaker

Dr. Lawrence S. Spiegel, technical food products consultant, gave a featured address at the New England Ice Cream Restaurant Association's annual convention at Stage Neck Inn in York Harbor, Maine.

In his speech, "Provocative Thoughts About The Ice Cream Industry," Dr. Spiegel related his experiences, ranging from making ice cream from rice in South America to inventing new forms of frozen desserts, and described how the industry could take advantage of newer dessert concepts and consumer needs. His remarks were directed to the immediate and long-term interests of this established association of ice cream manufacturers, restaurant operators and allied industries.

Dr. Spiegel lives on Holt Road in Andover and has been involved in community affairs for many years.

Oil Price

Secretary of Energy Sharon M. Pollard released the latest Home Heating Oil Survey figures which show heating oil selling for an average price of $1.07 per gallon, down from $1.09 per gallon last month.

Sec. Pollard, commenting on the decline in prices, said, "Historically prices of home fuel have declined during the summer months when demand is at the lowest point in the year."

"These next three months would be an ideal time for consumers to invest in weatherization projects that will once again save them both money and energy during the next heating season."

Major New England Banks Plan Interstate Merger

Bank of New England Corporation, whose principal subsidiary is Bank of New England, and CBT Corporation, whose principal subsidiary is The Connecticut Bank and Trust Company, have announced an agreement in principle to merge. The merger will create the largest banking organization in New England based on domestic deposits. The directors of both holding companies approved the agreement at special meetings recently. The merger is the first to be announced under legislation recently enacted in both Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Under the terms of the agreement, CBT Corporation shareholders will own approximately 52.5 percent of the combined organization and Bank of New England Corporation shareholders approximately 47.5 percent. For each share now owned, shareholders of CBT Corporation will receive one share of the new company, and shareholders of Bank of New England Corporation will receive 1.75 shares. It is anticipated that the initial annual dividend rate for the combined organization will be a minimum of $1.64 per share which is the current CBT Corporation rate. CBT will have one more director than BNE on the board of the combined organization. The headquarters of the combined organization, to be known as Bank of New England Corporation, will be in Boston.

The management team will consist of Walter J. Connolly, Jr., chairman and chief executive officer; Peter H. McCormick, president; and J. Nicholas Rees and Gordon I. Ulmer, vice chairmen. Roderick M. MacDougall will serve as chairman of the executive committee after the merger is completed before taking a planned early retirement towards the end of 1984.

The subsidiary banks will continue to operate independently with their own boards of directors and management teams. McCormick will continue as chief executive officer of Bank of New England, Boston. Joseph F. Fahey, Jr. will continue as chairman and Ulmer as president of Connecticut Bank & Trust Company with Ulmer assuming responsibility as chief executive officer. It is anticipated that all three, together with MacDougall, Connolly and Rees, will be directors of the new company.

In a joint announcement, released here and in Hartford, MacDougall and Connolly said, "This will be a true merger of equals in a truly regional banking organization. We are very enthusiastic about this merger, which will enable both organizations to provide better service to the people of New England. The combination of two equally strong institutions will enable us to compete more successfully in a rapidly changing service industry. Our subsidiary banks will continue to operate independently, but each will strengthen the others as they respond to technological change, develop new products and services, and serve the New England economy with greatly expanded lending capacity."

The combined institutions will have total assets of more than $10 billion equity capital of approximately $530 million and more than 240 banking offices in Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The companies' agreement in principle is subject, among other things, to execution of a definitive reorganization agreement, votes of Bank of New England Corporation and CBT shareholders and approval by appropriate bank regulatory agencies. MacDougall and Connolly indicated that they anticipated bringing the transaction to their shareholders for approval later this summer and they were optimistic that all regulatory approvals will be obtained early in 1984.

Fairbanks, Alaska, is the closest city in North America to the Arctic Circle.

Tom Glynn will specialize in A.S.R. Servotron products.

A.S.R. Servotron manufactures permanent magnet DC motors, PWM transistor servodrivers and positioning systems for industrial robots, machine tools, processing and packaging machinery, materials handling systems, antenna drives and other industrial and military installations requiring precision control, response or speed range.

Elected Company President

The board of directors of The Signal Companies, Inc. elected Gary M. Cypres, senior vice president and chief financial officer.

Cypres, a resident of Andover, had been vice president, finance, of the high-technology and engineering company since Feb. 1, when Signal merged with Hampton-based Wheelabrator-Frye Inc. He joined Wheelabrator in 1973 and was senior vice president, finance, of that company at the time of the merger. Earlier he was employed by Arthur Andersen & Co. in New York City.

Cypres is a member of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants, the Financial Executives Institute, the American Management Association, the American Institute of Corporate Controllers and the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. He serves on the board of directors of Arlington Trust Company and is a member of the board of trustees of Merrimack College.

He succeeds Andrew J. Chitrea who has been elected senior vice president, special assets management, a newly created position. Chitrea will be responsible for the administration and investment of Signal's $2 billion pension, retirement and employee-savings assets.

Signal, with annual sales of approximately $6 billion, is headquartered in La Jolla, Calif. Cypres, his wife, Marjorie, and three daughters, Meredith, Leigh and Amy, plan to move to the La Jolla area.

Appointed Manager Of Branch

Patricia A. Hajjar

Daniel J. Murphy, III, president of Arlington Trust Company, announces that Patricia A. Hajjar has been appointed manager of the bank's Shawsheen Plaza office.

A native of Methuen, Mrs. Hajjar graduated from Methuen High School and received a Bachelor of Science degree from Lowell University.

She joined Arlington Trust Company nine years ago as a part-time teller at the Route 28, Methuen office. Prior to her new assignment, Mrs. Hajjar served as the manager of the Methuen Mall office. She also holds the position of assistant vice president.

Mrs. Hajjar and her husband, David, reside in Salem, N.H.

The term "Hallmark" originated from the practice of jewelers in Goldsmith's Hall in London who put a seal on their gold and silver products to certify value.

People once believed that agates could render them invisible.

Art Fest

The Rocky Neck Art Colony in Gloucester will present a chowder and music festival Saturday, June 18, and Sunday, June 19.

The Rocky Neck area is the site of one of the oldest art colonies in the United States. Painters such as John Soan, Fitz Hugh Lane and Edward Hopper, did some of their most famous work here.

Artists and craftspeople will demonstrate their work and explain their techniques. Area musicians will perform in the street and free chowder will be available from noon until 5 p.m. A free jazz concert will be given at sunset on Saturday.

Parking and shuttle service to and from the festival is available both days.

The Rocky Neck Art Colony, Inc. is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting the arts on Cape Ann.

Honored

Martha Swann and Adeline Wright were among 51 adult volunteers honored at the recent annual meeting of the Service League of Boston's Museum of Science.

Additional volunteers are needed this summer for assignments as visitor guides, helping visitors to understand exhibits and as leaders in the Arthur D. Little Discovery Room where they show visitors how to explore the raw materials of science. Assignments in other areas are also available. Interested adults should call the service league office.

Andover Scientist To Address Conference

More than 2,000 scientists, engineers and electronic leaders will attend the 19th annual International Conference on Communications at the Hotel Sheraton Boston June 19-22. About half the registrants are from Eastern Massachusetts.

Sponsored jointly by the Communications Society of the Institute of Electric and Electronics Engineers and the Boston Section, ICC '83 is organized around the theme of "Integrating Communications for World Progress."

Papers in approximately three dozen categories will be presented, researching the burgeoning world of competition in telecommunications and its ramifications throughout the world. The exhibits will complement the technical program, featuring such exhibitors as equipment manufacturers, publishers and service companies.

Edmond N. Elowe of Andover will chair the Plenary Session and speak on international cooperation in telecommunications technology. He will focus on the

Hazardous Waste Line

Massachusetts residents with questions about hazardous household products can now call a toll-free number—357-5880 or 1-800-882-1649—for answers. The Voter Information Phone of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts is prepared to help citizens who realize that these common household products are a threat to health and safety when they are disposed of improperly.

Margaret Bliss, president of the league, said, "Citizens are becoming aware that many products in their cleaning cabinets, home workshops and garden sheds contain hazardous chemicals. But, while they realize they need to be disposed of properly, people don't know how to go about it. A call to the toll-free Voter Information Phone will help citizens figure out what to do about this problem." Trained league volunteers will help callers daily from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. After 3 p.m. a message can be left on the telephone answering machine and a volunteer will get back with the answer.

The Voter Information Phone is a service the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts has provided for more than ten years. Many thousands of questions about all levels of government are answered yearly.

Standex Earnings Increase

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) reported a 29 percent rise in earnings on flat sales in the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, 1983, as compared with the same period of last year. The company indicated that the earnings gain reflects Standex's "increasingly strong recovery" from the recession. In fact, the company pointed out, income "purely from operations" actually rose about 50 percent in the latest quarter.

Announcing the "very favorable results," Daniel E. Hogan, chairman and chief executive, expressed confidence that, as the economy rebounds from the recession, "Standex will continue to respond in a vigorous and positive manner." He said that "we expect fiscal 1983 (ending June 30) results will be well ahead" of last year. He added that Standex "should be earning at its pre-recession rate and back on its historic growth pattern by year-end." Hogan attributed the current prospective gains to improving economic conditions, increased efficiencies and greater productivity achieved at most operating divisions, a better product mix, lower inflation rates and steadily declining interest costs due to both lower debt and lower interest rates.

In the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, Standex reported net income of $4.5 million, 66¢ a share, as compared with $3.5 million or 51¢ a share, in the prior year. Sales in the latest period amounted to $91.8 million, as against $91.2 million in fiscal 1982.

In the nine months ended March 31, net income amounted to $10.5 million, or $1.55 a share, as compared with $11 million, or $1.63 a share, the year before. Sales for the latest nine months amounted to $268.6 million, as compared to $276.3 million in fiscal 1982. Earnings per share calculations for fiscal 1982 are based on $6.8 million shares outstanding.

Hogan indicated that "while some of our markets continue to feel the lingering effects of the recession, most areas appear to be improving steadily." He added that "the true comparative results" of the nine-month periods were obscured by the fact that Standex realized sizeable capital gains (32¢ a share) last year from the sale of its interests in a computer software company and other non-recurring items. In addition, the latest quarter results did not include the sales and earnings of the Dresher Inc. division, the shares of which were distributed to Standex stockholders in January 1983.

Hogan stated that a number of important divisions are "now showing definite improvement." He mentioned the "strong pickup" in mail order business at Standex's Yield House division, the "excellent performance" of several of Standex's food service/institutional operations, the grapefruit club mail order division, Standex's metal-spinning units and the "substantial reduction of losses" realized at the company's fire-place division.

Hogan stated that Standex achieved "its highest level of productivity ever" as a result of the "tight and stringent controls exercised by all division over all items of expense." The company has instituted a corporate-wide program of "Quality Circles as part of its continuing programs to increase productivity.

Financially, Hogan said, Standex "has never been in better condition." He indicated that the company's debt-to-capital ratio today stands at about 25 percent—"our best ever"—and that total debt has been reduced by almost $27 million during the past two years. He added that Standex has a current book value of slightly under $20 a share, working capital of about $11.78 a share, and a current ratio of 2.6:1.

Standex International is a diversified manufacturer operating in five basic growth areas: institutional products, consumer products, graphics, industrial products and electronics.

Racing At Hudson

The 1983 Sunday night summer racing season opens this Sunday at the Hudson Speedway, Hudson, N.H., where top drivers from New England will compete in a 13-race program.

Late model modifieds, street stocks, slam-bang rookie stocks and limited super-modifieds will make up the four different divisions of cars in competition. Practice will get underway at 5 p.m. and the first of several qualifying heats gets the green flag at 6 p.m.

A special "Big Wheel" event will be held for children. Any child, 10 years old or under, will be allowed to race his or her "Big Wheel" during the intermission race with a trophy going to the winner in each of three age divisions. All children will be admitted to Sunday's races free if they bring a "Big Wheel" bike.

A special Boston Bruins match race will be held with current and former Bruins' players scheduled to drive stock cars.

A 10-lap spectator's race, open to any fan who wished to enter his or her own passenger car, will also be held. Helmets will be available in the pit area.

53 journalists from 16 countries named it Europe's "Car of The Year."

We named it the new Audi 5000S.

Audi When the new Audi 5000S was voted Europe's "Car of The Year," we were, of course, pleased. But we weren't surprised. You won't be either once you drive it.

How many other five-passenger luxury touring sedans can accelerate from zero to 50 in just 8 seconds? Or cut through wind resistance with the impunity of a sports car? Or handle superbly, even in tight-cornering situations?

The new 5000S, with its advanced German engineering, can do all this. And more. In fact, after 6 years of designing and refining and over 3.2 million kilometers of road testing, this just may be the most roadworthy luxury sedan ever built.

The 5000S is also the product of fresh design ideas. For example, the idea of flush-mounted side windows and bonded front and rear windows (which not only help reduce drag but virtually eliminate wind noise).

What's more, you'll like the idea of our new 24-month, unlimited mileage warranty* and the long-term reliability that prompted it.

But, most of all, you'll like driving the new Audi 5000S.

Not because all those experts did. But for all the same reasons they did. PORSCHE AUDI

What's Cooking — Fine International Gourmet Shoppe

What's Cooking, 93 rear Main St., Olde Andover Village, has something cooking for you.

Too tired or too hot to cook? Maybe you'd like to relax for an afternoon in a comfortable European continental atmosphere while enjoying a choice from a wide selection of scrumptious dishes. If you haven't time to sit down, just order take out or check out their freezer for easy pre-made dinners to take home! Everything from croissants to marinated mussels to homemade soups to delectable desserts is available and all are cooked right on the premises.

Co-owners Brenda Vigeant and Pieter Vande Rydt enjoy serving people and feature such different homemade gourmet dishes as pita bread stuffed with diced marinated vegetables and topped with grated cheese, cold poached halibut in dill sauce and much more all for reasonable prices. Perfect for a deliciously light summer lunch or supper! (And there's dishes to fill even the hungriest too.)

The menu changes weekly with a variety of items offered every day. And don't forget to check out their blackboard for other daily specialsthere's something new every day!

In addition, What's Cooking is a gourmet shop and carries imported cold cuts, a large assortment of cheeses, pates, fresh salads and gourmet items of all types.

There's a full line of nice dinner wines (priced $3.50 and up) as well as Dom Perignon, David Bruce (one of the finest chardonnay makers in California) and others. Just ask Pieter or Brenda for suggestions.

Take advantage of the great outdoors this summerlet What's Cooking put together a picnic basket for you. The baskets make great gifts, too! Or make your own by choosing a selection of gourmet and fresh baked items from What's Cooking to fill your own basket.

What's Cooking offers full catering also so you can relax and enjoy yourself while entertaining this summer. Brenda and Pieter pride themselves in offering gourmet items that are different from the usual available gourmet items.

Why not stop by What's Cooking today to see their wide selection of homemade and gourmet foods. Located in Olde Andover Village, What's Cooking is open Mon.-Sat. 8-6. Tel. 470-3333.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Merrimack Citgo Your Service Center

With all the traveling you'll be doing now that summer is here, it's time to get your car tuned so you'll be ready to go. Merrimack Citgo, conveniently located on Rt. 125 at Hillside Rd. (next to Trombley Motor Coach) in North Andover is the place for you.

Competitively priced, Merrimack Citgo can handle all your automotive needs for whatever type of car you drive. They specialize in servicing special interest cars such as classics and high performance cars as well as both foreign and domestic automobiles.

If you have a classic car that needs work or a high performance car that needs fine tuning stop by Merrimack Citgo where you know your car is in good hands.

After over twenty years experience servicing automobiles, owner Jeff Watson will find whatever problems your car has. Let the mechanics diagnose and repair your car. They can eliminate the problems that are giving your car poor engine performance or low fuel efficiency. The crew at Merrimack Citgo will check your brakes, tires, front end and exhaust system giving your car a thorough examination.

Used cars are also bought, sold and traded at Merrimack Citgo. In their effort to serve you better you'll also find tires and auto accessories to do your own auto repairs.

No matter what type of car you drive - foreign, domestic or high performance - and whether you need a tune up or an engine overhaul stop by Merrimack Citgo conveniently located on Rt. 125 in North Andover where you'll find friendly service and low, low prices. Open Mon.-Fri. 7:30-5 p.m. and Sat. 8:30-2 p.m. Tel. 685-9888.

Array Of Y Summer Programs

A full schedule of summer programs will offer members and non-members more than 60 activities ranging from preschool Fun-Time and youth gymnastics to adult special interest classes such as Aerobic Dance, Aquacises and Dog Obedience.

Registrations are being accepted at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Saturday. Dates for once a week classes are July 5-Aug. 26. Dates for two four-week sessions are: first session, July 5-29; second session, Aug. 1-26. Dates for four two-week sessions are: first session, July 5-15; second session, July 18-29; third session, Aug. 1-12; fourth session, Aug. 15-29.

Fun Time at the Y is a program especially designed to provide the three-to-five year old with opportunities to develop self-awareness, self-confidence and creative expression through a variety of programs which include daily swims, arts and crafts, outdoor activities, trail walks and games. Classes meet Monday-Friday from 8:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Four two-week sessions are available. Children can be registered for one or more sessions with the option of meeting, two, three, four or five days per week.

A mini-gym school for four-to-six year olds will offer tumbling, bars, beam, ropes and vaults, followed with a recreational. Classes will meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursdays from 10:15 a.m. to 12 noon. Enrollments may be for one or more weeks.

Instructional swimming classes for three-to-six year olds, under the supervision of qualified instructors, will be held either twice a week for four weeks or once a week for eight weeks. Morning, early afternoon or evening classes are available.

A Tumblebugs and Swim program will be offered to four and five year olds, teaching basic water adjustment, safety and progressive swimming skills, followed by different apparatus, rhythm, tumbling, games and physical exercise. Classes meet Monday and Wednesday 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

A Parent-Guppy swimming program will provide the two-to-three year old with a pleasant learning experience. Mother or father (or both), under the supervision of a qualified instructor, will guide their youngster in becoming familiar with water and learning basic swimming skills. Classes meet once a week for eight weeks early Monday evening or Tuesday and Friday mornings.

A Parent Toddler (12-24 months) and Baby & Me (3 month-1 year) program will prepare the child for basic water adjustment skills and basic swimming skills. This program not only builds sound bodies but also helps to reinforce love through physical contact and interaction of parent(s) and child.

Morning or early evening classes are available.

Good Time Gang, a day-camp-type program for grades 1-3, and Adventure Club, a day-camp-type program for grades 4-6, will be offered Monday-Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Activities include swim and gym, crafts and special events. Children may be registered for two, three four or five days per week with four two-week sessions available.

Under the leadership of Nancy LaRue and Andrea Haefling, the gymnastics school for grades 1-9 will include instruction in fundamental moves in floor exercise, tumbling, rings, parallel bars, vaulting, uneven bars and balance beam. The National Y.M.C.A. Progressive Gymnastics Program for youth will be used as guideline for the program. Awards and emblems will be available for those who successfully complete requirements for each of six levels. The Gymnastics School will meet Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Enrollments may be for one or more weeks.

The National Y.M.C.A. Progressive Aquatic Program and the Red Cross swimming program are used as guidelines for youth instructional swimming classes. The aquatic staff establishes additional goals for the swimming students, goals which go beyond swimming skills to include the development of the individual's confidence, endurance, a better self-image and just having fun. Classes will meet either once a week for eight weeks or twice a week for four weeks.

A competitive swimming program will be offered Tuesday and Thursday from 4:15-5 p.m. Marilyn Fitzgerald, aquatic director, will include the four competitive strokes, start and turns along with proper warmup and training techniques.

A beginner diving class for youth ages 7-17 years old will include fundamentals of diving, approach, hurdle, front dive and back dive. Classes will meet Tuesday and Thursday from 2:30 p.m. to 3:15 p.m.

Tumble & Swim or Creative Crafts and swim classes are offered Monday and Wednesday early afternoons. Floor hockey and swim will be offered to grades 3-6 on Tuesday and Thursday early afternoon.

Dance Aerobics will be offered to high school girls and women Monday and Wednesday 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. or Tuesday and Thursday 7:15 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.

Physicians Directory Available

Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley, in cooperation with Blue Shield of Massachusetts, has published a "Directory of Physicians Serving Older Adults in the Merrimack Valley." Available free of charge, the directory contains a listing of physicians and includes important information on the types of services they offer including office hours and location, hospital affiliation and waiting period for appointments.

For older persons who want additional information, the directory answers questions such as: Does the doctor accept Medicare assignment? Is he or she a participant in the Medicaid program? What are their policies on house calls or visits to nursing homes? For individuals and families who wish to acquaint themselves with area physicians' services or professionals who receive requests for this type of information, the "Directory of Physicians Serving Older Adults in the Merrimack Valley" is a valuable resource.

The directory is the result of survey conducted in October 1982 by Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley and Blue Shield. More than 450 physicians in the Merrimack Valley were surveyed with a response rate of approximately 90 percent.

Councils on Aging and libraries in the Merrimack Valley have agreed to serve as distribution points for the directory. To obtain a copy, contact the Council on Aging or library nearest you.

CLUES IN THE BASEMENT

When inspecting an older home for sale, you don't have to be an expert to discover symptoms of construction problems if you know what to look for. The basement is a good place to uncover such clues.

Water seepage can be costly. Look for signs of moisture. Search for dampness in corners and water stains along walls or cabinets.

Water pipes in houses built before WWII are likely to be made of iron or steel which tend to corrode over long years of use. Copper piping is usually found in newer houses. If you see a length of copper between segments of iron or steel, there have been plumbing problems.

Before you go upstairs, check the water heater's age, condition and capacity. Nowadays, a water heater of less than 40 gallons capacity is usually too small for a family of four or more. Check for rust or small leaks at the bottom of the tank.

Reg. 40987
LAND COURT

To the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; Clara M. Gaudet, Melvin J. Gaudet, Rosie Perry, Phillip Perry, Janice A. Bernard and Joseph H. Bernard, all of Andover, in the County of Essex, and said Commonwealth; Beverly Coyle, of Salem, in the State of New Hampshire; Andover Savings Bank, a duly existing corporation, having an usual place of business in said Andover; Eleanor Fairbrother, also known as Eleanor Early, also known as Eleanor Hamel and also known as Eleanor Maynard, residence unknown; or her heirs, devisees and legal representatives; and to all whom it may concern:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said Court by John J. Martellucci and Karen E. Martellucci, both of said Andover, to register and confirm their title in the following described land:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Andover, bounded and described as follows:

Southwesterly by Jackson Street, 50 feet;
Northwesterly by land now or formerly of John Martellucci and Karen Martellucci, 118.70 feet; and Northeasterly and Southeasterly by land now or formerly of Joseph Bernard and Janet Bernard, 50.50 feet and 125.80 feet, respectively.

The petitioner claims as appurtenant to the above-described land rights or easements as follows: A right of way from Boston Road to the locus over a private way designated as Jackson Street on the plan filed herewith, in common with others entitled thereto.

The above described land is shown on a plan filed with said petition and all boundary lines are claimed to be located on the ground as shown on said plan.

If you desire to make any objection or defense to said petition you or your attorney must file a written appearance and an answer under oath, setting forth clearly and specifically your objections or defense to each part of said petition, in the office of the Recorder of said Court in Boston (at the Court House), or in the office of the Assistant Recorder of said Court at the Registry of Deeds at Lawrence in the County of Essex where a copy of the plan filed with said petition is deposited, on or before the twenty-seventh day of June next.

Unless an appearance is so filed by or for you, your default will be recorded, the said petition will be taken as confessed and you will be forever barred from contesting said petition or any decree entered thereon.

Witness, WILLIAM I. RANDALL, Esquire, Chief Justice of said Court, this twenty-sixth day of May in the year nineteen hundred and eighty-three.

Attest with Seal of said Court.

Nursing Home Guide Is Available

A number of people are charts showing the from local churches and services and staff available in each home. Included are sections on food service, kinds of residents accepted and the decisions residents can make as well as types of programs and activities each home offers. This "Consumer Guide To Merrimack Valley Nursing Homes" can be picked up at the RSVP office, 264 Essex St., Lawrence, or the Greater Lawrence Ecu- menical Area Ministry office, 2 Wyman St., Lawrence. A copy can be mailed by calling GLEAM.

The project was coordinated by Cooperative Metropolitan Ministries, an association of churches and temples in Massachusetts. They provide services at no fee to older citizens, operate emergency food programs for the poor and have built more than 1,250 units of housing for low-income families and senior citizens. While there is no charge for the consumer guide, a contribution will enable them to continue serving people in need. Contributions should be sent to C.M.M., 474 Centre St., Newton, MA 02158.

LEGAL NOTICES

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage and in a confirmatory mortgage given by Geoffrey S. Davis to Valley Co-Operative Bank, now held by Andover Savings Bank by virtue of the merger of Valley Co-operative Bank with Andover Savings Bank, a corporation duly established under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and having its usual place of business in Andover, Essex County, in said Commonwealth said mortgage being dated July 30, 1981 and said confirmatory mortgage being dated August 4, 1981, as recorded with both the Registered Land Section and the unregistered records of North District of Essex Registry of Deeds (on the registered land side the mortgage is document number 32777 and the confirmatory mortgage is document number 33930 as shown on Certificate of Title No. 8787 at Book 59, Page 153 Registered Land Records; on the unregistered side the mortgage is recorded at Book 1561, Page 258 and the confirmatory mortgage at Book 1644, Page 254) of which mortgage and confirmatory mortgage the undersigned Andover Savings Bank is the present holder, for breach of conditions contained in said mortgage and confirmatory mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION ON THE PREMISES BELOW DESCRIBED, BELIEVED TO BE KNOWN AND NUMBERED AS 8 DUMBARTON STREET, ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS, ON THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1983 AT 11:00 O'CLOCK A.M., all and singular being the premises described in said mortgage and confirmatory mortgage, to wit:

Two certain parcels of land with the buildings thereon situated in said Andover, bounded and described as follows:

PARCEL NO. 1:

NORTHERLY by Dunbarton Street, seventy-eight and 15/100 feet (78.15)

EASTERLY by lot no. 7 on plan hereinafter mentioned one hundred and 27/100 feet;

SOUTHERLY by land now or formerly of George Manders ninety-three and 08/100 feet; and WESTERLY by land now or formerly of the Town of Andover, one hundred one and 56/100 feet.

All of said boundaries are determined by the Court to be located as shown on Subdivision Plan No. 1726E drawn by John Franklin, E. C., dated March 1932, as modified and approved by the Court, filed in the Land Registry Office, a copy of which is filed with Transfer Certificate No. 1925, Page 13, Page 310 and being designated as Lot No. 8 thereon.

PARCEL NO. 2:

A certain parcel of land in said Andover abutting the parcel hereinabove described bounded as follows:

Commencing at the southeasterly corner of the above parcel; thence running westerly by the southerly line of the above parcel forty-three and 58/100 (43.58) feet to an iron pipe at land now or formerly of one Holt; thence the line runs southerly by Holt land fifty (50) feet to an iron pipe at land now or formerly of Andover Shawsheen Realty Company; thence the line runs easterly by said land of Andover Shawsheen Realty Company, sixty-three and 73/100 (63.73) feet to an iron pipe at land of Walter H. and Evelyn Wood, now or formerly; thence the line runs northerly by said Wood land fifty (50) feet to Lot No. 7 on the first mentioned plan; thence the line runs westerly by the southerly line of Lot No. 7 sixteen and 62/100 (16.62) feet to the point of beginning.

The northerly line of the second parcel has an over all measurement of sixty and 2/10 (60.2) feet abutting the southerly line of Lots No. 8 and 7 on first mentioned plan.

Being the same premises conveyed to me by deed of Geoffrey S. Davis and Judith C. Davis dated July 30, 1981 and recorded in Book 1523, Page 69, and Registered as Document #32165.

The premises described in the above-referenced mortgage and confirmatory mortgage will be sold subject to and/or with the benefit of any and all restrictions, easements, improvements, outstanding tax titles, unpaid real estate taxes, water and sewer charges, and all other municipal or other public taxes, assessments, liens or claims in the nature of liens, and existing encumbrances of record prior to the mortgage if any there be, whether or not reference to such restrictions, easements, improvements, liens or encumbrances is made in the mortgage and confirmatory mortgage. Said premises will also be sold subject to all laws and ordinances including, but not limited to, all building and zoning laws and ordinances.

TERMS OF SALE:

FIVE THOUSAND ($5,000.00) DOLLARS shall be required to be paid in cash, certified check, or bank treasurer's check at the time and place of sale as earnest money. The balance shall be paid within twenty (20) days thereafter to be deposited in escrow with Andover Savings Bank, 61 Main Street, Andover, Massachusetts, pending approval of said sale by the Land Court. The Deed is to be transferred within ten (10) days from the date of approval of said sale by the Land Court, said approval being the only condition of the escrow. The successful bidder shall be liable for the costs of registering and recording all entries, decrees or judgments, orders, foreclosure deeds and affidavits, and the cost of any state or federal stamps required to be placed on the above documents. The successful bidder shall be required to enter a Memorandum of Terms of Sale at the Auction Sale containing the above terms and any other terms announced at the sale. Other terms, if any, to be announced at the sale.

Plans

said little grading remained to be done off Woburn Street, and further earth removal would be "minimal." The area is 95 percent complete, Kalogianis said, and grading would be finished this week.

Cotton suggested that the loarning and seeding be finished within 21 days, but the board compromised on 45 days; the work is to be done by Aug. 1.

The board's unanimous approval of the modified plan, with the landscaping condition, is subject to the approval of the Arlington Trust Company, which holds the mortgage on the site.

The planners indicated that if Kalogianis had not submitted a modified plan for their approval, they would have had no choice but to require him to follow his 1980 plan — which would have meant replacing the knoll that was removed.

Earlier in the meeting, the board heard plans for another T.D.J. Development subdivision during an abbreviated public hearing.

Engineer Gene Nysten of Nysten Engineering described a proposed one-lot subdivision off Smithshire Estates and Castle Heights Road. The 2.21-acre site would include two house lots, including an existing house fronting on Smithshire Estates.

The planners were not sure if Tuesday's hearing was legal because a group of abutters who live in condominiums at 250 North Main St. said they were not notified of the hearing. One of the residents, former planning board chairman David Gravalles, said the neighbors wanted more time to look into potential sedimentation and drainage problems at the site.

Chairman Jerry Greer adjourned the hearing until June 28 — or until a new hearing can be called next month, depending on the legality of this week's hearing.

Gas Prices

Secretary of Energy Sharon M. Pollard released the latest gasoline survey figures that shows the statewide average price is $1.23 for regular, $1.30 for unleaded regular and $1.38 for unleaded premium. This represents an overall increase of about two cents since the April survey was completed.

said of the high school center. "We don't hear stories like these in New England very often."

The J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center at Andover High will be owned by the town but administered by the schools. It includes 35,000 square feet, with exterior dimensions of 110 by 176 feet. The stage is 60 by 100 feet, with a depth of 40 feet and a 48 foot batten fly stage. Its backstage facilities include space for band and chorus rehearsals, and it features high-quality light and sound equipment.

And according to Gropper there is "not a bad seat in the entire facility."

Henderson said the bank was "thrilled and excited" to participate in the opening ceremonies by presenting the Boston Pops concert. He said the bank, founded in 1834, will celebrate its 150th anniversary in 1984, and views the Pops concert as a way to "kick off" the bank's anniversary, celebration.

"We're delighted to be involved," Henderson said.

Gulezian explained that the Andover bank agreed to sponsor the Pops concert after he, Shuman and committee member Roger Collins presented the idea to bank officials.

Collins was among those attending the Tuesday press conference. He said the bank's "generosity is wonderful," and predicted "in that building through the years glorious concerts going on."

Offering his comments at the close of the press conference, Collins said that Superintendent Seifert had instructed him to "just sit down and be quiet — and that's what I've been doing."

Then the "living legend," as the town manager called him, concluded, "I have tried to do things that are good. I have tried through my life to make people happy, to get a joy out of life. God knows I have. Thank you."

It is said that the Chinese used thumbprints as signatures thousands of years ago.

Timothy Thomas, an Andover High teacher, recently attended a three-day laboratory safety course at Curry College in Milton.

The course was offered by the Health and Safety Committee of the Northeastern Section of the American Chemical Society. It was developed by the National Institute of Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) and is being supported by a $5,000 grant from the Cabot Corporation Foundation.

Firm Gets A Third Denial For 'Affordable Housing'

A prominent Andover development firm has struck out in its third attempt to build "affordable" housing in town after the Zoning Board of Appeals vetoed its latest plan, a proposal for a 10.9-acre subdivision featuring an unusual design.

Wyncrest Development Corp., a part of Wynwood Associates, petitioned the zoning board in early April for a series of variances necessary for its proposed "zero lot line" development off Charlotte Drive, which is located off Woburn Street between South School and Enfield Drive.

In a decision rendered last month, zoning board members voted unanimously to deny the variances, because the proposal included "major nonconformities" to the zoning bylaws. Wynwood's proposal "simply is not envisioned in the Andover zoning bylaw and represents a major departure from it," the board explained in a written decision.

The board estimated that the development would have required 54 separate variances.

The developers did not file an appeal to the decision during the 20-day appeal period following the decision.

Zero lot line developments feature houses with one windowless wall built directly on the lot line. (Wynwood had planned to build the houses three feet from the lot line.) The developer proposed building nine detached single-family homes on small lots of about 7,500 square feet, with frontage of 35 feet, front yard setbacks of 30 feet, and rear yard setbacks of 15 feet.

The entire development would be clustered on 3.1 acres, Atty. Andrew Caffrey, Jr., explained during the April 7 ZBA hearing, leaving the rest of the site as open space. He said the plan would minimize earth and tree removal, making the "best feasible use of the topography" on the site, zoned Single Residence C.

It would also include 30 percent less roadway than a conventional development, he said, and would allow the development to be built at a smaller cost to Wynwood — resulting in less expensive homes.

Wynwood's engineer told the Planning Board in February the homes would probably sell for less than $100,000, compared to $250,000-plus for a typical Wynwood home in Andover.

The planning board supported the "planning aspects" of the proposal because it would "minimize environmental impact" to the site; the Conservation Commission urged the zoning board to give "serious consideration" to the plan for the same reason.

Charlotte Drive residents, however, opposed the proposed development because they said it would be out of character with the neighborhood — and because they did not like the idea of "experimentation" in their backyards.

The ZBA pointed out that its function is to administer the existing zoning bylaw of the town "rather than to revise it": The board "may not act to annul, weaken, or change the provisions, intent or purpose" of the zoning bylaw.

"If the Board were to grant these variances, the dimensional provisions of the bylaw would be rendered a virtual nullity," the board ruled, adding that they would "rapidly find ourselves in the business of experimenting with other types of developments not contemplated by the zoning bylaw."

The ZBA also feared they would be "hard-pressed to deny the vast majority of the far more modest requests for frontage, setback or lot area variances which it customarily receives" if they approved the proposal.

According to the decision, the Wynwood plan was "sharply at odds" with the bylaw, which requires a minimum lot size of 43,560

Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium Sold To Development Firm

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium on Haverhill Street, which has stood vacant for several years, was sold this week to a Burlington real estate development firm.

Drs. Sanford Kaufman and Joseph Guertera, the gymnasium owners, signed a purchase and sale agreement Tuesday with the Alden Group of Burlington, a real estate development firm, according to Walter Green of Green Realty, North Andover.

The purchase price was not disclosed. The building is assessed at $211,900.

Thomas Patton III, president of the Alden Group, said the building is under agreement, but the sale will not be final until financing is arranged. "There are still some hurdles to be overcome in financing the building," Patton said. He added that he did not anticipate problems with the sale.

The firm plans to renovate the building into a professional office center, Patton said. "I feel Andover will support nice office space," he explained. The exterior of the building will remain the same, although the landscaping will be improved, the president said.

However, the interior needs major renovations, Patton said: "The entire interior needs to be replaced — it needs a new roof, new heating and air conditioning, new wiring, new plumbing, new windows and doors." All renovations must meet state building codes, he pointed out.

Green Realty was the listing broker for the old brick building, which Green said has been on the market for five and one-half months. State Properties of Boston was the selling broker for the building.

The local doctors purchased the old gymnasium from the town in 1980 for $65,000. They had planned to renovate it into professional office space, and applied for state

Pops To Be A Starter

The Boston Pops' September appearance here could be just the first in series of cultural events in Andover. School Committee Chairman Richard Neal said this week, if the town's "boosters of the arts" prove successful.

Neal said a citizens' committee, dubbed the "Boosters of the Arts Committee" on the school committee's agenda Tuesday night, is working to raise funds to "promote the arts in the community."

The committee hopes to bring to Andover other events as notable as the Pops appearance that is to highlight the Sept. 25 dedication of the high school's new performing arts center, he indicated.

The school committee should participate in this effort, Neal said, and he asked for volunteers to serve as liaisons to the boosters.

Robert Smith and Michael Giammusso volunteered to represent the school committee on the arts committee.

Cohens Raise Bail For Heart Fund

When former state representative Gerald Cohen of Andover and his family volunteered their time to the American Heart Association they didn't know they would be put in the slammer until they raised their bail. After all, when all were caught by the Heart Association official eating extra chocolate cream pie, what more could they expect than to be tossed into jail on May 29 at the Northshore Shopping Center in Peabody.

These jailmates, along with Mrs. Cohen's mother and father, Dorothy and Jack Becker of Peabody, Danvers Police Chief Christ Bouras, Sherry Chamberlin and Jack Burke, selectmen of Swampscott, and residents of North Shore, not only raised their respective bails, but also helped out the Heart Association when they reached $6,300 in pledges, surpassing last year's figure of $5,000.

The money raised will help support state and national heart disease research, as well as public and professional community educational programming in the area.

The Heart Association extends their appreciation to all volunteers who participated in the event and to all residents and business that supported the prisoners and the Heart Fund.

The Star Spangled Banner was originally entitled "The Defense of Fort McHenry."

Andover Girl Receives Award

The board of directors of District IV, Massachusetts Nurses Association presented a nursing scholarship to Paula Whitley, 4 Virginia Road, Andover, at their recent annual award meeting and banquet at King's Grant Inn in Danvers.

Whitley is entering her fourth year as a nursing student at the University of Connecticut, Storrs, CT, where she will receive her RN degree in May 1984. She has participated in the university hospital training program and clinics and served as a dormitory officer in her area residence. Whitley is serving in the Greater Lawrence Home Health and Nursing Associations summer program.

The Massachusetts Nursing Association is a professional organization, fostering high standards of nursing practice and promoting the educational advancement of nurses. This scholarship award is presented annually to nursing students meeting high academic standards and showing an active interest in their professional field.

Playground Policies Instituted

The Department of Community Services will begin its 1983 summer playground program Monday, June 27, with a new rainy-day policy and change in the use of the summer playground buses.

In the past playgrounds were open rain or shine. However, this year Drop-In playgrounds will be closed on rainy days. There are two exceptions:

1. Playgrounds will be open rain or shine for four planned special events: Wednesday, June 30, puppet show; Thursday, July 7, roller skating; Wednesday, July 20, Children's Museum; Wednesday, Aug. 3, Magic Castle Show; and on days that the rain begins after playgrounds have opened. Further information concerning these changes may be obtained from the playground supervisor upon registering.

2. The summer bus route that went daily from playground to playground has been eliminated. Replacing it will be an on-call bus service that will transport each playground to special events. Children who plan on attending the special events should check with their playground supervisor for the exact departure times of the trips.

Doherty Playground To Re-Open

The Department of Community Services has announced the re-opening of the Doherty summer playground. A full schedule of activities are planned, including arts and crafts, sports, games and weekly special field trips.

The Doherty playground has been closed for the past three summers while construction crews worked to renovate the elementary school into the new Doherty Junior High School.

Registration for this Drop-in playground is required. Children may sign up during playground hours, Monday-Friday, from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Tewksbury To Get More Town Water

Andover will contribute additional water to Tewksbury while our neighboring town grapples with a serious water shortage — but with some strings attached.

The town manager last week told the selectmen it would be "appropriate" for Andover to give Tewksbury more water than it is already contributing because "they do have a serious problem, and we have plenty of water at this point."

The board voted unanimously to join Lowell and Wilmington in aiding Tewksbury.

But Selectmen Chairman Gerald Silverman suggested that in turn, Tewksbury might give Andover a little more support in its quest for a Lowell Junction interchange off Route 93. Town officials believe that project stands a better chance of winning state funding if it is backed by all three towns involved — Andover, Wilmington and Tewksbury.

Manager Kenneth Mahony said he would pass that word on to Tewksbury officials.

Goals For Year To Be Discussed By Board

As they head into a new fiscal year next week — Friday, July 1, marks the start of fiscal year 1984 — the Board of Selectmen will set their goals for the coming year.

Last week, Selectmen Chairman Gerald Silverman asked the board to gather their thoughts about the next 12 months in time for their next meeting, scheduled for 7:30 Monday night at Town Hall. They will also discuss the town manager's goals for the next year.

And Norma Gammon suggested that it would be a good time to review the goals the board set a year ago, too, to "see how we did."

Valley GOP Group To Hear Anderson

Barbara Anderson, executive director of Citizens for Limited Taxation (CLT) will be the speaker at a public forum sponsored by the Merrimack Valley Republican Committee, Wednesday, June 29, at 8 p.m. at the Sheraton Rolling Green.

Her appearance before the Valley GOP group will mark the second anniversary of Proposition 2½ which CLT sponsored. Ms. Anderson will speak of the successes, failures and current plans in the ongoing battle to cap taxes and respond to questions.

Taxpayers Associations from the area have been invited to attend. To insure sufficient seating, those planning to attend should contact Alice Harris of Andover or Carol Schofield of Salem, N.H.

U.F. Aids Red Cross

The Merrimack Valley United Fund has committed $18,382 to four local American Red Cross Chapters in an effort to relieve the critical shortage of disaster relief funds. The Greater Haverhill Chapter will receive $3,264, Greater Lawrence $6,147, Greater Lowell $7,394 and Greater Newburyport $1,577.

During the past 18 months the United States has experienced an unprecedented number of natural disasters, including fires, floods, mud slides and violent storms. Local American Red Cross Chapters across the country have been there to help the victims with food, clothing, emergency shelter, medical aid and essential household furnishings. In just the last ten months the American Red Cross has brought immediate aid to 4,348 American disaster victims.

The national disaster relief fund has been depleted, including a ten million dollar reserve fund. The Merrimack Valley United Fund's contribution to the local chapters will help ease the burden on the National Red Cross.

Disasters can strike anyone at any time. No one is immune. You local United Fund is making sure the Red Cross will be there to help if a disaster hits in any of the Merrimack Valley communities.

Friday, June 17 — Theft reported from West Junior High School, 8:19 a.m.

Saturday, June 18 — Barcelos' manager reports shoplifting, 8:07 a.m.; Walter Woodburn, Shaw Rubber, reports theft of telephone, 8:15 a.m.

To Join "Up With People"

Claire Hollenbeck

Claire Hollenbeck, 18, of Andover has been accepted to Up With People, the internationally acclaimed educational and entertainment organization.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hollenbeck, 276 Highland Road, Andover, she is a recent graduate of Andover High School where she was involved in drama, peer counseling, music and athletics. After her year of travel she will attend Smith College in Northampton. Hollenbeck will report to Up With People headquarters in Tucson, Arizona, in July for a four-week orientation and staging session prior to a ten-month world tour.

Up With People was founded in 1968 on the belief that individuals could play an important role in building bridges of understanding and communication between peoples of different cultures and countries. Up With People also strives to offer its cast members an experiential learning opportunity which not only expands the intellect but matures the person.

The vehicle carrying Up With People towards its goals is a professional quality two-hour show. The performance is a sequence of international folk songs, a medley of hit tunes and Up With People's original music. The music is up-beat, celebrates the brotherhood of mankind and attempts to instill a sense of hope among members of the audience. But, there's more to Up With People than just music.

During her year with Up With People, Hollenbeck will travel more than 32,000 miles around the world, living with host families in each of the 90 or more cities her cast will visit. Host families provide lodging and some meals and an important opportunity nity for the student to learn more about the rich cultural diversity of the world.

As another part of Up With People's educational dimension, cast members regularly meet with leaders of business, industry, government and the arts to learn about and discuss issues of local, national and international significance. These experiences are supplemented by formalized learning opportunities that can earn college credit.

Each cast itself is something of a cultural classroom. Students come from more than 24 countries and represent all religions, races and economic backgrounds. All have graduated from high school and most have attended college prior to joining the program. In its 14-year history, Up With People has served more than 6,500 students from 45 countries.

Annually, Up With People receives more than 10,000 applications for only 550 new positions. Following each show in a community, local applicants are interviewed by admissions representatives from the cast. Although musical talent is an asset, it is not required for acceptance into the program. Up With People believes positive attitude, motivation, goals, ability to communicate and desire to make a positive contribution to society are particularly important traits.

More Host Families Needed

Ten additional families are needed by Passport-to-Spain to accommodate high school students from Spain who are arriving June 30. Peter R. Beaven and Jean L. Matthes, program directors, and host-family coordinator, Mary Kate Allard, announce that families in the Andover-North Andover communities who would enjoy participating in this non-profit cultural exchange program should contact the Passport-to-Spain office, 91 Main St., Andover.

These youngsters from Madrid, Bilbao, Barcelona and Valencia will spend the month of July as guest in the homes of American families in the area. They will attend morning English classes four days a week and visit Boston, the White Mountains and local beaches on afternoon excursions. The host families take part in these activities and are also given the opportunity to travel to Spain and be guests in the home of Spanish families who participated in the 1983 Passport-to-Spain student exchange program.

Brothers Attending Conference

Two brothers from Andover are attending the 15th Annual National Teenage Republican (TAR) Leadership Conference in Manassas, Va., and Washington, D.C. this week.

Erik and Garrett Day were accepted for the leadership training from applicants throughout the U.S. To be eligible, applicants must have demonstrated leadership capacity within their state or local organizations.

Erik, 17, was elected state chairman of Massachusetts TARS at their 1982 state convention in Worcester. He previously served as vice chairman and as a local organizer and campaign worker. At this week's conference he has been nominated for Outstanding TAR of the Year award for his contributions to TARS and efforts on behalf of Republican candidates, especially President Ronald Reagan.

The youngest teenager accepted for participation in the conference, Garrett, 13, is state chairman of Massachusetts Sub-Teenage Republicans (STARS) of which he has been a member for several years.

During the week-long conference, participants meet with national Republican party leaders, visit the Senate and House of Representatives, attend seminars on the political and legislative processes and attend special receptions at the White House and on Capital Hill.

Erik, a graduate of Tilton School, Tilton, N.H., and Garrett, a student at Doherty Junior High School, reside at 11 Heather Drive with their mother, Louise Hart.

The first textbook printed in America was Thomas Dilworth's "A New Guide to the English Tongue," printed in 1747 in Philadelphia.

Chevalier Degree Conferred

D. Geoffrey Stafford

The International Supreme Council of the Order of DeMolay designated D. Geoffrey Stafford to receive the Degree of Chevalier in recognition of his work on behalf of the order of DeMolay at its annual session in San Antonio, TX.

Stafford is an '83 graduate of Phillips Academy, a three-year member in the order and a past master councilor of Essex Chapter in Methuen. An investiture will be held at John Hancock Masonic Temple, 275 Broadway, Methuen, Saturday, June 25, at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

DeMolay is a fraternal order of young men between the ages of 13 and 21. Essex Chapter is hosted by John Hancock Lodge and sponsored by St. Mathews of Andover, Cochichewick of North Andover and Tuscan-Phenecian and Grecian of Lawrence.

Stafford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Stafford of Andover.

Two Named College Trustees

The Hon. Urvile J. Beaumont, Salem, N.H., 01202901 Special Justice to the Salem, N.H. District Court, and Dr. A. Lucille Palubinskas of Winchester, Tufts University professor of psychology and education department chairman, have been named to the board of trustees at Merrimack College, it was announced recently by Merrimack College President Rev. John E. Deegan, O.S.A.

In welcoming them to the board of trustees, President Deegan commented, "Judge Beaumont has continued the family tradition of service to the Merrimack Valley. The college will definitely be the beneficiary of his judicial expertise and community involvement. Dr. Palubinskas' wide range of experience in educational matters and college governance will bring forth an added dimension to the board's membership."

Special justice to the Salem, N.H. District Court since 1974, Beaumont is a senior partner in the firm of Romprey, Beaumont and Mason Professional Association of Salem, N.H. He is president of the Bon Secours-Lawrence General Joint Hospital Corporation and secretary of the N.H. Judges Associations' board of governors.

Elected Academy Trustee

David M. Underwood '54 of Houston TX, has been elected a charter trustee of Phillips Academy, Andover. Underwood is vice chairman of the board of Underwood, Neuhaus & Co., Inc., an investment banking firm in Houston, and president of the Feliciana Corporation. Andover, established 205 years ago during the American Revolution, is an independent, coeducational boarding school, committed to academic excellence and diversity in its student body.

As one of Andover's 12 charter trustees, Underwood will replace John U. Monroe '30, Lawrence Durgin Professor of Writing at Tougaloo College in Jackson, Miss. Monroe becomes a trustee emeritus. Underwood will be the first Texan on the trustee board since George Bush '42 resigned to enter presidential and vice presidential campaigning in 1979.

During Underwood's Andover years he was a member of Student Congress and graduated in 1954. He received the B.A. degree from Yale in 1958 and served in the U.S. Army 1958-60, seeing active duty again in 1961-62. He was a member of the Army Reserve, attaining the rank of captain.

Underwood has been a key figure for Andover for admissions and alumni activities in the Houston area and was an alumni trustee nominee in 1979. His support for major fund campaigns goes back to the Andover Program 1958-60 through the Bicentennial Campaign to its current campaign for the Addison Gallery. During the Bicentennial Campaign he was a member of the steering and national committees and was area chairman for solicitation of gifts.

The new Andover charter trustee is a governor of the National Association of Securities Dealers (NASD). He is a director of the InterFirst Bank Fannin and a member of the Houston Society of Financial Analysts. He is a director of the Texas Medical Center, Inc., a trustee of the Fondren Foundation and the Methodist Hospital and chairman of the board of trustees of the Kincaid School. He and his wife, Lynda Knapp Underwood, have three children: David, Jr., 17; Catherine F., 15, and Duncan K., 12.

On Dean's List

Janice E. Sillars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Sillars, 20 Enmore St., Andover, has been named to the Dean's List for the Spring 1983 semester at new Hampshire College in Manchester, N.H.

To be eligible for this honor, a student must compile an academic grade point average of 3.0-3.5.

Sillars is majoring in the four-year Management Advisory Services program.

Concert, Barbecue

The 17th annual St. John's Hospital "Music on the Merrimack" Band Concert and Barbecue will be held Tuesday, June 28.

The band concert begins at 7:30 p.m.

The co-sponsors are the employees of St. John's Hospital. Booths will be decorated by the departments in charge and a prize will be given for the booth decorated in the most unique and colorful motif.

Admission is free. Rain date is June 29.

Before January and February were introduced into the calendar, the Roman year had only 10 months.

Summer Programs At Library

Memorial Hall Library and the Ballardvale Branch will conduct two summer reading programs for school-aged children.

"Where the Rainbow Ends," a program which promises a rewarding place where children can enrich their imaginative lives while broadening their reading skills, begins next week in the Children's Room at Memorial Hall Library. Each child will choose a rainbow chart on which to record their reading progress and certificates will be presented at the end of the program to all who have completed one or more charts.

Other summer activities in the Children's Room include preschool story hours beginning the week of July 4, weekly full-length feature films chosen with children ages 7-12 in mind, and a "made-and-do" program on each Monday of crafts and activities for 6-12 year olds.

"Pssst what is Black and White and READ all Over?" is the Ballardvale Branch Library's summer reading program. A weekly contest, as well as a summer-long contest to see how many books can be read between July 7 to August 25, are included in the A to Zebra program which will conclude with an award party on Thursday, Sept. 1. The Branch Library is open Mondays and Thursdays from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

For more information, contact the Children's Room or the Ballardvale Branch or stop by for a program brochure at both locations.

Leaving With A Love For Kindergarteners After 25 Years

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Not long ago one of Betty Romeo's little charges asked her, "Didn't you ever get out of kindergarten, Mrs. Romeo?" She laughs. "I never did. I never wanted anything else."

Mrs. Romeo will retire this week after teaching kindergarten at the Bancroft School since the school opened 15 years ago; before that, she taught kindergarten at the Sanborn School for three years.

A former Andover resident (she and her husband, the late Edward Romeo, lived on Summer Street for many years) who now lives in Lawrence, she has also taught kindergarten in East Islip, Long Island, N.Y. for five years, and nursery school in "various places," including Andover, Annapolis, Md., and Patchogue, N.Y.

"I've always enjoyed children," she explains. She is gray-haired and energetic, with a brisk manner. "When I was younger I used to help out in a kindergarten, and I just decided I wanted to do it."

She prefers teaching kindergarten to nursery school because kindergarten students are "a little older, a little more independent, and working more with the skills they're going to be using later on, plus social skills."

Mrs. Romeo teaches two groups of students. Each group meets for half a day (switching from mornings to afternoons at mid-year) in Bancroft's cheerful kindergarten loft, decorated with a bright assortment of posters and drawings and well-stocked with games and toys.

"We emphasize social skills," the teacher explains, "getting along, sharing, respect, and academic readiness skills like readiness for reading, stressing visual clues and listening."

And, she adds, it is "very important" that children begin their school careers with a positive self-image. "We try to make each child feel good about themselves. Some are afraid to do things, afraid to try. I tell them it's okay to make mistakes — I make them myself."

The children of the eighties are "more worldly" than children she has known in the past, Mrs. Romeo notes. "They travel more, they know more. But developmentally," she adds, "they're still about the same. They have television and all those fancy games, but they still have to learn to catch a ball, to share with each other, to share the teacher with the rest of the class, to do all those other things."

Young children learn best with real hands-on activities: "If they can feel it, it helps them to learn it and remember it later on." So her students learn to count by playing with blocks, learn to write by tracing characters in salt with their fingers. They play "oodles of games" to develop their audio, visual and fine motor skills, and climb over a jungle gym to help develop their large motor skills.

"We do so many interesting things," Mrs. Romeo says, smiling. Each day includes a "language period" when the group works on pre-reading skills, a "rhythm period" when they sing or play the drums, artwork, snack time ("very important"), and a "free choice" period.

Her challenge is to keep up with the energy-charged youngsters without getting worn out: "I don't stay up late at night, I'll tell you that!" she admits.

Mrs. Romeo sees many changes in her students between September and June, she says. "They learn to listen and to share. They become very adaptable — if there's a substitute teacher, they don't crumble because I'm not here. And they do learn to become very good little independent workers."

By spring, the children can quietly find a game to play or an art project to work on during free choice time, she explains, something they're not capable of at the beginning of the year, when they need constant direction.

Although she isn't wild about the paperwork her job requires ("Report cards are a big necessity, but I really don't enjoy that part of it"), Mrs. Romeo says there is "nothing in the teaching part of it that I dislike at all. At this age the children are very natural, very open, very creative, and this is what I enjoy."

And she believes her students enjoy her, too. "I think they feel good about me. I don't have discipline problems — it's a very

Gymnastics Schools At Y.M.C.A.

The Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. will conduct two gymnastics schools this summer, under the direction of Nancy LaRue and Andrea Haefling.

A mini-gym school for youth 4-6 years old who want to learn tumbling and other basic gymnastics skills will meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings from 10:15 a.m. to 12 noon. Other equipment includes bars, vault, ropes and balance beams. Each day's class concludes with a recreational swim. Enrollment may be for one or more weeks.

The youth gymnastic school for grades 1-9, with or without prior gymnastics experience, will be held for seven one-week sessions. Training will include instruction in floor exercise, balance beam, vaulting, uneven bars, parallel bars, rings, ropes and tumbling. Each day's training concludes with a recreational swim or open workout in the gym. Enrollment may be for one or more weeks. Classes meet the first week Tuesday through Friday and the following six weeks on Mondays through Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Registrations are being accepted at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A., 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

will continue for six weeks until August 19. Each week will offer a different special topic centering around arts and crafts, music, language and outside activities. Science will be a hands-on experience for each child as the areas of curriculum are presented.

Regular school sessions have just concluded. The Steering Committee announces the hiring of June Meckel and Diane Silveira to teach the summer program. Meckel, who has been a staff teacher for the past three years in the four-year-old classroom, recently completed courses at Merrimack College and Northern Essex Community College which qualify her as a head teacher with the Office for Children.

Silveira graduated with honors from the Early Childhood Associates Degree Program at Northern Essex Community College this May. She was a student teacher in the three-year-old classroom in the Spring of '82 and was noted for her reliability, creativeness and professionalism. She completed orientation held in June.

Pat Dixon, Betsey Cornell and Mary Mooney will assist in the activities each day to round out the staff. Dixon has been on staff for four years and will continue to work each day coordinating the daily routine in each classroom. Cornell and Mooney will help and play with the children. Both girls are students at Andover High School.

There are a few openings for all six weeks. Contact Lorna McIntyre for registration.

Williston

Northampton

Two Andover students were graduated from the Williston Northampton School, and independent co-ed preparatory school in Easthampton.

Karen S. Whitaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dion S. Whitaker, was presented the Henry E. Donais, Jr. Award, given to the senior who has taken in interest in the protection and preservation of the world's environmental resources. Previously she had been inducted into the Quill and Scroll Society which honors students in the top third of their class who have done superior work on a school publication. She plans to join an ecology expedition with the National Audubon Society.

Linda P. Weiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Edward F. Weiner, 41 West Parish Drive, will attend the University of Denver in the fall.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

Recent consumer protection laws protect consumers against those who may have greater financial leverage or more technical knowledge. If you are dissatisfied with goods or services that you have purchased or feel that you have not been treated fairly in a consumer transaction, a lawyer familiar with consumer law may be helpful. ## Rent-A-Teen Program Is Offered

The Department of Community Services is offering a new service to all Andover teens called "Rent-A-Teen," geared towards junior high and high school students.

The objective of the program is to give the teens of Andover an opportunity to become involved with the community and to provide them with working experience. This plan supplies a wide variety of jobs ranging from mowing lawns and weeding to babysitting and housecleaning.

The newly proposed Rent-A-Teen program will not only benefit the teens but residents who are searching for responsible teens to perform household chores and odd jobs.

Anyone interested in either working or hiring ment of Community Services.

Concert Series Begins

Mary Karl

The Department of Community Services summer concerts in Central Park begin Wednesday, June 29, at 7 p.m. with the sound of the big band era.

Mary Karl and her big band have appeared in evening dinner clubs, hotels, ballrooms, summer and winter resorts, city and town concerts and recording studios.

Karl's background consists of shows and musical appearances in Hollywood, New York, and Boston and a television program in Boston called "The Seiberling Song Shop," featuring her as hostess and vocalist.

Mary Karl was featured with many successful entertainers such as Ben Blue, Ken Murray, protégé with Ted Mack, Sammy Davis, Jr., etc. She performed with some of the all time great musicians such as Bobby Hackett, Edmund Hall, Arnett Cobb, Herb Hall, Jim Rushing, Benny Morton, Herman Audrey, Barret Deems, Joe Venuti, Dick Johnson and Phil Wilson.

On July 6 showtunes and marches will be featured in Central Park. The first of two concerts at Pumps Pond will be held Sunday, June 26, at 2 p.m.

Lawrence Organist In Concert

Russell Freeman will give an organ recital at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall Wednesday, June 29, at 8:30 p.m.

A native of Lawrence, Freeman now resides in Milwaukee, Wisc., where he is artistic director of the Bach Chamber Choir and Orchestra and director of music at Grand Avenue Congregational Church. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in organ performance and church music from the University of Louisville, KY, and has studied organ with Geraint Jones and Harald Rohlig. Last year Freeman was a prize winner in the Strader Organ competition of the University of Cincinnati.

For his recital program, Freeman has chosen Prelude and Fugue in b minor, BWV 544, Johann Sebastian Bach; Prelude, fugue and variation, Cesar Franck; Prelude and Fugue on the name ALAIN, Maurice Durufle; Toccata Uber die Weise "es sungen drei Engel," Hend Friedrich Micheelsen; Three Psalm-Preludes, op. 32, Herbert Howells; Prelude and Fugue on B-A-C-H, Franz Liszt.

The property on the north bank of the Spicket River adjacent to the Music Hall has been associated with organs for many years. Early in the 19th century, a wooden building was erected on the site and used as a cotton mill. Edward F. Searles purchased the building around 1890 and remodeled it to house the Methuen Organ Company. Organs of exceptional materials and workmanship were manufactured there under the sponsorship of Searles and the direction of James E. Treat.

In 1897 the organ originally built for the Boston Music Hall was purchased by Searles. It had been in storage since 1884 when the instrument had been removed from the Boston Music Hall to provide additional stage space for the Boston Symphony Orchestra. The organ was brought to Methuen and stored in a brick barn which still exists at the rear of the Music Hall property. The instrument was rebuilt in the wooden factory building and later transferred to the present brick hall which Searles had especially constructed. Following his death in 1920, the wooden building remained idle until title to the property was acquired by the organ builder, Ernest M. Skinner. Once again the building became the scene of the construction of pipe organs. The organ factory building was destroyed by a fire on June 16, 1943. Fortunately, the brick hall and the organ were not damaged.

The Music Hall is located on Broadway (Route 28) in Methuen.

The next recital will be Wednesday, July 6, with Brian Jones, organist, and Andrew Gorden, pianist.

Mozart is said to have composed, written down, rehearsed and performed within five days his Linz Symphony.

Appointed Pike Trustees

Mrs. Marshall L. Field, chairman of The Pike School board of trustees, announced the appointment at the May meeting of two new trustees to serve three-year terms at the area day school. New board members are James Derderian of Methuen and Mrs. Samuel S. Rogers of North Andover. Leaving the board are Georgetown resident John J. Riordan who has completed two consecutive three-year terms and Andover resident Mrs. William Laverack who has served the board for four years.

Derderian is the founder and owner of Merrimack Valley Wood Products in Methuen and owner of the 1200 Beacon Street Motel and 1180 Beacon Medical Building in Brookline. Active in The Pike School parent association for many years, Derderian is the father of two children in the school.

Mrs. Rogers is the parent of four Pike School graduates and has a deep knowledge of and commitment to the school. She is a graduate of St. Agnes School in Loudonville, N.Y., and Pine Manor College. Mrs. Rogers is a founding director of the Andover Committee for a Better Chance and the Christ Church Professional Nursery for the Handicapped, a director of Trustees of Reservations and overseer and volunteer for the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. The Pike School, established in 1926, is an independent day school which enrolls more than 380 students from 35 local communities.

Elected Vice Pres. Of Firm

George S. Coburn

Coburn is a Certified Public Accountant in Massachusetts with a bachelor of science degree in accounting from Bentley College. He served as a member of the Financial Accounting Standards Board, Task Force on Specialized Principles for the Real Estate Industry, and is a member of the Massachusetts Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Coburn and his wife, Joanne, and their two children, Rachel and Jay, reside in Andover. They are active members of South Church where Coburn serves as a deacon. He is the son of the late Frank S. Coburn and Rachel P. Coburn, formerly of Melrose, now residing in Sandwich.

Builders Honor Channel

George S. Coburn, 2nd has been elected a senior vice president of The Forum Corporation, a leading supplier of sales, management, supervisory, functional and career development training programs and services. Coburn was previously vice president of finance and administration and chief financial officer. He served briefly as vice president of finance and chief financial officer of Bouverie Properties, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of the National Coal Board.

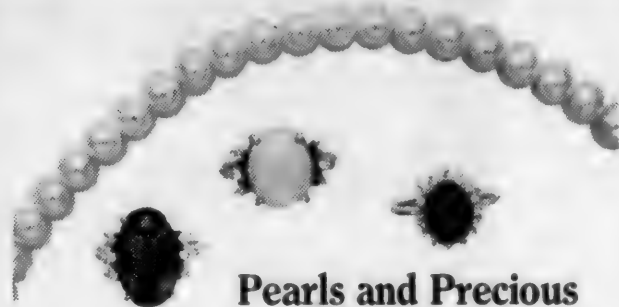

From 1973-80 Coburn served as vice president and comptroller and chief accounting officer to The Equitable Life Mortgage Realty Investors, a Boston-based real estate investment trust. He also served for one year as an internal auditor for Pneumo Corporation and for four years as a senior accountant for Price Waterhouse & Co.

Channel Building Company, Inc., Musgrove Building, 2 Elm Square, Andover, was recently honored by the Metal Building Dealers Association for its design and construction of a building for Terra-Light in Danvers.

The Metal Building Dealers Association conducts an annual competition for the Building of the Year. The awards are judged on the basis of attractiveness, cost efficiency, unique features and energy efficiency. Channel Building Company, Inc. received the 1982 Award of Merit in the industrial category. The honor was based on its design and construction of a building for Terra-Light, a manufacturer of solar absorber panels.

The building utilizes a building system of Butler Manufacturing Company. Butler, based in Kansas City, MO, is the world's largest manufacturer of pre-engineered metal building systems. Channel Building is one of more than 750 Butler Builders.

Games called "baseball" were mentioned in English publications as early as 1744.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Harb

Harb-Tarbox

Gretchen A. Tarbox, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tarbox of 18 Cutler Road, Andover, was married to Thomas M. Harb, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harb of 39 Oak Meadow Lane, Methuen, on May 28 at West Parish Church, Andover.

The Reverend Graham Ward officiated at the six o'clock ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her parents.

Darlene Trombly was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Charlene Yourke, Kathy Peterson, both sisters of the bride, Mrs. Glen Roth, and Margaret Moon.

David Harb, brother of the groom, was best man.

The bride, a graduate of the University of Massachusetts, Amherst, is employed by Compugraphic Corporation, Wilmington. Her husband, a graduate of Salem State College, is employed by the U.S. Postal Service, Woburn.

Following a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico, the couple is residing in Lawrence.

Ushers were Richard Harb, brother of the groom, Jim Sheehy, Janusz Lopatto, and Gene Lewandowski.

A reception was held at the Pelham Inn, Pelham, N.H.

Women's Support Group Forms

The Greater Lawrence YWCA is forming a second discussion-support group for women seeking employment outside the home or contemplating a job change.

This group will help women share mutual concerns, discuss common problems related to job hunting and set up resume and interview workshops.

The first meeting will be held Wednesday, June 29, from noon to 1 p.m. The evening group will meet again Thursday, June 30, at 7:30.

Participation is open to all. No registration is necessary.

Roberta A. Borruso

September Wedding Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Borruso, 6 Osgood St., Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Roberta Anne, to Bruce Robert MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. MacDonald of Lawrence.

Miss Borruso is a graduate of Andover High School and is employed by Bard Implants of Billerica.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Lawrence High School, is employed by DeMoulas Supermarkets.

A September 10 wedding is planned.

Nearly three years after launching its Elderly Housing Program, the National Alliance of Postal and Federal Employees (NAPFE) recently broke ground on its first project — the Chattanooga NAPFE Elderly Housing Complex.

Chapter AB delegates Mrs. David Batson and Mrs. Arthur Adami from Andover attended the 43 annual convention of the Massachusetts Chapters of the P.E.O. Sisterhood at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Worcester on June 10 and 11. State president Mrs. R.M. Johnson of Holden presided.

The convention was hosted by Chapter N, Worcester, and Chapter AG, Springfield. Joan Bradshaw, organizer of the International Chapter, was the speaker.

The P.E.O. Sisterhood owns and operates Cotley College in Nevada, Missouri, a fully accredited two-year college for women. The Sisterhood has more than 200,000 members whose primary concern is further education for women. There are four educational philanthropies—Cotley Junior College, The Educational Fund, The International Peace Scholarship and The Continuing Education Program. This year there are nine graduate students at universities and colleges in Massachusetts. Foreign students must return to their homeland to apply their knowledge.

Mrs. Patsy Schippers of Chapter AK was elected president of the Massachusetts State Chapter for 1983-84.

A summer lacrosse camp for girls will be held from Aug. 8-19 at the Pingree School, 537 Highland St., South Hamilton. Coached by the co-captains of the 1982 University of Massachusetts NCAA Division I championship Team, the camp will offer one-week programs for beginning and advanced players.

The camp will include drill sessions, chalk talks on strategy, films, guest speakers, game play and a mini-tournament. Trophies will be awarded for individual improvement and abili-

Holy Jennings, junior varsity coach at Pingree, and Marge Anderson, head coach at the Glen Urquhart School in Beverly, will lead the camp.

Stagemobile

"Have Stage—Will Travel" is the motto of the Boston Children's Theatre's "Stagemobile," which will perform weekdays beginning July 4 through August 19. This year's productions are "Pinocchio" and an original musical play, "The Flying Boy," written by George Giglio with music by Aural Fixation. The "Stagemobile" is a truck which opens into a 10'x20' stage, making it possible to perform for children in parks and playgrounds within an 80-mile radius of Boston.

For more information, write or call the Boston Children's Theatre, 124 Holland Road, Brookline, MA 02146.

Gottfried-Byrne

Maureen Ellen Byrne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Byrne, 37 West Parish Drive, Andover, wed Michael Ross Gottfried, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Gottfried of New Rochelle, N.Y., June 4 in Goddard Chapel, Tufts University, Medford.

The Rev. Jon Martin and Rabbi Ben Rudavsky officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Kathleen Byrne and Sheila Bryne were maids of honor; Eileen Commene, JoDee Crompton and Sarah Farrell, bridesmaids.

Richard Gottfried and Robert Lansing were best men; Francis Byrne, Jr., Kevin Byrne, and Jeffrey Sternklar, ushers.

After a reception at the Andover Country Club, the couple left for Martha's Vineyard. They will reside in Washington, D.C.

The bride graduated from the College of the Holy Cross and is a legislative director in the Washington office of Congressman Charles Rose (D-NC).

The groom graduated from Tufts University and the National Law Center at George Washington University, Washington, D.C. He has joined the law firm of Thompson, Hine and Flory, Washington, D.C.

The couple will leave for a wedding trip to Ireland and England in August.

Mrs. Michael R. Gottfried

Hurlin-Gubbio

Nora Gubbio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lugo Gubbio, Ozieri, Sardinia, Italy, wed James Hurlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Hurlin, 29 Linda Road, Andover, in Ozier on April 23.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an heirloom wedding gown of ivory silk and lace, handmade for her grandmother near the turn of the century.

Viola Gubbio was maid of honor for her sister. William Hurlin, brother of the groom, was best man and Giuseppe Gubbio, Lugino Gubbio, Stefano Gubbio, Alfredo Gubbio and Bruno Gubbio, all brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

The bride was graduated from Ozieri University and her husband graduated Phillips Academy and Hamilton College, New York. The couple met while working with the Peace Corps in Buganda, Africa.

After a honeymoon trip to the United States, the couple returned to Buganda to continue their work with the Peace Corps.

Equifest

Combined training, known as the "ultimate challenge to horse and rider," will be the focus of two separate three-day equestrian events, scheduled for the week-end of June 24 and July 1 at Groton House Farm in Ipswich as part of Equifest '83. The 10-day festival of the horse will benefit Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine.

Derived from military trials to evaluate the ideal cavalry horse, combined training's combination of disciplines—dressage, cross-country and stadium jumping—tests the agility, obedience, speed, stamina and courage of the horse and the skill of the rider.

The dressage phase, consisting of a prescribed set of figures and movements, requires precision, grace and brilliance.

The cross-country test of speed and endurance demands the maximum effort of horse and rider requiring them to gallop over natural terrain and negotiate a variety of imposing obstacles.

The third phase, stadium jumping, requires the horse to jump a show course cleanly and within a time limit and is designed to show the fitness of the horse to continue after the grueling endurance phase.

Bible School Leaders Announced

The Andover Baptist Church invites area residents of all ages to Vacation Bible School from June 27-July 1.

"The Sunshine Patch, Growing God's Way" is the theme for this year's Bible School, featuring challenging Bible studies, useful crafts, fun-filled games, projects, music, snacks and recreation. The entire program from nursery through adult class is planned so that everyone can learn to grow God's way as they share the summer experience of working, playing, loving and learning together.

Karlene Thompson, Bible School registrar, will hold a pre-registration session in the church vestry on Saturday, June 25, from 10 a.m. until noon. Registration forms will also be available at the Andover Baptist Church Bazaar booth in front of Macartney's during Andover's Sidewalk Bazaar Days, June 24 and 25. Latecomers can register any morning at 9:15 a.m. during the school session.

Leading the school under the general leadership of Jean Greenwood are: Karlene Thompson, Jan Natalino, Kierin Givens, nursery; Sue Williams, Ginny Corkery, Wendy Williams, Amy Heartquist and Sandy Tupper, pre-kindergarten; Ann MacDonald and Giny MacDonald, grades 1 and 2; Caroline Dagley, Susan Greenwood, grades 3 and 4; Louise Stevenson, grades 5 and 6; Rev. Reginald MacDonald, Jim Wood, Landy Dagley and Wesley Shattuck, youth; Jean Greenwood, adults-women; Robin Abbott, Carol Clarke and Marion Clark, music; Carol Clarke, Jill Vickers and Faye Moyer, crafts.

Youth classes for grades 7-12 will meet at 7 p.m., but all other classes will meet from 9:15 a.m. to noon. There is no registration fee, but there will be a free will offering taken during the daily opening exercises for the school's missionary project, "Blouses for Jamaica."

Musical Presentation At Church

The Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist, United Church of Christ) will mark the fifth Sunday of Pentecost at its 9:30 a.m. service in Shaw Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Faye McCready, organist at the First United Methodist Church, Winchester, KY, and Kathryn Drydyk, cellist with the Lexington, KY, Philharmonic Orchestra, will offer several piano/cello duets during the serving. Their prelude will be "Arisos" by Bach and their offertory will be Chopin's "Adagio." Mrs. McCready is the mother of Margaret Cornell, wife of the pastor, who is visiting the Cornells with her friend.

"The more a man possesses over and above what he uses, the more care-worn he becomes." — George Bernard Shaw.

The Spirit-Song Dance Choir, under the direction of Mrs. Cynthia Hollenbeck, will interpret the Lord's Prayer.

A time of refreshments and fellowship will follow the service. A class for younger children is held at the same time as the Sunday service.

Rub a small amount of salad oil on the inside of a cast iron skillet or dutch oven to keep it seasoned. Place paper towels between such pans before storing.

Installed

Rev. Graham L.N. Ward, shown here with his wife, Margaret and children, Nathan and Emily, was recently installed as pastor of West Parish church. Prior to the installation, a formal examination was conducted by an ecclesiastical council attended by delegates and ministers of the Andover Association of the Massachusetts Conference, United Church of Christ. A dinner was also held to welcome Rev. Ward and his family to Andover. Rev. Ward comes to West Parish from Quebec where he served six of his 20 years in the ministry. A graduate of Harvard Divinity School, he has served congregations in Colorado, Wisconsin, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Canada.

Evening Service Concludes

The concluding formal evening service for the season took place Friday, June 17, at Temple Emanuel of Merrimack Valley, 1010 West Forest St., Lowell.

Following the installation of new Temple board members, Rabbi Everett Gendler led the congregation in a celebration of the summer with the familiar Sun Wheel in attendance.

Ida Rae Hirsch performed Berlioz "Nuit d'Ete." Nancy Rovin accompanied at the piano.

Summer services will be held July 8, 29 and August 19. Everyone planning to attend should plan to bring refreshments to share at the Oneg Shabbat.

Elected Corporation President

Paul W. Cronin, chairman of Sunsav, Inc., a diversified manufacturing and marketing concern headquartered in Lawrence, has announced the election of R. Nicholas Loope, A.I.A., as president and chief executive officer of Highline Products Corporation and Polycrete Products Corporation.

Both companies, subsidiaries of Sunsav, Inc., are located in Old Saybrook, CT, and are engaged in the manufacture of structural and decorative fiber reinforced plastics for the utility industry. Highline has manufacturing arrangements in Ohio and recently opened a new manufacturing division in Ireland.

Loope joins Sunsav, Inc., after serving as chief operating officer for a manufacturing division of ASARCO, Inc. He is a registered architect and serves as chairman of the Solar Energy Industries Trade Association. His academic background includes an undergraduate degree in Engineering from the University of Maryland, a Master's degree in Environmental Design from Yale University and completion of the Harvard Business School's P.M.D. program.

Loope will also serve on the board of directors of Sunsav, Inc.

Summer Production Planned

In response to the demand for musical theatre in the area, the North Reading Theatre Workshop, Inc. has announced the addition of a summer production of "Man of La Mancha" to its up-coming schedule. Directed and produced by Paul D. Greene of Andover, the musical will be presented Friday and Saturday, Aug. 5 and 6, at 8 p.m. in the Daniel Shay Auditorium at North Reading High School. "Man of La Mancha" is the story of Miguel de Cervantes, who attempts to clear himself of criminal charges by performing before a jury as Don Quixote, the "Man of La Mancha." This show within a show introduced Sancho, Quixote's faithful manservant; Aldonza, a harsh serving girl later turned visionary and idealist; and a host of townspeople, muleteers and clergy. The musical score include "Dulcinea," the haunting desperation of "Aldonza" and, of course, "The Impossible Dream," which has become a musical symbol of far reaching hopes and aspirations.

For ticket information or for information regarding the NRTW's fall production of "Hello, Dolly," contact the Greenses, 24 Haverhill St., North Reading.

Riverfest is a Success

Riverfest '83 celebrated the Merrimack River, the various activities it offers, and the many local people who are doing their part to make it cleaner. The event was sponsored by the Andover Village Improvement Society and the Merrimack Valley Watershed Council. Photos clockwise from upper left: John Bennett, of Andover, took first place in the kayak race; Katherine Abbot Wells, formerly of Andover, blows up balloons for the Bellevilleport Neighborhood Association; The banner for the M.V.W.C. flies above the crowd; The canoe race starts off; John Daly, 11 Rose Glen Drive, holds up a 7 lb. carp he caught in the river; Peter Larson, 53 Birch Road, examines sine books offered by Alan French, of Moor and Mountain; Brian Morrill of the Merrimack Valley Arts League sketches a portrait of Heather Pomeroy, 101 Holt Road.

MERRIMACK RIVER WATERSHED COUNCIL

Custodial Supervisor Appointed

The School Committee approved the resignations of six school employees Tuesday night, including those of a program advisor and two teachers, and the appointment of a supervisor of custodians, a new position.

During a regular meeting at Shawsheen School Tuesday, the committee approved the resignation of Daniel Leclerc, social studies program advisor, who will accept another position. He has been an advisor since September, 1981, and the committee expressed regret at his leaving.

They approved the appointment of Andover High School social studies head teacher Patricia Dye as the new social studies program advisor, at an annual salary rate of $30,300.

The committee also accepted the resignations of Anne Kirk, Doherty Junior High moderate special needs class teacher since Sept. 1977, who is relocating; and Ann Marie Maida, an elementary teacher since April, 1975, who will accept other employment.

And they accepted the resignations of Elizabeth McCallum, a junior programmer/analyst, and Maureen Wood, a noon-hour supervisor.

Edward Ernst of Ayer was appointed supervisor of custodians, effective July 6, at an annual salary of $22,838. Ernst, who has worked in Ayer public schools for 13 years, will head a new custodial management system approved by the committee last month. He was chosen from 43 candidates who applied for the position.

Ruby Easton was reappointed coordinator of Project Discovery, a school-year position, at $17,366.

A number of aides were also reappointed for the 1983-84 school year:

At the high school: instructional aides R. Ren, M. Ryden, M. Sullivan, A. Wermers, C. Doyle and P. Jardine. Doherty Junior High: instructional aides N. Lasch, S. Batchelder, S. Dietzel, C. DiFrancia and B. Ziegenbein. At West Junior High: instructional aides B. Deacon, C. Dymek, H. Stratton, N. Asgerisson, S. Heller and R. Wight, and teacher aide E. Turton.

At Bancroft: instructional aides A. Wiehe, E. Bell, N. James, L. Kolodny, N. Munn, J. Vondell, L. Lounsbury, M. Kiley, N. Hevehan and N. Asgerisson. At Sanborn, instructional aides C. Boucher, D. Driscoll, R. Lucey, J. Meier, M. Torrisi, and R. Harrigan. At South: instructional aides C. D'Amore, L. Romito, R. Hempstead, B. Hardcastle, C. Chakarian, C. Hmielowski, and V. Tacy. At West Elementary: instructional aides C. Hill, G. Schulz, M. Craig, E. Retelle, V. Friesse, B. Potvin, M. Cunningham, C. Miller, E. LaMagna, B. Ziegenbein, J. Normandy, and teachers aide L. Minkkinen.

The committee also approved several appointments for the 1983-84 school year under federal grants. Under a Chapter I reading grant, Aline Rubin was appointed a .4 time reading teacher; Pamela Apgar, Margaret Hughes, Patricia King, and Kathleen Salvi, instructional aides; and Shirley Zappala, a secretary.

Joan Ruggiero was appointed to the resource room and Ilene Spiro, a school adjustment counselor, under a federally funded Title I mental health services grant.

Under a federally funded Title VI-B grant, special needs services, Joan Ruggiero was appointed to the resource room; Gerald Schimmel, moderate special needs; Mary Aram, learning disabilities teacher/tutor; Donna Perlowski, learning disabilities teacher/tutor; Ruth Trepanier, perceptually handicapped self-contained class; Debra DeCosta, speech and hearing; Virginia Greeley, early childhood; Eleanor Merz, school adjustment counselor; and Wendy Palmer, school adjustment counselor.

Michael Marcoux was appointed child search and identification specialist, at $19,500 for a 215 day work year, effective July 1. That position will be funded under a Department of Social Services contract.

And Betty Boudreau was appointed to the self-contained perceptually handicapped class, and Virginia Greeley, speech therapist, under a LEA incentive grant.

Two tenured teachers were placed on involuntary unpaid leaves of absence effective Sept. 1, for the recall period until the first school day in September, 1986, as provided under the collective bargaining agreement: they are Patricia Hildebrandt and Hilary Waldinger.

The following aides are scheduled for layoffs, effective June 24, to be placed on a recall list for one year, as provided under the collective bargaining agreement: instructional aides Nancy Gabriel, Marilyn Gigliotti, Mary Hinchey, and Judith Malakoff; and teacher aides Nancy Arndt, Emelie Becker, Carol Derby, Dorothea Hawley, Barbara Kearn, Kathleen Kelly, Kathleen Lahiff, Margaret LaTorre, Carol MacKay, Ruth McQuade, Winnifred Moore, and Alice Neaves. Special needs instructional aides Cheryl Francis and Elizabeth O'Connor will be hired under the Greater Lawrence Educational Collaborative.

Mary Halbach, secretary to the principal at Doherty Junior High, was granted an unpaid leave of absence for Aug. 29 through an approximate date of Jan. 15, 1984, for personal reasons. She has been employed by the school department since August, 1968.

And in a correction of action taken earlier this month, the committee noted that Linda Isaacs has been elected to tenure to a four-tenths time position as a German teacher, not a two-tenths time position.

Did History Project Out Of Necessity And Won Top Prize

By Sue Aucella Deacon

He did it because he had to: It was a required class project, and not even in his favorite subject. But Carlos Gonzales' class project took him all the way to a national competition last week, and he came home with a top prize.

Carlos, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Gonzales of Haverhill Street, won third prize in the junior media category of the 1983 National History Day Competition, held June 15 through June 18 at the University of Maryland. He is this state's first and only winner in the national competition.

The Doherty Junior High eighth-grader (who isn't sure what his favorite subject is, but leans toward science and algebra) bested 75 contestants in his category with his slide show on the War of 1812, earning an impressive medal and a $200 prize.

Carlos' ten-minute slide presentation, which he presented to the School Committee Tuesday night, coordinates about 50 slides of maps, portraits and engravings with music that includes marching songs, fife and drums, sailors' chants and Indian battle cries. And in a taped narration Carlos tells the story of the war with England that led America to its industrial revolution and a new sense of patriotism (and gave birth to our national anthem as well).

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert called the clear and lively presentation "the best interpretation of the War of 1812 that I've seen." The committee offered Carlos their congratulations, and handshakes all around.

Carlos chose the War of 1812 for his project after reading about it in his textbook. "I have this habit of reading ahead," he explains, "and it just looked interesting."

After rounding up a stack of books on the war ("I had to make sure I had well-rounded information"), Carlos wrote a script, which was reviewed by his social studies and English teachers. Then he selected "a long list" of colorful pictures from books to illustrate his script, using a school copy stand to photograph them for his slides.

Carlos had to do "a lot of cutting" to make his script fit the ten-minute limit, and he did it reluctantly: "I had to leave out a lot of good parts."

After he completed his history project — which got an A — Carlos "didn't expect it to go any further," he says. But he became one of 16 Andover finalists in a Merrimack Valley regional competition held March 16 — and then won the Massachusetts History Day Competition on April 30. That made him the state representative to the national competition.

Students from grades six through twelve participated in National History Day, beginning with local and state competitions held across the country. This year, more than 1,300 competed, representing 39 states and the District of Columbia. Entries included papers, projects, performances and media presentations, all focused on the theme "Turning Points in History: People, Places, Ideas and Events."

Officials in the state competition advised Carlos to improve his project for the national competition by adding music and making it completely automatic. (Taping music on professional sound equipment at Phillips Academy turned out to be the most difficult part of the whole project, he says.)

He arrived at the university last Wednesday, one of 57 Massachusetts delegates. The delegation included five West Junior High students as well — James O'Brien, Michael Coco, Jon Pedecino, Robert Thompson and Steve Kang — who were state winners in the group performance category.

Carlos' father was also part of the group, along with social studies program advisor Daniel Leclerc. WJH social studies teacher Mary Sipsey, and parents Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Coco and Mr. and Mrs. James O'Brien.

The next four days were "crowded and full — there were a lot of people from the entire country. And hot," Carlos says. He had to walk a bit of a distance from his dorm room to the competition lugging heavy equipment, which he didn't enjoy. And he was "a little nervous."

"I knew there were a few errors and flaws in the show, and I knew where they were," he explains. "So it gets a little edgy when it's nearing the flaws — you don't want people to notice."

After making his presentation Thursday,

Carlos Gonzales

Carlos was named one of eight finalists who competed in a run-off Friday night. Things got a little hairy, LeClerc told the school committee, when the second slide got stuck. But Carlos, "a very cool person, very relaxed," stayed calmed and lost only 45 seconds in correcting the problem, and went only 30 seconds over his time limit.

Carlos never expected to win a prize, he says. "There were a lot of people, and some of them were really good." He believes his presentation won over some flashier entries because the judges (college and university faculty, secondary school teachers, and historians from government agencies and the Smithsonian Institution) "went more into the content. They weren't looking for the fanciest slide tape, but at the script, what you're actually saying."

On Saturday, the judges awarded him the third-prize medal and $200 cash prize. (Carlos' social science teacher, Louis Eiserman of Doherty Junior High, was also honored, awarded a year's membership to the Organization of American Historians, the American Historical Society and the National Council for the Social Studies.)

The medal is sure to become a treasured memento, but what will Carlos do with his prize money? Andover's resident expert on the War of 1812 isn't sure — "not yet."

Townsmen Receives Awards

The Andover Townsman was honored by the Massachusetts Press Association with the presentation of awards in the Best Editorial Page and Community Service categories of its annual newspaper contest.

The association, composed of weekly and small daily newspapers from throughout the Commonwealth, held its annual dinner and awards presentation at the Red Tavern, Methuen, last Friday night.

Judges for the annual contest, who are members of the Journalism School faculty at Suffolk University, cited editorial pages from last year's editions for content and appearance in choosing the Townsman for the best editorial page award.

The Community Service award was presented for the Townsman's presentation of the state representative contest last fall. Each week from August through to the final election in November, the newspaper offered the candidates a forum to present their views to the electorate. In the period between the primary and final election, the Townsman presented specific questions for the candidates to discuss.

During the annual business meeting, Robert E. Finneran, editor of the Townsman, was re-elected president of the association. He will be joined by Vin Igo of the Foxboro Reporter as vice president; Malcolm Barach, chairman of the Journalism Department, Suffolk University, executive secretary and Larz Nielson, Wilmington Town Crier publisher, treasurer.

Rollins Turns On Cable TV

Rollins Cablevision turned on its antenna last Thursday afternoon and about one to two per cent of the town is now receiving the service, according to a company spokesman.

Over the next eight to ten weeks, those who have subscribed to the service and have had pre-installation work done, will be receiving full service.

David Murphy of Andover, who is overseeing the installation, reported this week that Rollins has installed the wiring throughout the town, with only a few streets in the community yet to be completed.

In addition, the company has been doing pre-installation work, in other words bringing the wire from the street to individual homes. This permits technicians to make the final installation, placing the receiving box and giving instructions to service subscribers. This latter work is now underway and is expected to take eight to ten weeks to complete.

The antenna for reception of programming to be offered subscribers is located on Boston Hill, North Andover.

An Always Dangerous Street

Selectmen a week ago reviewed concerns about North Main Street, a thoroughfare which can best be described as dangerous from beginning to end.

Their concerns were prompted by a fatal accident that occurred on a rainy night a short time ago near the Christian Science Church.

As could be anticipated whenever such tragedies have occurred on the street there were any number of suggestions as to what should be done to make the street safer.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony had the most succinct comment during the discussion when he noted that he could see nothing in the way of improvements or measures to make the street any safer than it already is.

If we were to examine the street from beginning to end, it would be easy to determine there is little more that can be done to insure safety on the street, other than the motorists and pedestrians who use the thoroughfare to be more cautious and aware of its dangers.

Emphasizing the need for more attentiveness to potential hazards along North Main Street's path is the fact that in the case of at least three tragic accidents in recent years, none of the drivers have been charged with motor vehicle violations.

The street begins with the town's central business section, where there is considerable traffic, parking, and pedestrian movement during the day. It proceeds through Elm Square, renovated in recent months, but still a confusing mess to residents and visitors alike.

Coming down the hill, motorists are faced with businesses where there are frequent entrance and exit by motorists and pedestrians crossing in front of these areas. This is followed by the public safety center, where there often is entrance into the street by emergency vehicles. Also in this area is the street leading to and from the town yards with those vehicles making access to the main thoroughfare at intervals throughout the day.

An access off Railroad Street often finds motorists jutting out into the roadway in precarious positions.

The Harding, Stevens street intersection offers another danger point, relieved somewhat in recent months by the removal of the no right turn on red provisions.

Things don't get any easier from here on down the road, as one passes small businesses with considerable traffic activity, ultimately facing the entrance and exit to the plaza where passage at times can only be comparable to playing Dodgems in an amusement park ride.

From there on a tree shaded boulevard by day becomes a hazardous passageway at nightfall as lights shade the darkened roadway, until one reaches heavily trafficked Shawsheen Square.

North Main Street's path is outlined, with its various potential hazards, purely as a reminder, since for the most part, those using the street do so on an almost daily basis.

In other words, we all tend to get complacent about our daily travels, failing to recognize dangers purely on the basis of travelling by rote, if that be possible.

Thus, while an examination of possible safety measures may be helpful, it would appear to be more in order for motorists and pedestrians alike to adopt a personal proceed with caution attitude as they travel this particular street.

For example, a posted 40 mile per hour limit in some sections of the road doesn't mandate that one proceed at that pace, but to proceed according to road conditions.

Awareness of the street's potential and attentiveness to its hazards, can be the first and most important step toward making North Main Street a safer thoroughfare for motorists and pedestrians alike.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — June 1908

Next Sunday morning the pastor of the South church will speak of the character and services of the late President Cleveland.

Oscar L. Stevens of Elm street attended the reunion of the class of '94, Harvard University this week.

Several members of the Andover Natural History Society attended the meeting of the Historical Societies of Essex County, which was held at the Essex Institute, Salem, Saturday. The local Society left on the 7.23 a.m. electric for North Reading taking the steam train through for Salem.

Buffalo Bill's Wild West will exhibit at Lowell, Mass., July 8, Lawrence, Mass., July 9, Haverhill, Mass., July 10. Buffalo Bill travels with the exhibit, personally directs the performances and participates in some of the big Indian battles, enacting in one instance the role he originally created, in 1869, at the Battle of Summit Springs.

50 Years Ago — June 1933

A trust fund of $600 was established for the Andover Guild and $251.27 was donated to the summer playgrounds as the final acts of the Andover Chamber of Commerce last Monday evening. A number of members attended the meeting held at the National bank, which had as its object the formal dissolution of the Chamber and the disposal of its funds. The Chamber has not been active since 1927.

A class of 60 was graduated from Punchard high school last evening in the annual commencement exercises held in town hall. The theme of the honor essays was "America," with David Nicoll as salutorian delivering his address on "America at War," Mary Barnard as second honor essayist speaking on "America's Debt to Her Foreign Born," Dorothy Mears as first honors essayist speaking on "A Century of Progress," and Miss Agnes Gallagher, valedictorian, concluding with "As Others See Us."

The day is past when cherry tree offenses are excusable, and accordingly, Tuesday night seven young lads from seven to sixteen years of age were taken to the police station where they were locked up for a while and then lectured by Sgt. Leonard Saunders. The police are planning an intensive campaign against fruit-stealing in the night time.

25 Years Ago — June 1958

Telephone users in Andover will use the dial system, starting at 3:01 a.m., Sunday, Aug. 17. William Chicoine, manager of the telephone company office, this week announced the new date — some weeks ahead of the original September deadline. The new system will give Andover the code name of "GReenleaf" and a series of five numbers to dial.

The town will provide kindergarten transportation, to and from school, for all public schools and St. Augustine's parochial school. The School Committee reversed an earlier decision which had come under fire from parents in the South school district.

The first graduating class from Andover High School, numbering 116, received diplomas last Friday night. It was the 99th annual public school commencement, but the first to take place in a public high school not named after Benjamin Punchard.

Deputy Fire Chief John Cole, responding to an alarm Friday at the home of George Lybrand, 52 Shawsheen road, narrowly escaped death when he entered a room from which all the oxygen had been burned. Taken to the Lawrence General Hospital, Cole was discharged after treatment.

10 Years Ago — June 1973

The School Committee Monday night, with only John Wragg dissenting, approved administrative reorganization of the School department. Major realignment involves elimination of the position of personnel manager and creation of two assistant superintendents, one for secondary education, another for elementary schools.

Work commenced this week on the new professional building at Haverhill and High streets. The building, to be occupied by 18 physicians and surgeons offering a range of specialties, is expected to be ready for occupancy in nine to ten months. A building permit for the new structure for which town meeting rezoned the area in March, 1972, was obtained last week. Estimated cost of the structure is $931,139.

For Those of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

In celebration of another happy, helpful year, the participants in Andover's Friendly Visitor Program enjoyed the annual tea party at the home of director Gwen Smith last week. So many have comforted others through the simple act of companionship and so many have been comforted, it is indeed a tremendously worthwhile program. Why don't you call Gwen Smith at the senior center and learn how you can be a part of the experience?

This week marks the end of the hot lunch program for the school year. But, not to worry. Meals-on-Wheels will continue uninterrupted, and starting July 6 there will be a daily hot lunch program at Doherty Junior High, continuing until August 12. It is important for you to note that the time will be 12 noon each day. Reservations are to be made by 9:30 a.m. each morning of the day you plan to attend by calling the senior center. Lunch is still 50 cents.

The Sidewalk Bazaar, coming up this Friday and Saturday, helps significantly in support of The Haven. The proceeds of the table manned by Andover's senior citizens all go to the work of the senior center. Your help is needed. Can you volunteer some time to man the table? Can you bake something for them to sell? Can you make something for them to sell? If your answer is yes to any of these questions, call the center right now and let them know.

Pot luck luncheon is coming up July 1 at The Haven. It'll be fun and such good eating! Andover's best cooks participate, you know. Call The Haven now and let them know you want to join in the fun and bring something. If you want to come, but can't bring any food, you can come any way if you contribute $3 toward the cost of your meal. In either case, you must let them know you plan to be there.

One of the lovely events planned for this summer is a trip to Fuller Gardens July 19. You'll have lunch at Pirate's Cove in Rye, N.H., and then travel on to a veritable sea of beautiful flowers. And all for $15. But, you need to sign up now.

Next week the first of the summer classes begin at The Haven, but there is still room in many of them for you. Why not call the center and ask. Such a lovely summer you can have, learning new skills, surrounded by dear friends, in air-conditioned comfort. Call right now!

Would you believe that tickets to the "Friends of Lawrence Welk Show" at the North Shore Theater are going fast? Date is September 9, but get yours now.

The only president to serve two non-consecutive terms was Cleveland.

Disney Classic Will Open Film Series

Cinderella will be the first of a series of eight family feature-length movies at Central Park. Cinderella will begin at dusk Monday, June 27, where everyone's favorite rag-to-riches story will be brought to life with lilting music, beautiful artwork and a supporting cast of unforgettable characters romping through one memorable moment after another.

The film series includes: Bambi (July 11); Robin Hood (July 18); Benji (July 25); The Great Muppet Caper (Aug. 1); No Deposit, No Return (Aug. 8); Close Encounters (Aug. 15) and Superman (Aug. 22).

An Elmer Fudd cartoon short will run prior to the showing of Cinderella. In the event of rain, scheduled movies will be shown on Tuesday evening.

Nature Camp

Massachusetts Audubon Society is offering a summer camp program for children at its wildlife sanctuary in Topsfield: Young Explorers (for children entering grades 1 and 2) July 4-15; Sanctuary Sleuth (for children entering grades 3 and 4) July 18-29; Indian Summer (for children entering grades 4 and 5) Aug. 1-12; Adventurer (for children entering grades 6 and 7) Aug. 15-26.

All sessions are from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. For a complete brochure, write or call the Endicott Regional Center, 346

Grapevine Road, Wenham, MA 01984.

Wonderful Experience

Mr. David Solomont
Academy Manor Nursing Home

I would like to thank you on behalf of the sixth grade students and staff for the wonderful experience.

We understand how much the elderly residents enjoyed it, due to our own appreciation for the program.

I know that I was pleased with the chance to talk to and share things with people who were once children. I learned a few things about the 1920s that I never knew.

The sixth grade here usually spends time with the younger grades, but the Manor opened new doors for us. This year we spent time with the elderly instead; a totally new experience for us. I think that the program was also a big help to us who don't have a grandparent or grandparents.

Last, but not least, thanks for the wonderful television! Unexpected by everyone, it was a real delight.

Maybe we will have a similar program with the Manor at the junior high, but even if we don't I know a few (including myself) who intend to keep visiting the residents throughout this summer.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

DEA shirking its duties in marijuana warBy Jack Anderson
and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — Agriculture experts say that domestic marijuana is now one of the largest cash crops in the United States. And with the enormous profits that can be made from growing pot, big-time criminals are moving in.

State and local law enforcement sources have told us that big-time dealers are trying to corner the illegal market, and the police want help from the federal government to combat the problem.

But the Drug Enforcement Administration denies that there is a problem. Acting administrator Francis Mullen Jr. has gone so far as to call the marijuana growers mere moonshiners, lumberjacks and hillbillies who raise a little pot on the side.

Our sources, however, have provided us with overwhelming evidence that sophisticated, organized criminals are taking over the domestic marijuana market.

Why is the Drug Enforcement Administration hiding its head in the sand? Our sources believe the agency simply doesn't want to be charged with solving the problem. It is a responsibility and an expense that the DEA would rather not be saddled with.

Meanwhile, the illegal trade in domestically grown marijuana continues to grow.

HIGH-TECH WAR: The United States won World War II, when the battle cry was "Remember Pearl Harbor." Now, the United States is engaged in a different kind of war with Japan. The two nations are battling for supremacy over high technology, and some economists are saying the battle cry ought to be "Remember Detroit."

The key to the high-technology war is the computer. The good news is that American computers and related technology are still the best in the world. The bad news is that the Japanese are gaining fast in the production of both hardware and software. States one congressional report: "U.S. firms do not retain the technological advantages of 10 years ago in semiconductors or computers."

Many of the experts we have talked to, however, believe this is one crucial battle the United States will win. Congress will pressure Tokyo to play by the rules of the marketplace and make it hot for the Japanese if they attempt — as they have in the past — to steal technological secrets.

The Japanese, many experts believe, will agree to police their high-tech industry rather than risk trade retaliation.

There is talk on Capitol Hill, also, that Congress will ease antitrust laws and other restraints on high-technology industries to help the United States win the high-tech war.

TO FUND OR NOT TO FUND?: The Marxist government in Nicaragua is under siege by U.S.-backed rebels who are attacking on three sides. The rebels' objective is to seize a stretch of lowland inside Nicaragua and turn it into a base for landing aircraft and launching a major assault.

Recently, several of the rebel leaders came to Washington in search of more financial support from the United States. A decision whether to continue funding the war will be made first in the House of Representatives, probably late this month. Our sources believe the lawmakers will vote to cut off covert aid to the rebels.

The Senate will have to support the House vote to make it binding. But the debate will drag on in the Senate for some time. Eventually, our sources believe, the Senate will vote to support the rebels.

EXECUTIVE MEMO: The Federal Bureau of Investigation is buggy. The G-men are not under electronic surveillance that threatens to reveal law enforcement secrets. But FBI employees have complained to us about the large number of roaches and assorted rodents that have invaded the new J. Edgar Hoover building. As could be expected, an FBI press spokesman denied that the bureau has a bug problem.

— The General Services

Administration recently asked computer companies to bid on rights to operate a new computer store the agency plans to establish. The company that gets the contract could be selling as many as a million computers to the government between now and 1990. Understandably, 300 companies requested information about the contract.

FUTURE FILE: It's no secret that the future will bring a demand for many high-technology positions. But there will also be a boom in service industry jobs. In the next 10 years, the need for janitors, clerks and cashiers will increase sharply.

— Our sources say that a congressional committee will charge that companies under investigation for faulty nuclear power plant equipment have often been tipped off in advance. The committee will identify the culprit as the Nuclear Regulatory Commission — the agency which is supposed to police the nuclear industry.

— Senior officials of the Bureau of Land Management of the Interior Department will be found to own stock in western energy companies that are affected by their decisions.

— President Reagan's plans for space warfare have caused an uproar in Washington and the issue will spark a major congressional debate on whether space should be used only for peaceful purposes.

Kitchen Design

David A. Clement,

Nothing clutters up counterspace faster than the cutting and slicing associated with salad preparation. One ingenious method for dealing with this messy task is to provide a square cut-out in the counter top. A butcher block cutting board can fit securely over the cut-out so as to provide a cutting surface. Scraps and crumbs can then be disposed of by lifting the cutting board and dumping them into a plastic waste bin that lies beneath the cut-out. The bin can be easily disguised with a drawer front. When the drawer is opened, the bin can be removed for easy disposal.

These days one of the most practical reasons for improving your kitchen is to save energy by making the room easier to work in. WINDSOR KITCHENS invites you to bring any remodeling problems to us. We are confident we can design and install a kitchen to accommodate any space or shape. We're located on Rte. 125 in Ward Hill 1/2 mile north of Western Electric and our phone is 372-3444. We're open for your convenience Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri 9-8, Sat 9-4, evenings by appt.

Babe Ruth Gold Team Stays In Pennant Race On Pitching

By Rick Harrison

Strong pitching continued to play a major part in the Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team's 1983 season as the two-time defending Greater-Lawrence League champions remained in the thick of the pennant race by winning two of three games this past week.

Gold erased an early 3-0 deficit enroute to a 5-3 victory over North Andover behind the strong hurling of Kevin Rourke, then once again battled a pesky South Lawrence East crew into extra innings before pulling out a 2-1 triumph with Chris Colsia pitching the distance.

Gold continued to have its problems with South Lawrence West, however, two swings of the bat accounting for five SLW runs as that club edged Andover Gold for the second time this season 6-4.

Those results left Gold at 4-2 in the league and 5-2 overall, one game behind first place South Lawrence West.

Gold aced a tough third week with games against Andover Blue, North Andover and South Lawrence West, and next week the team is scheduled to make its 13th annual trip to Montreal, Canada, where it will play several games against Canadian youth teams (Gold is 39-14 overall in Montreal).

Andover Gold, 5-3

North Andover, which has now lost 11 of its last 12 games against AG, started like a house afire in the bottom of the first inning at Grogan's Field.

Jim Cavanaugh drew a one-out walk off complete-game winning pitcher Kevin Rourke (1-0), Bob McCabe slapped a two-out single to rightfield, Mike Clancy walked to load the bases and Rich Blinn drilled a three-run double to left-centerfield.

Rourke settled down to pitch a superb game thereafter, blanking North Andover on three singles over the final six innings. Kevin walked just one more batter, struck out 12, set the side down in order four times and retired the final seven hitters he faced without letting a ball out of the infield.

The Gold started its comeback in the top of the third, Scott Wallace leading things off with a walk. Leo Gravell's infield grounder was misplayed, both runners being safe, and then Rourke advanced them into scoring position with a perfect sacrifice bunt.

Wallace scored the first run on a wild pitch by NA started Paul Bernardin, and then Mark Doherty beat out an infield single with Gravell forced to hold at third base.

Chris Colsia's sharp single to rightfield plated the second run and Doherty came across with the tying tally when Larry Aiello's grounder was booted for the second error of the inning.

Andover Gold won it with a pair of runs in the fourth. Kurt Burzlaff smacked a leadoff single, Rick Lafond walked, Gravell bunted them along and consecutive singles by Rourke and Shane Smith provided the eventual winning and insurance runs.

Rich Blinn worked the last three innings for North Andover and, while Gold had baserunners in every frame, it couldn't increase the lead.

NA's only other threat against Rourke came in the fifth when Chris Abel and McCabe spanked back-to-back two-out singles. Kevin whiffed the next batter to escape the jam.

Mark Doherty played a solid defensive game at third base, while Scott Wallace had a nice catch in rightfield.

Gold had one of its better hitting days against North Andover, lacing seven safeties, as Colsia went 2-for-4 and Scott Deery contributed a long triple.

Andover Gold, 2-1

South Lawrence East continued to give Andover Gold trouble, taking the locals to eight innings for the second time in as many games.

Gold was able to pull out a 5-2 victory at Mark Devlin Field earlier this season while this 2-1 squeaker was accomplished at Phillips Academy.

Chris Colsia (2-0) pitched his second strong game of the season as he worked on a no-hitter for five innings and settled for a five-hitter with three strikeouts. He didn't walk a batter (two walks in 16 innings) and the lone run against him was unearned.

Diminutive Steve Brien baffled Gold with an

Auction

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane announced that unclaimed property worth an estimated $8,000 will be auctioned in Gardner Auditorium at the State House on June 28 at 10 a.m.

The auction, open to the public, is being held to comply with Massachusetts Unclaimed Property Law which requires that the contents of safe deposit boxes which have been inactive for seven years be turned over to the treasury. If the rightful owners are not located the contents are auctioned. Proceeds are invested in the state's General Fund where they earn interest and benefit all residents and taxpayers of Massachusetts.

Crane said the items come from safe deposit boxes, the contents of which have been abandoned by their owners and turned over to the state. Included are gold, silver, diamonds, jewelry, watches, rare coins and other collectibles.

Specific items include a U.S. plaque of 18 Booker T. Washington (1946-57) and 12 Washington Carver (1951-54) commemorative coins in mint condition, a 1900 U.S. gold piece, a ladies' platinum solitaire ring, a compass case with gold watch chain and a portable ashtray.

The articles can be inspected on June 21 at Worcester State College in Worcester; June 23 at Cape Cod Community College in West Barnstable; and June 27 at Gardner Auditorium. Showings will be conducted from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day.

Yankees 8 - Tigers 3

The Yankees came back from a 3-0 deficit to overtake the Tigers 8-3. The Tigers jumped to the lead in the first inning when Paul Salafia singled in Ian O'Neil who had doubled to lead off the game. The lead increased to 3-0 when Doug Howes and Steve Howes scored on double steals. The Yankees came back with three runs in the fourth inning with a walk and singles by Craig DerAnanian, Josh Malitsky and Pat Breen. The Yankees took the lead in the fifth inning with two walks and doubles by David Jaye and one by David Hughes, his first hit in the major league, with the bases loaded. The final two runs were scored by combining another double by Davis Jaye, a single by Bob Lowry and three consecutive walks.

Defensively, Steve Liaw played a fine game at third base while Lowry played well at first base. Doug Howes played a strong game at first base and made one outstanding play, robbing a Yankee player of a base hit. Michael Hein took away another base hit at second base. Pat Breen went the distance for the Yankees, giving up three runs on only four hits while striking out 10 hitters. O'Neil pitched outstanding ball for three innings before giving up the runs in later innings. George Bilger came in to get the final out of the game.

assortment of slow serves, tossing a four-hitter, fanning three and walking two. He kept the Gold batters off balance most of the night.

AG had baserunners in every inning, but didn't break through for its first run until the bottom of the fifth.

Larry Aiello drew a leadoff walk, stole second, took third on Kevin Henderson's fine sacrifice bunt and scored when Leo Gravell laid down a perfect suicide squeeze bunt.

Colsia, who faced just 16 batters in the first five frames, lost the no-hitter when Dave Fielding opened the sixth by dumping a soft liner to shallow leftfield for a basehit.

Colsia was still working on a one-hitter through 6-1/3 innings, but with one down in the top of the seventh Dave Wilson singled, stole second, took third on an infield hit and scored on a delayed double steal when the catcher's throw sailed into centerfield.

East squandered a golden opportunity to win the ballgame at this point, when a suicide squeeze bunt was hit too hard and the runner was thrown out at the plate.

SLE singled twice more in the eighth as Colsia understandably started to tire, but Shane Smith threw out Fielding attempting to steal.

Rick Lafond led off the bottom of the eighth with a solid single to rightfield and Leo Gravell immediately bunted him to second base. The runners were safe at first and third on Kevin Rourke's fielder's choice grounder, Lafond eluding the tag at third, and then Colsia won his own game with an infield single to third base.

Mike Lane and Shane Smith contributed singles for AG, while defensive standouts were Mark Doherty at shortstop, Earl Abdo at third base and Colsia on the mound. That trio combined for six putouts and nine assists.

SLW, 6-4

South Lawrence West, which nipped Gold 1-0 the first time around, constructed a 6-0 lead by the third inning and then held on as AG came back with four runs and also left 10 baserunners stranded at Mt. Vernon Park.

AG, which had surrendered only 10 runs in its previous six games, outhit West 10-6 and played errorless ball for the third time this season.

SLW jumped to a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the first when Ron Drouin slapped a leadoff double to the opposite field, Bill Buckley singled, Bob Farrington drew a walk to load the bases and Dave Blanchette ripped a three-run double to left-centerfield.

The final three runs, and the only other threat mounted by opportunistic South Lawrence West, came in the third. Drouin and winning pitcher Bill Blackwell walked, Farrington drilled a two-run triple to right-centerfield and Blanchette rescued Farrington with a sacrifice fly to left.

Gold had baserunners in every inning against

Blackwell, who struggled the whole way, but hung tough and helped himself by walking none.

The first run came in the fourth on singles by Mike Lane, Kevin Rourke and Larry Aiello (RBI), cutting the gap to 6-1.

In the fifth Leo Gravell reached on an error, took third on Kurt Burzlaff's opposite-field single and scored when Lane spanked his second single to leftfield.

Gold almost tied it in the sixth. Rick Lafond singled, Earl Abdo ripped an RBI double, Mark Doherty was safe on an infield error and Chris Colsia laced an RBI single to make it 6-4.

Colsia stole second, putting the tying runs in scoring position with two down, but Blackwell fanned the next batter to escape the jam.

Lafond reached on a two-out error and moved all the way to third base in the Gold seventh, but again Blackwell worked free with the tying run at the plate.

With the exception of two bad pitches, Mark Doherty hurled a strong 5-2/3 innings of relief for gold. Her permitted four hits, struck out six and walked four.

Mike Lane went 3-for-4 and Doherty grounded a hustle double down the leftfield line for Gold whose defensive standouts included Gravell at second base, Earl Abdo at third and Rourke who played centerfield shortstop and catcher at different times in the contest.

Andover Blue Catches Fire

The Andover Blue Babe Ruth team won two games this past week, highlighted by fine pitching performances by Rob Carpentier and John Nuzzo against So. Lawrence West and Andover Gold.

Andover, which has had excellent pitching all season, finally managed to get its offense going against the league-leading So. Lawrence West team, collecting 10 hits. They were able to muster seven singles against the Gold which were concentrated into two innings to produce four runs.

Andover 9 - So. Lawrence West 2

Andover Blue exploded for six runs in the second inning and never looked back, coasting home to a 9-2 win over previously unbeaten SLW on a fine complete-game pitching performance by Rob Carpentier.

Steve Rikeman started it off in the second with a one out walk and scored on Jeff Penner's two-out triple. John Nuzzo followed with a single to rightfield plating Penner. Rob DiTroia singled and Ted Cormier loaded the bases with a walk. Nick Lembo responded by knocking a sharp single to center for two runs, then took third as Carpentier reached first on an error. Jeff Smith rescued Lembo with a single to right, but the inning ended with Carpentier being cut down trying for third.

SLW got back one run in their half of the second, but the Blue countered with two more in the third when Rikeman singled and was sacrificed to second by Matt Shine. Penner singled in Rikeman and subsequently stole second. With two outs he scored on DiTroia's long single. Following a Cormier walk, SLW's pitcher got the next batter to pop out. Blue finished their scoring in the fifth when Nuzzo singled, stole two bases and came in on a passed ball.

SLW got another in the fifth to make it 9-2, but Carpentier was just too much for them allowing no more runs.

DiTroia finished the night 3-for-3 with a walk while Nuzzo and Penner were 2-for-3. Carpentier was helped in the field by fine defense from Jeff Smith and Nick Lembo as well as a fine effort behind the plate by Ted Cormier.

Andover Blue 4 - Andover Gold 0

John Nuzzo pitched a three-hit shutout in leading the Blue to a 4-0 victory over the Gold. He struck out four and walked three in going the full seven innings.

The Blue did all their scoring in two innings. In the third Brian Gibson got things started with a single to right and was moved along to second by a Steve Rikeman sacrifice bunt. Consecutive singles by Rob DiTroia and Rob Carpentier plated the Blue's first run and an out later, Jeff Penner drove in DiTroia with a single.

While Nuzzo was solidly cruising along with steady help from the defense, the Blue offense pushes across two insurance runs in the sixth. He helped his own cause by ripping a line drive single to lead off, then stole second and third and scored on a wild pitch after a Ted Cormier walk. Jeff Smith knocked in the final run with a single up the middle.

Scott Deery pitched well for the Gold while Chris Colsia played fine defense and Kevin Rourke had a double.

Billy O'Brien and Matt Shine played in right field for the Blues.

the Orioles to an 11-9 victory over the Red Sox.

The Orioles opened the game with two runs in the first; Hugh Maginnis walked, Knight doubled, sending Maginnis to third, and Pat Kelley doubled, scoring Maginnis and Knight.

The Red Sox countered with five runs in their turn at bat. Dan Fay singled, Jeremy Gibson walked and a pair of fielder's choices erased one runner. Consecutive singles by Paul Lembo, David Milne and Robbie Stoltz produced runs.

Mark Leinson took over the Orioles' pitching chores and proceeded to put out the fire. His teammates rallied in the second to score five runs, giving him his first major league victory. A series of base-on-balls loaded the bases for David Carriere, who doubled home two runs. Knight followed with a double to score two more and Mike Smith singled in the final run of the frame.

Brett Hammond (save) relieved Leinson and Tyler Vadeboncoeur bull-penned for the Sox' Milne. Maginnis and Kelley each had two hits to support Knight's three. Defensively, Carriere made a great play at third to throw out a runner and a Mike D'Angelo-Smith-Knight relay from right field nailed a Red Sox runner at the plate. Centerfielder Wade Ward made a nice running grab of an Oriole hit.

White Sox 28 - Indians 0

The White Sox couldn't do anything wrong in this 28-0 win over the Indians. Robbie Labell's 3-for-4 and Paul DeMarco's 4-for-4 paced the White Sox attack. Andy Peck was the winning pitcher.

White Sox 7 - Yankees 7

The White Sox and Yankees played to a 7-7 tie in a game halted after seven innings. The game will have to be resumed at a later date. Michael DiStefano paced the White Sox with two hits and three RBIs while Pat Breen led the Yankees with 4-for-5 and scored three runs.

White Sox 5 - Tigers 1

The White Sox scored single runs in the first and fourth innings and three runs in the fifth to down the Tigers 5-1. Mark Shwetz pitched three fine innings for the White Sox and Chris Eggert finished the game, striking out nine. The White Sox stopped the Tiger's scoring threats when Robbie Labell and Jonathan Shine combined defensively to throw out a Tigers' runner stealing third. Shine, again, took a throw from Andy Peck in centerfield to catch another runner going to third. Jose Guerra led the Tigers with two long doubles.

White Sox 14 - Twins 9

The White Sox, led by Peter Kannam with 4-for-4 and three runs scored, beat the Twins 14-9. Paul DeMarco also had two hits while Chris Eggert and Mark Shwetz shared the pitching duties.

Chris Lane and Peter Radulski both had three hits to lead the Tigers' attack.

White Sox 9 - Indians 3

The White Sox came up with their third win over the Indians 9-3. The White Sox scored six runs in the first inning giving them all the runs they needed. Peter Kannam, Michael DiStefano and Andy Peck led the White Sox attack with two hits each while Chris Eggert and Peck shared the pitching duties.

Billy Haley made the catch of the game in right field robbing Matt Pothier of a hit. Pothier, Jamie Spinelli and John Glynn led the Indians with two hits each.

Dodgers 6 - Cardinals 3

Matt Adams supplied the pitching and Eric Guzowski the power to give the Dodgers an upset win. Guzowski hit a drive to left which easily cleared the fence. Adams, Glenn Farnham and Pat Finn each added two hits. Jon Malden made some key defensive stops at third base. The Cardinals' offense was led by Phil Romano, a season-long .500 hitter. The loss was only the second for the Cardinals in the second half.

Mets 16 - Braves 13

The Braves took advantage of Mets' wildness and several infield miscues to jump to an 11-6 lead in the top of the fifth. However, the never-quit Mets used a combination of walks and singles to score ten runs in the fifth as a trio of Braves' pitchers could not stop the rally. Mets' sticklers were Andy Shea with three hits, including his second homer; Mike Troy with his second home run and a double; and Mark Angelos and Jeff Lazzarino, two hits each. Bo Wilmer notched his second win in relief. Glen Driscoll had two safeties and Brendan McGrail and Eddie Chaisson shined defensively for the Braves.

Pirates 6 - Cubs 1

The ever-improving Pirates upset the contending Cubs behind a route-going win by star Curt Solo-

Lamb Named

When a black and white lamb, traditionally a sign of spring, was born during the second week of February at Macomber Fram, a 46-acre home for domestic animals on loan from farms all over New England, the staff looked to the public for help in naming it.

Owned and operated by the Mass SPCA, the farm contains exhibits, computer games, hands-on demonstrations, special events, recreational facilities, refreshments, a gift shop, picnic tables and more.

Almost 800 suggestions on what to name the lamb pourin in from all over New England, many of them from elementary school classes. But the entry that captured the judges' hearts was sent in by 12-year-old Laurie Prussman of Pelham, N.H. "I think a good name for the lamb would be Oreo," wrote the seventh grader at Pelham Memorial School.

Laurie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Prussman, claims a passion for all animals, especially horses. Her room is packed with horse memorabilia, and she "wants a horse more than anything in the whole world." or "do anything having to do with animals."

When she grows up, Laurie says she would like to be a veterinarian.

mon. Hitting stars were Dana Orlando with three safeties and rookie Jeff Hurley with a key RBI. Matt Dufresne earned defensive honors. The loss was only the second of the second half for Neil Hendry's charges.

Cardinals 10 - Mets 6

Catcher Barry Connors clubbed two three-run homers to power Bill Russell's charges over the Mets. This crucial game decided the champ of the first half, as both teams finished at 8 wins-2 losses. It also tightened the second half race with three teams now tied in the loss column. Trailing 3-0 the Mets parlayed hits by Andy Shea, Mike Troy and Jeff Lazzarino, a hit batsman and an error to tie the tilt. But the Cards had big innings in the third and fifth, powered by the bats of Brett Raftery, Phil Romano and Connors. Sean Gill in his first appearance in leftfield frustrated the Mets with three fine catches. Ace Mark Russell pitched well, fanning 11 and allowing only four hits.

Cubs 7 - Braves 5

Trailing by four runs to the ever-improving Braves, the Cubs rallied to push across six late runs and stay in contention for the second-half title. Leading the offense were Jim Hendry, John Russell and Tim Hagerty, each with a pair of singles. Tad Lee, in relief of Sean Darwin, shut down the pesky Braves over the final three frames. For the hard-luck Braves, Brendan McGrail and Glen Driscoll continued their season-long fine play with two safeties each. Driscoll was the mound loser, but pitched well.

Pirates 2 - Braves 0

The Pirates recorded victory four of the second half behind a masterful six-inning shutout by Scott Lanouette. Leading the offense was Jeff Hurley, an impressive 10 year old. Jeff Manning pitched well for the Braves, once again in a losing cause.

Yankees 10 - Orioles 3

The Yankees came back from a 1-0 deficit after the first inning to post a 10-3 victory over the Orioles. The Orioles took the lead with consecutive walks to Craig Knight and Michael Smith and a double by Pat Kelly. They Yankees came right back with two hit batsmen a walk, a single by Josh Malitsky and a double by Pat Breen. In the third inning they used a walk and singles by David Jaye and David Hughes to produce two more runs and broke it open in the fourth innings with singles by Sean Bergan, Steve Liaw and Malitsky to go along with a couple of walks and a few errors. The Orioles finished the scoring with two runs in the sixth inning on a double by Brett Hammond.

Defensively, David Hughes, Craig DerAnanian and Sean Bergan all made fine plays in the outfield for the Yankees. Michael Smith played well at second and Eric Hammond made a nice catch in centerfield for the Orioles. Yankee pitcher Pat Hayes picked up his first win of the year and Malitsky combined to give up only two hits while striking out eight batters. Hugh Maginnis went the distance for the Orioles giving up eight hits while striking out eight hitters.

Completes Training

Airman Michael C. Kelsall, son of William S. Kelsall, RR 2, Gillett, Pa., and Carolyn M. Butler, 45 Royal Crest Drive, North Andover, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, TX.

The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

Completion of this training earned the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Kelsall is a 1982 graduate of Troy Senior High School, Pa.

Standex Earnings Increase

Standex International Corporation (NYSE) reported a 29 percent rise in earnings on flat sales in the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, 1983, as compared with the same period of last year. The company indicated that the earnings gain reflects Standex's "increasingly strong recovery" from the recession. In fact, the company pointed out, income "purely from operations" actually rose about 50 percent in the latest quarter.

Announcing the "very favorable results," Daniel E. Hogan, chairman and chief executive, expressed confidence that, as the economy rebounds from the recession, "Standex will continue to respond in a vigorous and positive manner." He said that "we expect fiscal 1983 (ending June 30) results will be well ahead" of last year. He added that Standex "should be earning at its pre-recession rate and back on its historic growth pattern by year-end." Hogan attributed the current prospective gains to improving economic conditions, increased efficiencies and greater productivity achieved at most operating divisions, a better product mix, lower inflation rates and steadily declining interest costs due to both lower debt and lower interest rates.

In the third fiscal quarter ended March 31, Standex reported net income of $4.5 million, 66¢ a share, as compared with $3.5 million or 51¢ a share, in the prior year. Sales in the latest period amounted to $91.8 million, as against $91.2 million in fiscal 1982.

In the nine months ended March 31, net income amounted to $10.5 million, or $1.55 a share, as compared with $11 million, or $1.63 a share, the year before. Sales for the latest nine months amounted to $268.6 million, as compared to $276.3 million in fiscal 1982. Earnings per share calculations for fiscal 1982 are based on $6.8 million shares outstanding.

Hogan indicated that "while some of our markets continue to feel the lingering effects of the recession, most areas appear to be improving steadily." He added that "the true comparative results" of the nine-month periods were obscured by the fact that Standex realized sizeable capital gains (32¢ a share) last year from the sale of its interests in a computer software company and other non-recurring items. In addition, the latest quarter results did not include the sales and earnings of the Dresher Inc. division, the shares of which were distributed to Standex stockholders in January 1983.

Hogan stated that a number of important divisions are "now showing definite improvement." He mentioned the "strong pickup" in mail order business at Standex's Yield House division, the "excellent performance" of several of Standex's food service/institutional operations, the grapefruit club mail order division, Standex's metal-spinning units and the "substantial reduction of losses" realized at the company's fireplace division.

Hogan stated that Standex achieved "its highest level of productivity ever" as a result of the "tight and stringent controls exercised by all division over all items of expense." The company has instituted a corporate-wide program of "Quality Circles as part of its continuing programs to increase productivity.

Financially, Hogan said, Standex "has never been in better condition." He indicated that the company's debt-to-capital ratio today stands at about 25 percent—"our best ever"—and that total debt has been reduced by almost $27 million during the past two years. He added that Standex has a current book value of slightly under $20 a share, working capital of about $11.78 a share, and a current ratio of 2.6:1.

Housing

square feet, frontage of 180 feet, a front yard setback of 15 feet and rear yard setback of 30 feet.

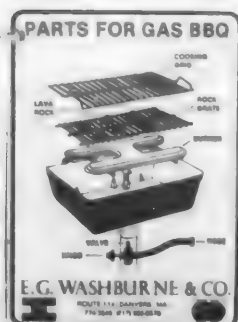

The lots would have been as small as 17 percent of the minimum lot size, and the frontage as low as 19 percent of the required size, the decision stated.

In their first attempt to bring what they consider affordable housing to Andover, Wynwood Associates proposed a 48-unit townhouse development on Andover Street. But a 1981 special town meeting rejected their request to rezone that site for multi-family housing.

And in January of this year, Wynwood approached the planners with a plan for 16 condominium units on the Charlotte Drive site. They gave up that plan after the board explained that town meeting would have to rezone that land, which would have meant a year's wait — and another possible rejection.

pass from Kathleen Radulski. The Typhoons were able to add to their points with goals by Jennifer Brodie and Radulski, assisted by Elizabeth Shea, Sarah Little and Heather Galvin. The Gales kept up the pressure, but were unable to break through the Typhoons' defense. BOW: Jim Meckel, Christine Pool and Marianne Torrisi (Gales) and Dennis Doran, Andy Shea and Betty Harris (Typhoons).

Under 10 Division

Pac Men 1 - Donkey Kongs 0

The PacMen were able to get on the scoreboard in the first period and this proved to be enough to give them the win over a very tough Donkey Kong team. BOW: Ronnie Loft and David Nicolaisen (Pac Men).

Centipedes 2 - Space Invaders 2

After a scoreless first half, both teams came to life with the Centipedes scoring first on a penalty kick by Chris Fletcher. The Space Invaders came back with two goals to take the lead, but the Centipedes scored on a pass from Fletcher to Mark Edelsberg. BOW: Andrew Paradis, Peter Martel, Matthew Morello and Matthew Boyle (Centipedes).

Froggers 4 - Night Drivers 1

The Froggers came on strong in the first period with goals by Ben Spieler (2) and John Gabriel. They were able to add to their score in the second period with a goal by Ryan Walshe. The Night Drivers broke through the Froggers' defense in the third period for a goal. BOW: John Gabriel and Bret Green (Froggers).

Aliens 4 - Sky Divers 1

In an evenly played first half neither team could penetrate and score. The Aliens did get on the scoreboard with a goal from Mark Baker, assisted by Colin Nix, Joh Shea (2) and Jeff Hamilton with assists going to Patrick Hegarty, Shea and Hamilton. The Sky Divers were able to prevent a shutout with an unassisted goal by Brian Novelline. BOW: Cemil Erdem and Jonathan Hess (Aliens) and Patrick Stone and Anthony Solari (Sky Divers).

Asteroids 5 - Star Raiders 1

The Asteroids got off to a great start with two goals by Sanjiv Sheel in the first period, the first on a pass from Jason Connolly. They were able to add to the score with goals by Jamie Damon (2) and Reiji Hayes with assists going to Brendan O'Leary and Damon. The Star Raiders were able to deny the Asteroids a shutout when Adam Tenofsky put the ball in the net on a pass from John-Christopher Martin. BOW: A.J. Rimas, David Livingston and Rand Orban (Star Raiders) and Peter Arthur, David Ciaccia and Clifford Weiss (Asteroids).

Froggers 2 - Space Invaders 2

The Froggers took the lead in the first period with a goal from Ben Spieler. The Space Invaders came back with two goals, one in the second and again in the third period. The Froggers kept up the attack and were able to tie the game with a goal from Bret Green. BOW: Bill Gabriel, Paul Spieler and Ginny Corkery (Froggers) and Richard Payne, Bill Reghitto and J. Bedell (Space Invaders).

Star Raiders 4 - Donkey Kongs 3

In a hard-fought battle which saw the lead change hands several times, the Star Raiders were able to come away with the victory when Brian Workman scored on a penalty kick in the fourth period. The three goals for the Donkey Kongs have to be credited to the whole team who put all their effort into this game. Other goals for the Star Raiders came from Billy Sullivan, David Livingston and Mark Maesano with assists going to Jere Carroll (2) and A.J. Rimas. BOW: Al Eggert, Vicki Lastrina and E. Peter (Donkey Kongs) and Sullivan, Bill Martin and Ella Workman (Star Raiders).

Sky Divers 3 - Centipedes 0

The Sky Divers came on strong scoring in the first half with goals by Richard Radulski, Brian Novelline and Justin Hesenius assisted by Andrew Novelline. The second half saw no scoring with neither team being able to break through the defense. BOW: Tom Black, Kelly Breazeale and Michele Edelsberg (Centipedes) and Bill Novelline, Larry Hesenius and Carol Zamierowski (Sky Divers).

SAAB HAS MORE CARGO SPACE THAN BMW, AUDI, AND VOLVO. COMBINED.

Flip down the back seat of a Saab and you get 56.5 cubic feet of cargo space (53 in a 4-door model).

Now compare that to the 16 cubic feet you get in an Audi 5000. The 13.9 you get in a Volvo GLT Turbo. Even the posh 22.5 you get in a BMW 733i (and see how much good posh does you when you're packing up the summer house).

Of course, you can't flip down the back seat of any of these cars. So they might say Saab has an unfair advantage.

We couldn't agree more.

The SAAB STORE OF COURSE

53 journalists from 16 countries named it Europe's "Car of The Year."

We named it the new Audi 5000S.

Audi When the new Audi 5000S was voted Europe's "Car of The Year," we were, of course, pleased. But we weren't surprised. You won't be either once you drive it.

How many other five-passenger luxury touring sedans can accelerate from zero to 50 in just 8 seconds? Or cut through wind resistance with the impunity of a sports car? Or handle superbly, even in tight-cornering situations?

The new 5000S, with its advanced German engineering, can do all this. And more. In fact, after 6 years of designing and refining and over 3.2 million kilometers of road testing, this just may be the most roadworthy luxury sedan ever built.

The 5000S is also the product of fresh design ideas. For example, the idea of flush-mounted side windows and bonded front and rear windows (which not only help reduce drag but virtually eliminate wind noise).

What's more, you'll like the idea of our new 24-month, unlimited mileage warranty* and the long-term reliability that prompted it.

But, most of all, you'll like driving the new Audi 5000S.

Defenders 2 - Pac Men 1

All scoring happened in the first period with two unassisted goals for the Defenders by Peter Canavin and Gus Quattlebaum and an unassisted goal for the Pac Men by Phil Meckel. Both teams kept trying, but were unable to add to the scoring. BOW: Gayle Caruso, Peter Caruso, Matt Corbett and Gail Dow (Defenders) and Bob Lewin, Jill Redd and Linda Parker (Pac Men).

Night Drivers 0 - Aliens 2

After an evenly matched first half the Aliens were able to break through the Night Drivers defense with a pass from Colin Nix to Matt Anthony. John Shea then added an insurance goal, assisted by Jeff Hamilton. BOW: Ed Kulcsar (Night Drivers) and Bill Anthony, Charles Adams and Mary Hamilton (Aliens).

Owls 2 - Starlings 6

With some strong goaltending by Jennifer Coangeli and Holly Parker, the Owls played a strong game, but were only able to break through the Starlings' defense with two goals, both unassisted, by Leigh Ann Catanzaro and Coangeli. BOW: The entire Owls team and Neal McGovern and Nick Buehler (Starlings).

Eagles 1 - Crows 1

Both team played evenly in the first half with neither able to break through the others defense. Jennifer Butt scored unassisted in the fourth period to tie the game up for the Eagles and end the game. BOW: Amy Beth Kenny for some great goaltending (Eagles).

Buzzards 1 - Cardinals 2

The Cardinals were first in the scoreboard with a goal by Nicole Poisson. The Buzzards came right back to tie the score with a goal by Lori Philbin. Both teams worked hard and the Cardinals were able to come up with the win with a goal by Nicole Thompson assisted by Elizabeth Ring. BOW: Mary Worthen (Buzzards) and Michelle Morey and Robin McLellan (Cardinals).

Hawks 2 - Falcons 0

In an evenly matched game the Hawks were able to come away with the victory with goals by Laura Koerkel and Amy Heseltine with an assist by Heseltine. Both teams tried hard, but no further scoring happened. BOW: Maura Everett, Debbie Goldman and Jennifer Wells (Hawks) and Liz Wilson, Mary Maderos, Layne Whitley and Rachel Haynes (Falcons).

Buzzards 1 - Crows 1

The game remained even between the Buzzards and Crows with no scoring until the fourth period when the Buzzards scored with an unassisted goal by Anne Murnane. The Crows came right back to tie the score and no further scoring occurred. BOW: Glen Gulezian and S. Hoffman (Crows) and Pat Boutin, Pat Hayes and Marcia Murphy (Buzzards).

Orioles 1 - Hawks 0

In a very defensive game between the Orioles and Hawks no scoring happened until the final few minutes of the game when the Orioles were able to break through the Hawks' defense for the winning goal. BOW: Peter Wu, Ed Jaye and Debbie Alkman (Hawks) and Nicholas Kip and Nicholas Orrick (Orioles).

Owls 1 - Cardinals 0

The only goal of the game between the Owls and Cardinals came in the first few minutes of play when Laura Hammer scored unassisted. Both teams showed great determination right to the end, but the score remained unchanged. BOW: Norman Poisson, David Doucette and Marianne Smith (Cardinals) and Ed Parker and Marilyn Gulla (Owls).

Eagles 1 - Blue Jays 0

The Eagles were able to score in the first period when Kerry Hagerty passed to Amy Kenny. The Blue Jays fought back, but were unable to break through the Eagles' defense. BOW: Richard Roberts, D'Arcy Dowell and Suzanne Burgess (Blue Jays) and Don Sorrie, Cameron Mills and Roberta Mills (Eagles).

Hoop Camp

The Lawrence YMCA still has openings in their "Hoop Camp" for youth ages 9-15 years of age. The camp will be held at the Lawrence YMCA from June 27-July 1 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and will be directed by Dan Habib, boys' J.V. coach at Methuen High School. It will feature area coaches and physical educators from the Greater Lawrence Area. All campers will play equal time. For further information, contact Rob Reeves at the Lawrence "Y."

Summer Hazards

Sunburn, heat stroke, insect bites and stings, cuts, lacerations and bleeding and sprains and strains are some summer spoilers that can ruin summer fun. Some basic first aid tips and what precautions to take to prevent a mishap are available in a pamphlet, "Summer Hazards," available at Choate-Symmes Health Services, Inc.

After A Summer Respite, A Plan Will Be Developed

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The six task forces that have been working on the town's new comprehensive plan are about to take the summer off, but when they get back to work after Labor Day they'll begin the final stages of the project, according to the comprehensive planning consultant.

Consultant Ronald Curran told the TOWNSMAN this week that the task forces, made up of citizens and town officials, are "winding up their efforts this week," and will begin their summer break by the end of the month. The groups have been meeting regularly to generate ideas for revising Andover's comprehensive plan, which has not been updated since 1965.

Curran's one-year contract with the town is about to expire, but the consultant said he is "under the understanding" that it will be extended for approximately six months.

During the summer, Curran will work with town staffers to draft a comprehensive plan report, which will be sent to each task force member for individual review in early fall. Once individual members have had a chance to study the draft, the task forces will reconvene — and in one mass meeting, Curran hopes they will be able to reach a consensus on the report.

The report will then be open to review by town boards, commissions and committees, "and anyone else interested," Curran said. The entire process should be completed by late fall, before the holidays set in, he added.

The next step will be to take action on the suggestions included in the plan, he noted. Some parts of the plan may call for town meeting action, some for administrative action by boards such as the selectmen, and others for action by regulatory agencies such as the Planning Board or Conservation Commission.

Topics that have been studied by the task forces, and will be covered by the new comprehensive plan, include land use; capital improvement, redevelopment and reuse; transportation and commerce; school and community services; public safety and health; and housing, business and industrial development.

Annual town meeting last year appropriated $50,000 to update the plan.

Western New England

Lynn E. Hutchinson, 20 Amici Way, Andover, received a bachelor of science in business administration degree in management from Western New England College on Sunday, May 22.

Western New England College is a private, coeducational institution offering nearly 30 undergraduate majors in professional and liberal studies and graduate degree programs in accounting, business administration, engineering and law.

Dr. Shulman Elected As Fellow

Robert M. Shulman, M.D. of Andover has been elected to fellowship in the American College of Cardiology.

Dr. Shulman is a graduate of Yale University, New Haven, CT, and the Mount Sinai School of Medicine of the City of New York. He is affiliated with Merrimack Valley Cardiology Associates, Inc. of Chelmsford.

The American College of Cardiology, a 12,000-member, non-profit, professional medical society and teaching institution, is dedicated to ensure optimal care for persons with cardiovascular disease or those with the potential for developing it and through educational and socioeconomic activities, to contribute significantly to the prevention of cardiovascular medicine.

Correction

The names of two Andover High seniors were inadvertently omitted from the listing of those graduating with honors in the graduation supplement published on June 9.

Attaining honors were Jonathan Todd Baer and Kenneth James Oshan.

The Music Place — A Classy Little Store

If you're looking for a music store that sells more than just instruments, The Music Place, 135 Main St., North Reading, is the place for you.

If you've never been to The Music Place, or if you haven't been there lately, there's a lot to see. Co-owners Joseph Picano and John Bermami not only carry many new lines (as well as old favorites) of musical equipment and accessories, but also buy and sell used instruments and offer private music lessons, too.

All instruments are taught — guitar, drums, voice, all reeds, sax, clarinet, flute, piccolo, piano, banjo, synthesizer — you name it, they teach it. All their teachers are highly qualified, schooled musicians from such colleges as Berkeley College of Music, New England Conservatory, Lowell University, Hart University, University of Vermont and Boston Conservatory.

They offer absolute top quality at very low prices (their equipment compares to much higher priced equipment).

The Music Place is this area's authorized dealer for Ross public announcement systems, the line professionals use. They also carry Korg keyboards, Martin guitars and the new Sambian cymbals which provide quality sound at an economical price.

And Joe and John should know quality sound. They are both professional musicians known in the North Shore for their band, Wind Song. Their music is enjoyable and versatile — perfect for all types of functions.

Anything a musician would need is available at The Music Place. When there is something you need that is hard to get, visit them. They stock hard-to-get items as well as those easily obtained and take pride in offering high quality products at very low prices.

Joe and John realize the need for personal attention and the ability to try an instrument before purchasing it. If you are a serious buyer, come in, browse around, touch and play. It's not only a classy little store, but also a friendly little store.

Don't forget The Music Place, whether you're looking for musical instruments, accessories or private lesson. Open Monday 12-9; Tuesday 12-7; Wednesday and Thursday 12-9; Friday 12-6:30; and Saturday 10:30-4:30. Tel. 664-6213.

Cooperation Needed To Resolve Parking Problems

Cooperation between the town and schools will be needed to solve parking problems near the Bancroft School, the School Committee indicated Tuesday night.

Committee member Michael Giammusso said he hoped that "we can get a dialogue going between us and the selectmen to improve the situation."

Last week, the selectmen voted to ban all parking on Bancroft Road from Main Street to 29 Bancroft Road, where parking had previously been allowed on one side of the street. (Parking will still be allowed on one side of the rest of the street.) Parking for school events and athletic events on the nearby playing fields often chokes the road, the selectmen said, closing off access to emergency vehicles.

Giammusso called the Bancroft parking situation "a serious problem," but said he didn't believe that restricting the use of the school would be "a good way to handle it."

Selectmen Chairman Gerald Silverman, liaison to the school committee, said his board doesn't want to restrict the use of the fields or the school for evening events, but is concerned about safety. He pointed out that people attending games on the fields often park on the road even when the school parking lot is empty.

He suggested police supervision during all school functions.

Gymnasium

CARD (Commercial Area Revitalization District) low-interest revenue bonds to help fund the project.

However, the doctors never received state financing or proceeded with their plans, and the building has remained empty for the past three years. Town officials have recently expressed disappointment that the building appears to be neglected and deteriorating.

(Patton indicated that his company may apply for CARD funding for the renovations, but added that such funding would not be made a provision of the sale.)

Before it became the gymnasium for the former Sacred Heart School, the building was once well-known as the Crystal Ballroom. Unused for years before the town sold it, the gym was the object of a number of reuse proposals, including storage space for the Andover Companies, but Shawsheen Village neighbors opposed those plans.

Communications Policy Adopted Despite Teacher Objections

Despite the objections of the teachers' union, the School Committee Tuesday night adopted a new policy that sets guidelines for committee communications and relations with the teaching staff.

Andover Education Association President Stephen Jankauskas told the committee that "95 percent of the staff contacted" was "very displeased" with the last section of the policy, and he presented the committee with a petition opposing that section signed by 200 teachers.

But the committee voted four-one to accept the policy on a second pass, with Susan Poore dissenting.

The policy statement, written by Michael Giammusso, describes the accepted channels for school committee-teaching staff communications: through the superintendent. The first four sections (dealing with staff reports to the committee and committee visits to schools, for instance) drew no objections from teachers.

But the fifth section, which reminds committee members that they have no authority unless they are convened in a legally-called meeting, upset teachers with its opening sentence: "Because staff and Committee members share a keen interest in the schools and in education, it is natural than when they meet at social affairs and other functions they may discuss educational matters and general school system concerns."

Jankauskas said the committee should not tell teachers "what is proper to discuss at social affairs."

Poore pointed out that the policy was not "attempting to address anything but our own behavior as it relates to others," and suggested striking the offending sentence.

Giammusso, who has already revised the section twice, said he saw "nothing wrong" with the sentence, but was willing to delete it.

But Donald Robb said the policy was directed at the school committee, and did not need the staff's approval. And Chairman Richard Neal said the sentence was not meant to restrict social conversations, adding, "I really have a hard time understanding the interpretation that this is somehow limiting or defining what may be discussed."

The spaniel family of dogs contains more breeds — ten — than any other. The name comes from the word 'Spa' 36 million cats in the U.S.

Field Day

Local amateur radio operators—hams—from the Greater Lawrence Amateur Radio Fellowship will participate in the 50th annual Field Day sponsored by the American Radio Relay League on June 25 and 26.

The hams will set up camp on the Merrimack College campus in North Andover at 9 a.m. and will contact others in similar encampments throughout the United States and Canada. The exercise is designed to train amateurs to communicate effectively under simulated emergency conditions. Portable gasoline generators will provide all-electric power for the 24-hour duration of the event.

GLARF draws members from Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover and Salem, N.H. Members are licensed by the Federal Communications Commission to operate on internationally allocated bands throughout the radio spectrum. Last year the group made almost 1,000 contacts with other stations.

All radio contacts must be made during the period from 2 p.m. Saturday to 2 p.m. Sunday. Members of the club will be on hand to answer questions from the public.

Harborfest

The second annual Harborwalk parade, a featured event of Harborfest '83, will step off smartly from the Old State House on State Street at noon Saturday, July 2. Replete with marching bands, cheerleaders, reenactment units, drill teams, color guards, tumblers and mimes, the parade will march down State Street to the waterfront.

Harborwalk, which was inaugurated during Harborfest '82, was modeled after the Freedom Trail. Harborwalk links State Street, "the great street to the sea" as it was known in the early days of the Boston settlement, to the harbor where the historic and the new Boston come together.

A blue line on the sidewalks directs pedestrian traffic along a scenic and historic path to the harbor's edge.

REALTOR

EXTENDING YOUR INVESTMENT

Most modern families now agree that home ownership is the first sound investment in land. And now that more than half of the families own their own homes, many see the wisdom of extending their holdings and realizing a good return from property they own and rent to others.

The value of property keeps pace with the economy, and for many years the trend has been up...up...up. In fact, real estate values have consistently doubled in the Dow Jones average for the past ten years. Judicious investment in income property offers safety and stability, protection against inflation, and opportunity for income, profit and savings in taxes.

But buying income property on your own is risky. When you ask your Realtor about real estate as an investment, you incur no obligation... but you will gain information of practical value to you and your family.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

positive feeling. I've always been able to handle them very effectively."

She feels fortunate to have known "a very nice rapport" with parents as well. Last week, the school PTO held a retirement party for her at the school, attended by students, parents and her fellow teachers.

(A highlight of the gathering was the surprise presentation of a lovely handmade quilt featuring every student's name. Each child had contributed a square bearing his or her name and a colorful design; the squares were created under the direction of art teacher Mrs. McCormack, and the quilt was made by parent Martha Mitchell.)

"I'm very grateful for all the support I've received from all the many parents and staff I've worked with over the years," she says.

After last week's party, the teacher asked one of her students to define retirement. The little boy answered, "It means you're too old to do your job anymore." Mrs. Romeo says she told him, "Well sure, I am 100," she recalls, laughing.

"I just feel it's time for me to retire," she explains. Her plans are not certain ("I have various little projects in mind, but they haven't jelled yet"), but she hopes to travel, to sew, to do volunteer work with children, to spend more time with her three children (Priscilla Harrison of Andover, Margaret McAllister of Nashua, N.H., Michael Romeo of Columbus, Ohio) and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Romeo will not really say goodbye when the school year ends today, she promises. "I'm sure I'll miss the children. I'm sure I'll probably sneak in and say hello. I want to come back and visit with my colleagues and the children.

"Some people leave the school and never come back in again," she says, "but I could never be like that."

Rush Hour Traffic May Head One Way Along River Street

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Urged by Ballardvale residents to take some action to relieve industrial traffic in their neighborhoods, the selectmen Monday night voted to restrict traffic on River Street during rush hours.

However, a traffic consultant hired by the town manager cautioned the board and Vale residents that state officials are likely to veto the plan.

Traffic engineer Norman Abend of Wayland, contracted as a consultant by Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, added that Andover should probably give up hope for a Lowell Junction interchange off Route 93 — and concentrate instead on a northbound slip ramp from the industrial area onto the highway.

River Street resident Norman Alpert told the selectmen that traffic from Lowell Junction industries is dangerous to River Street residents because it includes speeders and heavy truck traffic.

Acting on a proposal made by Selectman Donn Byrne, the board voted unanimously to make River Street one-way northbound from 7 to 9 a.m. and one way southbound from 3 to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The plan calls for posting "Do Not Enter" signs listing those hours at each end of the street to prevent traffic heading for Lowell Junction in the morning and leaving there in the afternoon from using River Street.

The manager explained that that plan must be approved by the state Department of Public Works or it cannot be carried out. Mahony told Ballardvale residents at Monday's meeting that he could not offer a "realistic assessment" of the chances for state approval.

But Abend said that he believed the idea "won't pass muster with the state." He explained that there is no other access road to Lowell Junction, saying, "In my opinion, you can't cut off a part of town for part of the day. I don't see how you can have a piece of the town you can't get to, or get from. I couldn't in good conscience make that recommendation."

Byrne, however, said there is an alternative route from Route 93 to the industrial area: from Route 125 to Ballardvale Street in Wilmington. The selectman said that route was originally designed to handle Lowell Junction industrial traffic.

He urged the board to consider trying out the one-way street idea: "I'd like to try it," Byrne said. "I'd like to do something down there."

Summarizing his written report to the selectmen, the consultant recommended excluding large trucks (those weighing five tons or more) from Ballardvale, as well as making Clark Road a one-way street southbound, and Andover Street, one-way eastbound. The board did not take action on either proposal.

Abend said a large truck exclusion would require Wilmington's cooperation, because trucks would be re-routed over Ballardvale Street in the neighboring town. Wilmington officials have indicated that they would agree to an Andover truck restriction as soon as Ballardvale Street has been improved, a project now in the planning stages.

In the interim, Wilmington might agree to a large truck restriction because that re-routing would have "no serious effect" on the town, he said.

One-way restrictions on Clark Road and Andover Street would not be an "ideal situation," the consultant said, but would at least "get the situation a little bit off-center and resolve some differences." The intersection of Andover Street and Dascomb Road would need improvements to make that plan work, Abend said.

He also suggested that Andover give up its hopes of seeing a Lowell Junction interchange — the focus of town officials' efforts to ease industrial traffic in Ballardvale for more than 25 years — in the "near future." A cloverleaf off Route 93 appears to be "an unlikely project" because no land has been acquired, three towns (Andover, Wilmington and Tewksbury) are involved, and wetlands and "other natural and man-made obstacles are present," Abend noted.

A slip ramp from the industrial area to the highway offers "a more immediate prospect," he told the board. In addition, a northbound off-ramp could be built to help alleviate the morning rush hour traffic, he added.

According to the town manager, state officials have told him "off the record" that chances for a full interchange are "extremely slim," and have indicated that they "will not talk slip ramp until we drop the interchange."

Thayer Warshaw of Clark Road said he believed most Ballardvale residents "would be very happy to exchange the cloverleaf for the slip ramp." He told the board that getting state approval for a slip ramp would take "initiative and constant action by town officials," saying they must enlist the support of local industries, Andover's two neighboring towns, and local legislators.

"It will not go away," Warshaw said. "The pressure from Ballardvale citizens will continue."

In his written report, the traffic consultant explained that Ballardvale streets offer the shortest route from the highway to the industrial area for traffic coming from the north.

But although trucks and industrial commuters create some rush-hour traffic, Abend reported, the streets are also filled with "a substantial amount of local traffic" because they offer the only routes to town, or to Wilmington and the highway, from Ballardvale.

Mrs. Girdwood Elected To MSPCC Board

Bettina B. Girdwood of Tucker Road, Andover, was elected to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children's board of directors at the society's 104th annual meeting.

The MSPCC is an independent, nonprofit statewide child welfare agency providing preventive and protective services to abused or neglected children and deals with families in crisis. The Merrimack district office is located at 454 Canal St., Lawrence.

Girdwood is treasurer of Andover Recycling, Inc. and is a member of the Junior League of Boston, the Andover Garden Club and the League of Women Voters.

Republicans Planning Fall Picnic

Plans for a picnic were discussed at the June 21 meeting of the Andover Republican Town Committee at the Sheraton Rolling Green, Route 133.

The committee for the event includes: Louise Hart, 11 Heather Drive, chairman; Joseph Da-diego, 24 Washington Avenue; Chris Holmes, 14 Whispering Pines; Louis Patracone, 63 Chandler Road; and Donald Ellsworth, 2 Rose Glen Drive.

The September 24 picnic will be open to the public. Sunday, Sept. 25, will be the rain date.

Also discussed was the Republican Party renewal plan. James Edholm of Bradford, a Republican state committeeman and member of the party renewal committee, was the speaker.

Town House Topics

Arts Center Committee Members Named

A new advisory committee has been established to help oversee use of the J. Everett Collins Performing Arts Center at Andover High School, scheduled to open amid much fanfare in September.

The selectmen Monday night appointed nine well-known citizens to the advisory committee, including former town manager Jared S.A. Clark, School Building Committee member William A. Munroe, Phillips Academy headmaster Donald W. McNemar, former state representative Gerald Cohen, Andover Savings Bank president Robert Henderson, Community Services Committee member Carolyn Ehrman, and Barbara Maren of Victor Realty. School Supt. Kenneth Seifert and Town Manager Kenneth Mahony will serve as ex officio members.

Mahony told the selectmen the committee will be "extremely important." He noted that the final touches are now going in the auditorium, including carpeting and seating. The manager called the stage "magnificent", and said once again that there will not be a bad seat in the house.

Town Seal Won't Be Seen On Team Patch

An Andover adult soccer league known as the Over-The-Hill League had hoped to use Andover's town seal, depicting an Indian pointing toward the horizon, on a patch on their team uniforms — but the selectmen nixed that idea Monday night.

Selectman Norma Gammon said the seal is used only for official town-sponsored purposes, "certainly not for athletic leagues." She said the town has had "problems with this in the past. I wouldn't like to see it."

Gammon noted that the seal has been used for commercial purposes — on a commemorative coin sold during the bicentennial celebration, for instance — but with all proceeds going to the town.

Her colleagues on the board agreed to deny the soccer league's request.

Flashenberg Reappointed To Commission

The Board of Selectmen Monday night voted unanimously to reappoint Stephen Flashenberg of Launching Road to a second one-year term as Andover's representative to the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission.

Flashenberg was appointed to the MVPC last year after the town's former representative, George "Russ" Moran, moved over to the Andover Planning Board.

Selectmen Approve Licenses, Permits

The Board of Selectmen approved a number of licenses and permits during a regular meeting at Town Hall Monday night.

The Christian Formation Center, River Road, was granted one-day all-alcoholic beverage licenses for 2 to 10 p.m. July 9, July 16, July 17, Aug. 6, Aug. 13, Aug. 27, Sept. 3 and Sept. 17, and 6 p.m. to midnight Sept. 30.

Jackie and Peter Carter of the D & H Canteen, Burlington, were granted a common victualler's license for a mobile canteen truck.

The Bay State Gas Co. was given permission to excavate at 11 Avon St. to renew gas service.

A five-mile road race will be held at the Sheraton-Rolling Green Health and Fitness Center-Golf Course beginning at 6:30 p.m. July 22, with the selectmen's permission.

And, acting as sewer commissioners, the board approved a sanitary sewer connection for 2 Tech Drive, 42 and 44 Morton Street, and a third Morton Street lot.

The next meeting of the board is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 11, at Town Hall.

Awarded Scholarship

Susan Zielinski of Lowell Junction Road, Andover, has been awarded a half-tuition scholarship to Computer Processing Institute in Woburn. Chosen on the basis of academic achievement, career motivation, aptitude and financial need, Zielinski is one of five winners in eastern Massachusetts. A 1983 graduate of Greater Lawrence Technical School, she will be studying Computer Operations.

Computer Processing Institute (CPI) is a privately owned technical institution which trains students for careers as computer operators, programmers, technicians, word processors and data entry. Accredited by the Association of Independent Colleges and Schools, CPI has been offering hands-on training in the computer field for 17 years. The school established itself in Massachusetts in 1982 by acquiring the programming school, Data Institute.

Dedication

The science center at West Junior High School has been dedicated to retiring science teacher Harry Jamkochian, who is leaving the school system this year after 24 years of service. WJH Principal William Hart (right) recently presented Jamkochian with a plaque designating the center the Jamkochian Science Center. The plaque describes the teacher as "devoted teacher — department chairman — friend."

The world's first newspaper was probably Tsing Pao, a court journal published in China. It is said to have begun as early as the 500's and continued until 1935.

Class of '83 Hamilton College

Glenn Curtis Tomlinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tomlinson, 33 Bancroft Road, Andover, received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Hamilton College, Clinton, N.Y., Sunday, May 29.

Tomlinson, who graduated Phi Beta Kappa and magna cum laude, was an Art major. More than 430 students were awarded diplomas in the ceremony, which marked the conclusion of the college's 111st academic year.

Hamilton College, an independent, privately endowed liberal arts college, was founded in 1812 and is the nation's 30th oldest college. Named for Alexander Hamilton, the first Secretary of the Treasury, Hamilton is coeducational and has a student enrollment of 1,650. The college features a strong curriculum in the humanities, arts, sciences and social sciences.

Moira G. Recesso

Elected To High School Who's Who

Moira G. Recesso, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Recesso of 6 Meadow Brook Drive, Andover, has been elected to Who's Who in American High Schools.

A 1983 graduate of Phillips Academy, Ms. Recesso was a member of the varsity field hockey, gymnastics and varsity track teams, and was team captain of the varsity track team. She also served on the Athletic Advisory Board and was a day student representative to the cluster council. She belonged to the Blue Key Society as well.

She plans to attend the College of the Holy Cross next fall.

Energy Competition

New England Electric has announced the winners of its Energy Efficient Home Design Competition. The five winning architects are: first place, Jacques Fauteux, Walden 3 Associates, Architects & Planners, Hubbardston; second place, Paul Stevenson Oles, Interface Architects, Newton; third place, Stephen C. Jenkins and Gregory J. Laramie, Jenkins/Laramie Partnership, Providence, R.I.; honorable mention, Joel Bargmann, Bargmann Hendrie architects, Westport; and Stephen Lloyd, Chester, Conn.

New England Electric conducted the Energy

Efficient Home Design Competition, which was open to all architects and designers in New England, to encourage the design of energy-efficient, moderately-priced single family homes, well suited to the New England climate.

Andover Teenager Honored As Outstanding Republican

An Andover teenager was presented with the national Outstanding Teenage Republican of the Year Award at the 15th Annual National Teenage Republican (TAR) Leadership Conference held recently in Manassas, Va., and Washington, D.C.

Erik Alan Day, the son of Louise Hart of 11 Heather Drive, is chairman of the Massachusetts Teenage Republicans. He was presented the award in recognition for his lifelong activism on behalf of Republican candidates and the Republican party organization.

"This award goes to an outstanding teenager whose first efforts on behalf of President Ronald Reagan came at the age of three months," said Barbara Wells, executive director of the National TAR Organization at an awards dinner at the Ramada Inn in Manassas.

Wells explained that Erik, a native of Burbank, Calif., began his

Nureyev In Boston

The Boston Ballet will perform Rudolf Nureyev's "Don Quixote" with Nureyev dancing in all performances Aug. 10-21 at the Wang Center for the Performing Arts (formerly the Metropolitan Center), 268 Tremont St., Boston. He will dance the role of Basilio opposite Boston Ballet principal dancers, Laura Young and Marie-Christine Mouis, and guest artist Yoko Morishita, alternating in the lead role of Kitri-Dulcinea.

political career by accompanying his mother to work at the Southern California headquarters of the then Reagan for Governor campaign. At the headquarters in Beverly Hills, Erik won recognition for his friendliness and ability to attract volunteers to the campaign. One of his baby photographs depicting him campaigning for Reagan is in President Reagan's private campaign photo album.

Erik continued to help in political campaigns after moving to Massachusetts following Reagan's election in 1966 and participated in the presidential campaign of 1980.

The 17-year-old graduate of Tilton School,

Tilton, N.H., has been an active member of Massachusetts Teenage Republicans for four years and was elected its chairman at the organization's annual convention in 1982.

He attended the week-long leadership training conference with his brother, Garrett, 13, chairman of Massachusetts Sub-Teenage Republicans (STARS).

The conference included seminars taught by national Congressional and political leaders and members of the Reagan administration. Participants visited Capitol Hill and attended special receptions with members of Congress and at the White House.

College Openings

College applicants can still find openings at the New England College of their choice if they act quickly, according to a June survey conducted by the New England Board of Higher Education (NEBHE).

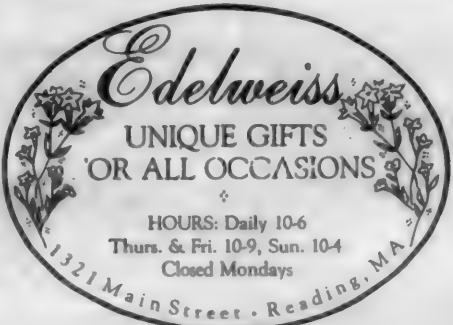

Limited openings exist for qualified freshman applicants and transfer applicants at more than 155 of New England's 260 higher education institutions, the annual regional vacancy survey shows.

More than half of the current 13,600 freshman openings are in the two-year colleges, while four-year colleges report more than half of the transfer vacancies. Public institutions account for about three-fourths of all vacancies and public two-year institutions account for about 45 percent of all vacancies.

Y Offers Camp Registration

The Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A., 165 Haverhill St., Andover, is still accepting registrations for their summer camp programs beginning July 5.

The two programs, "Good-Time Gang" for grades 1-3 and "Adventure Club" for grades 4-6, will meet Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The programs offer four two-week sessions. Children may be registered for two, three, four or five days per week each session.

"We are concerned with meeting the social, mental and physical needs of youngsters in this age group," said Bob Lavoie, the Y's physical director who will serve as coordinator of the programs. "Our daily peer-group activities will attempt to meet these needs and, most importantly, allow the children to have fun."

The Y.M.C.A. building features a six-lane indoor swimming pool, a double-sized gymnasium, a 40'x45' padded mat room, outdoor play areas, fields and hiking trails. The program will include low-organizational games, instructional and recreational swimming, arts and crafts, nature hikes, group activities, films, beach trip for the older group, special events and a cookout on the last Friday of each two-week session.

The Romans are not known to have used soap. They used sand and skin scrapers to cleanse themselves.

Telephone Bills

A change in the way New England Telephone customers in Massachusetts pay their bills goes into effect next month.

The pre-punched payment card formerly included with the monthly statement is being eliminated and beginning with bills dated July 22, the new "face page" of the bill should be returned with payments. The "face page" contains the customer's name and address, NET's return address and the total amount of the bill. The bill also includes a special code line at the bottom which allows payments to be processed and accounts credited more efficiently.

A bill insert explaining the changes will be included with the first new bill for each customer.

Summer Carillon Recitals To Begin

The seventh annual series of summer recitals will be given on the 37-bell carillon in Phillips Academy's Memorial Tower on six successive Tuesday evenings, beginning July 5 at 7 p.m. The first recital will feature Sally Slade Warner, carillonneur of Phillips Academy, playing a varied program of original music for carillon, arrangements of familiar melodies and transcriptions.

The public is invited free of charge. Bring lawn chairs, blankets and picnic suppers. Printed programs and brochures will be available in the stand at the tower door. Prime listening places will be noted on the back of the program. In case of rain, listen from your parked car. The tower is located at the corner of Salem and Main Street (Route 28), south of the Andover business district.

Future recitalists will include Noel Reynders of St. Truiden, Belgium; Gordon Slater, Dominion Carillonneur of Canada; Katharine Webster of New Haven, Conn.; and Frank Pechin Law, carillonneur of Valley Forge. The final recital on August 9 by Sally Slade Warner will feature requests submitted by listeners during the previous weeks of the series. Suggestions should be sent to Sally Slade Warner, Phillips Academy, Andover, MA 01810, or by telephone.

Holiday Safety

Motorists planning trips over the long Fourth of July holiday weekend should put highway safety ahead of driving pleasure, the ALA Auto and Travel Club has urged.

"Putting highway safety first will greatly enhance your chances for a pleasurable holiday trip," Huntington D. Lord, ALA executive vice president, said. "We're all looking forward to enjoying the weekend and we hope that all motorists will make an effort to drive extra safely during this peak traffic period."

MVRTA Announces New Shuttle Schedule

The Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority has announced that the Lawrence Intown Shuttle service will be changed starting Tuesday, July 5. In the peak hours (7 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and 3:15 p.m. to 6 p.m.) the Municipal Parking Lot will be served by one shuttle bus called the "Parking Lot Shuttle," which will operate from the Municipal Parking Lot to the core of Lawrence Intown with 15 minute service. Between 9:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m. this bus will operate on the "Downtown Shuttle" route.

The "Downtown Shuttle" will not serve the Municipal Parking Lot and will operate with 20-minute service with one bus during peak hours and with 10-minute service with two buses in the off-peak hours (9:30 a.m. to 3:15 p.m.) The senior center on Haverhill Street will be added to the Downtown Shuttle route.

The new routing and schedule will allow the two shuttlebuses to provide a total of 73 trips Monday through Friday on both routes as compared to the current total of 43 trips. The Parking Lot Shuttlebus starts at the Municipal Parking Lot to Essex Street, along Essex Street to Hampshire Street to Common Street, along Common Street to Jackson Street to Essex Street, along Essex Street to Amesbury Street to Municipal Parking Lot.

The Downtown Shuttlebus starts at Essex and Union, along Essex Street to Broadway to Valley to Franklin, along Franklin to Common Street to Lawrence Street, along Lawrence Street to Haverhill Street to Jackson Street, along Jackson Street to Garden Street to Union Street, along Union Street to Summer Street to Allan Street to General Street to Lawrence General Hospital, along General Street to Union Street to Essex Street.

Tassinari Presented URI Award

Robert L. Tassinari of Andover, a Community Planning major, was presented a Presidential Excellence Award upon graduation from the University of Rhode Island.

The awards honor the significant academic accomplishments of seniors.

Each department can honor one of its graduates for achievements as represented by such criteria as grade point average, an honors project, outstanding research or professional promise.

The award is a certificate of academic excellence and may be supplemented by a book, a subscription to a professional journal, a membership in a professional organization or a cash award of up to $25.

Clambake

The 65th Annual North Shore Chamber Outing and Clambake will be held Thursday, July 21, at 1:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Beverly Golf & Tennis Club, 134 McKay St., Beverly.

In addition to a major golf tournament, activities will include softball, horseshoes, volleyball, swimming in the club's olympic-size pool and tennis on all ten of the club's clay courts.

The outing will offer North Shore business and professional people an opportunity to meet in a relaxed and informal setting. For more information, call the North Shore Chamber of Commerce.

Lisa G. Andrews

Ms. Andrews Elected To Honor Society

Lisa G. Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Andrews, 894 Great Pond Road, North Andover, was recently elected to the Alpha Chapter of Vermont of Phi Beta Kappa. She is in the class of 1984 at the University of Vermont.

Founded in 1776, Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest honor society in the United States. The purpose of the organization is to promote learning and the love of learning. The Alpha Chapter, Vermont, located at the University of Vermont, was the first chapter to admit women members.

Firecracker 10,000

The twin $5,000-to-win "open competition" 30-lap feature races which will make up the "Firecracker 10,000" will be held Monday night, July 4, at the Hudson Speedway in Hudson, N.H.

The only rules for cars are that they must start at all times from a standing stop; they must use working mufflers; and they must pass a Hudson Speedway safety inspection prior to the race.

However, race courtesy and standard race rules will be enforced. Qualifying heats will determine the 24-car starting field open to run both races.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Hudson Speedway racing director Russ Conway, general manager Ken Smith or track producer Charlie Elliot.

Completes Naval Training

Navy Seaman Recruit Robert K. Trask, Jr., son of Robert K. Trask, Sr., 10 Castle Heights Road, Andover, completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included in their studies were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

Holiday Warning

The Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, anticipating heavy traffic over the July 4th holiday, has issued a warning to motorists that the 55-mile per hour speed limit will be rigidly enforced along its 135 mile roadway.

State police from Troop "E" which patrol the turnpike will augment regular radar teams and radio-equipped emergency service patrol vehicles will assist police in locating and assisting motorists in disabled vehicles.

Service stations and restaurants along the turnpike will be opened 24 hours a day.

Chairman John T. Driscoll said, "It has been proved that compliance with the 55 mile per hour speed limit saves gas, but equally important has reduced fatalities by at least 10 percent annually along our nation's highways. It is equally important during this holiday that all motorists without exception limit their speed to this legal limit. We are determined to enforce this law. In doing so, we will achieve a safer holiday for all."

THE JOY OF LOSING

Losing weight is not easy but when your Diet Center Counselor is behind you all the way, day after day, it can really be a joy.

She works with you individually on a daily basis. This private, daily counseling is supported with behavior modification and sensible exercise ... because Diet Center is more than a diet; it's the beginning of a new style.

At Diet Center, you won't have to depend on shots, drugs or expensive, prepackaged foods to help you lose weight. The program is based on sound nutrition, using all natural, inexpensive foods you can buy right in your own grocery store.

And after you have experienced the joy of losing, your Diet Center Counselor will teach you how to keep those lost pounds lost forever. All the more reason to start losing weight the Diet Center way.

Mrs. John W. Sagaser

Sagaser-Harris

Elizabeth Jane Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harris of Trumbull, and John Westcott Sagaser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sagaser of Andover, were married June 25 at the New Canaan Congregational Church in Connecticut.

Susan Harris served as her sister's maid of honor. Sally Harris and Jane Harris, sister of the bride, and Diane Sagaser, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

J. Robinson Wells was best man. Peter Evans and Dave Sagaser, brother of the groom, ushered.

After a reception at The Roger Sherman Inn, New Canaan, the couple left on their honeymoon. They will reside in Coolidge Corner, Brookline.

Both the bride and groom are magna cum laude graduates of Brown University; the bride with B.A. degrees in English and Art; the groom with B.A. degrees in International Relations and Political Science. He will attend Boston College Law School in September.

Celebrating The Fourth

Fireworks, a parade, carnival, fireman's muster, parachutists and ice cream eating contest are all part of Lowell's Fourth of July celebration at Festival Field on Pawtucket Boulevard along the Merrimack River.

The celebration, sponsored by the Regatta Festival Committee and Lowell National Historical Park, is free and open to the public. For more information, contact Lowell National Historical Park, 169 Merrimack St., Lowell.

Yeats Premiere

The Castle Hill Festival will present the American premiere of Irish playwright W.B. Yeats, "Fighting the Waves," with original music by American composer George Antheil, on July 8, 9, and 10 at 8:30 p.m. in the Concert Barn.

"Fighting the Waves" is a play about Irish ghosts, a mystical tale whose principal characters, King Cuchulain and Queen Emer, believe the body of their slain son to be possessed by sea spirits and attempt to rouse it from the dead.

The remainder of the program will be contemporary music performed by the Alexander String Quartet.

Passing The Gavel

The Newcomers' Club recently inducted new officers for the 1983-1984 season: From left, Lori Germain, activities chairman; Mary K. Weddle, treasurer; Eileen Novelline, outgoing president, passes the gavel to new president Carolyn Amstutz; Katy Vehlow, first vice-president; and Alice Pascucci, corresponding secretary.

Learning To Study

The "How to Study in College" course, developed by two Purdue University professors, Robert F. Schwarz and the late H.D. Murdock, will be offered by the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A. branch of the Greater Lawrence Y.M.C.A. The course provides useful, practical answers to such questions as: Where's the best place to sit in a lecture? What's the one technique that will make you the first one to complete laboratory projects? What two simple study techniques will almost guarantee one letter grade higher in every course? What one idea can make it possible to study a textbook 24 percent faster? When is studying with the radio on a good idea? What is the secret to not being uptight during an exam? What is the easy way to write the first draft of a term paper?

Lecture topics include how students learn, why they forget, the art of listening, how to take usable lecture notes, motivation for maximum performance in college, how to plan study time, a basic study formula, techniques of review, preparing for and taking tests and examinations, how to use a college library, what every student needs to know about each course and its professor and personal problems and adjustment to college living.

Graduating seniors or those who already have high school diplomas and are about to enter college may register at the Andover-North Andover Y.M.C.A., 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

Classes meet from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday from July 25-28.

For additional information, call Cathy Dawson at the Y.M.C.A.

CORRECTION

The report of the wedding of James Hurlin of Andover in last week's issue was in error, due to misinformation submitted to the paper.

"Next to the originator of a good sentence is the first quoter of it." — Emerson.

If your child has a summer birthday, plan a picnic party, a favorite with all ages. Picnic entertainment needs little organization, because the setting itself inspires all to have fun.

Dr. Leonard Fein

Leonard Fein To Present Local Lecture

The Solomon Schechter Day School of the Merrimack Valley will sponsor "An Evening with Leonard Fein" on Thursday, July 7, at 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. Arthur Levine, president of Bradford College. The Solomon Schechter School, a Jewish day school for elementary school children, will open in September at Temple Emanu-El in Haverhill.

Dr. Fein is the publisher and editor-in-chief of "Moment Magazine," which provides commentary and analysis of all aspects of Jewish social and political concerns. He has served as deputy director of the MIT/Harvard Joint Center for Urban Studies and as the Klutznick Professor of Contemporary Jewish Studies at Brandeis University.

As an observer and analyst of the Jewish experience, Dr. Fein has lectured since 1965 in more than 200 communities in the United States and Canada. He has been invited to share his views on public policy and the Jewish future in conferences and consultations with government officials here and in Israel. A resident of Boston, he is an active participant in the local Jewish community.

The Merrimack Valley Schechter School is the newest of more than 50 such schools across the United States and Canada.

Communion Services At Vale Church

The congregation of the Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church, United Church of Christ) will gather in the Shaw Fellowship Hall this Sunday at 9:30 a.m. to celebrate the Sacrament of Holy Communion. Members of the Rehe family, Sandi, Dana and David, will provide the special music. Mrs. Ruth Mattheson will be the pianist. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, church pastor, will preach on the theme "Carry No Purse!"

A church school class for younger children will be held during the worship hour. Following the service there will be a time for fellowship and light refreshments. Food for Neighbors in Need will be collected this Sunday.

Methuen Music Hall

The Methuen Memorial Music Hall presents Brian Jones, organist, and Andrew Gordon, pianist, on Wednesday, July 6, at 8:30 p.m.

Jones is director of music at the Wellesley Congregational Church, head of the music department at Noble & Greenough School, Dedham, and director of the Dedham Choral Society. He has performed in many parts of the United States, England and in Bermuda, and at conventions of the Organ Historical Society and the American Guild of Organists.

Gordon is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music and has studied principally with Russell Sherman in Boston and Jerome Lowenthal in New York.

Washington D.C. is the first city in the world specifically planned as a nation's first capitol.

Surveys indicate that about 85 percent of human beings are right handed.

Elaine F. Farron

Elaine F. (Cook) Farron of 17 Appletree Lane, Andover, died June 23 at Lawrence General Hospital following a long illness. She was 65.

A native of Woonsocket, R.I., Mrs. Farron had been an Andover resident for the past 17 years, and previously lived in Norwich, Conn. She attended the First Universalist Church of Woonsocket.

She leaves her husband, Walter S. Farron; one son, Donald S. Farron of East Longmeadow; one daughter, Nancy E. Farron of Ashland, N.H.; one sister, Dorothy (Mrs. Arthur B.) Merchant of North Smithfield, R.I.; and two grandchildren.

Cremation was scheduled to take place in Providence, R.I., and a memorial service was to be held at the family's convenience. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Holt Funeral Home, Woonsocket, R.I.

Gayle L. Finnagan

Gayle L. "Windstorm" Finnagan, formerly of Andover, died June 27 in Columbia, S.C. as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident. She was 26.

Police said Miss Finnagan lost control of her car during rush hour on a busy highway and was involved in a head-on collision. Three others were seriously injured.

A Lowell native, Miss Finnagan had lived in Andover for many years, and in Columbia for the past five years. She was educated in Andover public schools, graduating from San Diego High School in San Diego, Calif., and from the University of South Carolina's finance and business administration department in 1982. She was employed as an accountant by the South Carolina Gas and Electric Company, and she taught accounting at Columbia Junior College as well.

She leaves her father, Richard Finnagan of 3 Cuba St., Andover; her mother, Virginia (Lawrence) Finnagan of Franklin; four sisters, Layne (Mrs. Robert) Pitts and Jodi Finnagan, both of Andover, Deanne (Mrs. Thomas) Adams of Franklin and Thea (Mrs. George) Tynes of Philadelphia, Pa.; one brother, Brent, stationed with the U.S. Marine Corps at Camp Lejeune, N.C.; and a number of aunts and uncles.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at West Parish Church. Cremation will be at Harmony Grove, Salem. Friends may call from 6 to 9 p.m. Thursday at the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Memorial contributions may be made to Faith At Work, 11065 Little Patuxent Park Way, Columbia, Md. 21044.

A. Leo Bernardin

A. Leo Bernardin of 641 Lowell St., Lawrence, died June 27 at Bon Secours Hospital following a brief illness. He was 90.

A Lawrence native, Mr. Bernardin attended Lawrence schools and served in the U.S. Army during World War I. He was employed as a coffee merchant. He belonged to St. Augustine's parish, Tower Hill, Lawrence.

The widower of Lucile (Monette) Bernardin, he leaves two daughters, Jeanne (Mrs. Arthur) Danforth of York, Me., formerly of Andover, and Annette Bernardin of Newburyport; two sons, Leo, of Appleton, Wisc., and Peter, of Seal Beach, Calif.; two sisters, Irene (Mrs. Ernest) Morin and Annette Bernardin of Andover; 10 grandchildren, four great-grandchildren, and a number of nieces and nephews.

A funeral Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. Thursday at St. Augustine's Church, Tower Hill. Burial will be in Immaculate Conception Cemetery. Funeral arrangements are under the direction of the Breen Funeral Home, 122 Amesbury St., Lawrence.

Robert L. Stone

Robert L. Stone of 352 Newfield St., Middletown, Conn., a former Andover resident, died June 3 at Gaylord Hospital, Wallingford, Conn. He was 71.

An Andover native, Mr. Stone had lived in Portland, Conn. for a number of years before he moved to Middletown. He was the retired vice president of Raymond Engineering of Westfield, Conn. A Northeastern University graduate, he belonged to the Society of Professional Engineers of Connecticut. He attended the Andover Baptist Church.

He leaves his wife, Charlotte (Hovey) Stone; two daughters, Barbara Stone of North Palm Beach, Fla. and Beth (Mrs. Joseph) Fitzner of Middletown; one son, Charles H. of Charlestown, R.I.; two brothers, Elmer G. of Durham, Conn. and Charles C. of Knoxville, Tenn.; one sister, Elizabeth (Mrs. James) Dodge of Tucson, Ariz.; and three grandchildren.

Private funeral services were held at the convenience of the family. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Portland Memorial Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to the First Congregational Church of Portland Renovation-Expansion Fund, Portland, Conn.

Minnie Pearlstein

Minnie M. (Hocks) Pearlstein of Middletown, N.Y., died June 27 at Horton Memorial Hospital, Middletown, following a brief illness. She was 83.

A native of Port Jervis, Penn., Mrs. Pearlstein had formerly owned Pearlstein's Department Store in Middletown. She belonged to Temple Sinai in that town.

The widow of Herman Pearlstein, she leaves a daughter, Judith Baker of Andover; one granddaughter, Nancy Turow of Framingham; and one great-grandson.

Burial as in Temple Sinai Cemetery, Circleville, N.Y.

Mental Health

The Solomon Mental Health Center of Lowell received a grant from the Area Health Education Center to develop and conduct a training program for bilingual persons interested in assisting in the care of mentally ill and mentally retarded clients of the center.

The program will provide instruction on basic mental health and mental retardation issues, mental illness, medication and socio-cultural concerns. Half of each session will focus on the helping relationship, working with therapists and patients, and interpersonal communications.

Participants need to have good English-speaking ability, although advanced education will not be required. The most essential characteristic must be their genuine desire to help emotionally disturbed and retarded persons.

The program is a volunteer effort; participants will not receive money for their services. However, trainees who may seek employment in human service agencies will find this training a valuable asset.

The Area Health Education Center is a federally financed agency devoted to increasing knowledge of health and medicine in the Lowell area, providing continuing education for health professionals and augmenting programs of area human service agencies. The Solomon Mental Health Center is operated by the Department of Mental Health.

Nutrition Program

WIC, the federally-funded supplemental food program for pregnant or nursing women, infants and children under five, is available at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington.

The program was established to promote good health for those who have nutritional or health risks and are economically in need.

Participants in the program are evaluated by a nutritionist before receiving food vouchers which can be redeemed at local supermarkets for infant formula, milk, cheese, eggs, cereal, 100 percent fruit juice, dry beans/peas or peanut butter.

Eligible infants include those with poor or inadequate food intake, low or high birth weights, premature or postmature births, currently underweight or overweight, medical conditions or short stature.

Children under five eligible for the program include those who are underweight, short for their age, anemic, overweight or those who have a current medical condition.

Anyone interested may call the center.

Encephalitis

Summertime is the high risk season for encephalitis, warns the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

The period of greatest danger from this mosquito-borne disease is usually between July 15 and Sept. 30 in Massachusetts, but protection should extend through the first-frost date, cautions the department's Division of Animal Health. Vaccination is done by a veterinarian, at owner's expense. Although equine encephalitis is almost 100 percent fatal to non-vaccinated horses and ponies, it is not transmitted from equine to people.

The disease can affect humans and be fatal, particularly to infants and the elderly.

Andover Man Victim Of Motorcycle Collision

An Andover man and his companion died of injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident Sunday on Cape Cod.

Lauren Scott Gardner, 20, of 54 Gray Road, Andover was driving the motorcycle, with John Vercontaire, 22, of 175 Passacon Drive, Dracut, as his passenger when they collided with a car at approximately 1:40 a.m. Sunday on Route 28 in South Yarmouth.

Police said the car was driven by Paul Cunniff of Woburn, who was about to make a left hand turn when the accident occurred. The motorcycle may have been traveling at about 80 m.p.h., police said.

Gardner and Vercontaire were pronounced dead on arrival at Cape Cod Hospital, Hyannis. Cunniff was not injured.

Gardner, a native of Elmeria, N.Y., graduated from Andover High School in 1981. He was employed at Wang Laboratories in Lawrence. He leaves his mother, Judith (Sample) Gardner Schmidt of Andover; his stepfather, David Schmidt of Andover; one sister, Susan E. Gardner of Andover; two brothers, James of Methuen and Mark of Texas; his grandmother, Mrs. Corinne Sample of Andover; one aunt, Audrie Sample of Worcester; and one uncle, Earl Sample of Barrie.

Private funeral services and a graveside service were to be held at Worcester County Memorial Park, Paxton. Funeral arrangements were under the direction of the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover.

Vercontaire, born and educated in Dracut, was a 1978 graduate of Lowell Vocational High School, and was employed at Wang Laboratories, Lawrence.

New Scout Office

Mrs. Theodore Bogel, president of the Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council, announces that ground was broken on June 21 for the construction of a new corporate headquarters for the council on Route 114 in North Andover.

The $400,000 project is partially funded by $100,000 from the Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council cookie sale proceeds. The remainder will be mortgaged for a 10 years.

The new council office will feature a central reception area and a shop for Girl Scout badges, pins and handbooks, etc., two meeting rooms, a Girl Scout library and a museum of Girl Scout uniforms and memorabilia, as well as offices for clerical and executive staff and adequate parking for staff and visitors. Occupancy is expected in December 1983.

Dr. Emmons Charged With Larceny

Former selectman William V. Emmons, a semi-retired optometrist who is also a former Board of Health chairman, was arraigned Monday on eight larceny charges, after being charged with embezzling funds totaling $136,580 from the Andover Home for Aged People.

Emmons, 73, a resident of 9 Locke St. with offices at 15 Central St., formerly served as treasurer of the home's foundation. He is charged with stealing funds from the foundation between 1971 and 1982.

Emmons said Monday that he is innocent of the charges.

The home for the aged foundation, created in 1890, provides financial assistance to elderly townspeople so they may become residents of the Henry C. Nevins Home of Methuen.

Trustees of the foundation said they became suspicious of the foundation's financial records, kept by Emmons, when they noticed that disbursements had increased from $58,698 in 1980 to $112,298 in 1982, although the number of clients served had decreased.

Summer Pickings

Warm, sunny weather has advanced the delayed schedule of local crops and fresh native "peas in the pod" should be ready for the traditional Fourth of July dinner.

The customary holiday menu, combining the first green vegetable of the season with fresh caught salmon is a good excuse to shell some real "homegrown" peas and compare their fantastic flavor and freshness with the canned and frozen versions.

Other new arrivals at farm stands and markets are fresh beets, endive and iceberg lettuce. Also continuing in good supply are spinach, scallions, radishes, "hot house" tomatoes, fresh romaine, Boston red and green leaf lettuces.

A More Attractive Downtown Among Selectmen's Goals

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A cleaner and more attractive downtown Andover emerged as one of the selectmen's priorities Monday night, when the board discussed their goals for the coming year.

"The town is dirty," Selectman William Dalton said. "There's a lot of litter." He attributed that problem to sloppy trash pick-ups, saying broken glass and rubbish ends up on the streets when trash bags break as they are tossed into trucks. "We should be looking for a better way of trash removal," the selectman said.

(The town manager, however, noted that other communities look to Andover as a model for trash removal and recycling systems.)

And Dalton said he would like to "beautify downtown" by adding "a nice downtown park" with benches. In its current state, the downtown "isn't particularly attractive," he said.

Selectman Donn Byrne added that Main Street from Elm Square to Chestnut Street seems to be overdue for repaving, and suggested that annual funds for repaving be spent on that street this year.

Town Manager Kenneth Mahony told the board, "I can't understand why you didn't let the state do it" as part of the Elm Square redesign project.

State and federal officials had proposed reconstructing that part of Main Street at their expense, but the selectmen voted to remove the street from the project when downtown merchants opposed the plan. Merchants feared the project would be too extensive and take too long to complete.

Mahony pointed out that when the town attempts to improve the street, to do the work correctly it may end up excavating just as deeply as the government agencies had proposed, and take just as long to complete the project.

Norma Gammon listed solving traffic problems in Ballardvale as one of her goals, and Chairman Gerald Silverman suggested taking the first steps toward seeking state approval of a slip ramp off Route 93 — replacing for the first time in years working toward a Lowell Junction interchange as one of the board's yearly goals. (See story, page one.)

Gammon said she would like to work toward easing industrial traffic problems on River Road as well.

Donn Byrne said he would like to see program budgeting started this year; that is a new method for keeping track of town finances.

And the board indicated that they would like to wrap up projects started during the past year, including the reuse of East Junior High's two wings, which will soon house all town and school offices; reuse of Town Hall, now in the beginning planning stages; and building a town parking lot on the Purity Supreme site, where the former grocery store is scheduled to come down this summer to make way for more town parking.

Action-Packed Lineup Scheduled For Andover's Old-Fashioned Fourth

Andover will once again be treated to an old fashioned Fourth as the Committee for Patriotic Observances invites the whole town to a full day of fun for all ages on Monday, July 4.

After an all-town breakfast at St. Augustine's School, a traditional Antique and Horribles Parade will be held, and all Andover citizens are invited to participate in this year's parade.

The parade will form at the old East Junior High on Bartlet Street at 11:45 a.m. At 12:30 p.m., the parade, led by a Dixieland jazz band, will move down Punchard Avenue to Main Street to Park Street to Bartlet Street and back to Central Park where the afternoon's events will take place. A souvenir of the occasion will be provided for each participant.

A prize will be awarded to each participant. Awards will be made for such categories as "Most Horrible," "Most Creative," "Most Humorous," "Best Pet," "Best Carriage," "Best Bicycle," "Best Group" and, in tribute to the incorporator of the current parade, a Peter Anderson Memorial Award for any individual or group which could not possibly be categorized. Anderson now resides in Chapel Hill, N.C.

How did the Antique and Horribles Parade begin? No one knows exactly, although it was an essential part of the Fourth of July celebration in Andover as many as 100 years ago.

Franklin Haggerty of Andover Street, who directed one of the last parades of this type in Ballardvale back in 1941, remembers that "I never saw a horribles parade because I was always in them." Last year Haggerty showed that he hadn't lost his touch. Donning a wig and women's clothing, he marched with the Shawsheen Women's Club contingent as "The Shawsheen Women's Club Reject." Now, that was truly horrible; he easily captured first prize.

As in years past, in order for the parade to be successful, it must be recognized for what it is — a parade for participants of all ages: mothers and fathers, sons and daughters, brothers and sisters, neighbors and neighborhoods, groups and organizations.

It is a parade of imagination, creativity, satire and humor. Costumes are designed and worn. Floats can be made from wagons and carts, from cars and trucks. Bikes and baby carriages can be decorated. Pets can also be involved.

From 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. Central Park will be filled with activities and games.

Featured entertainers include the Townsman Chorus, mime Trent Arterberry, juggler Ken Sherbourne and Mr. Balloony, who make balloon forms for the children.

Andover magician "Great Scott" Nason will perform at the bandstand at 2 p.m. with additional informal sleight-of-hand presentations throughout the remainder of the celebration.

Anouk Schmitt and her horse, Yojimbo, from Andover's Ironstone Farm, will present a vaulting exhibition at 3:30 p.m. in the area where horse and pony rides will be given.

A "dunk tank" featuring the famous and not so famous will be set up in the park. School Superintendent Ken Seifert has once again agreed to submit to any who'd like a chance to "Sink the Superintendent." School Committeeman Mike Giammuso will be joined by several newcomers, including popular teacher and coach Ted Boudreau and Father Rich of St. Augustine's Church.

The recreation and community schools department will present an afternoon of games for children, which will feature fun games with prizes and a "moonwalk," concluding with a late-afternoon pie eating contest.

And for the tiniest of children, Ironstone Farms will again provide free pony rides.

Non-profit groups will sell refreshments, lunch and traditional goodies, at "reasonable" prices to benefit their various groups. The Samaritans, Little League and Babe Ruth Baseball. Andover High School cheerleaders, St. Augustine's Church, the Arnold Dance Foundation and Merrimack Valley Gymnastics will be there.

The afternoon will conclude with the Middlesex Concert Band, back by popular acclaim, which will play patriotic and old favorites for the enjoyment of all.

Getting Horrible

Tiki has to choose between two costumes for her part in the Horribles Parade that takes place this Monday as a part of the Fourth of July festivities planned in the town. Helping her decide is Lynda Turcotte of High Street and Danny Surdam of High Street.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — June 1908

Program for the Fourth — As the town clocks strike the hour of twelve, the bonfire will be lighted on the Playstead and the celebration will have begun. At five o'clock the horribles parade will be formed on Main street under the command of Marshal Ammon P. Richardson and headed by the Andover Brass Band.

At a sitting of court before Judge Stone on Monday, an Abbot Village woman was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $1000 bonds. The charge was adultery. The defendant in the same case, a resident of the village, was held in $1000 for the grand jury. Neither was able to furnish the bonds, and they were taken to the Lawrence jail to await their trial, which will come in early September.

The Sunday School of Christ church will hold their annual picnic at Haggett's pond on Saturday, July 11. Barges will convey the children to and from the grove.

50 Years Ago — June 1933

The first annual outing of the newly organized British War Veterans in Andover will be held on Sunday, July 9, at Roseland Park, and plans are being made for a grand good time for all who attend.

Undoubtedly the largest bonfire Andover has ever had; two band concerts by the successors to the town's famous Brass Band; a comical horribles parade in which recent events in Andover's history are to be satirized and in which the town's officialdom is to be good-naturedly ridiculed; three full hours of sports and races for the youngsters; a baseball game and a soccer game; and a display of fireworks such as Andover has never witnessed — this is the bill of fare for the town's first Fourth of July celebration in five years.

Another landmark is to be torn down, starting next week, when the old building, familiarly known as the Valpey block will be razed to make way for a new brick structure. Paul Simeone, who recently purchased the building, plans to erect a building, modern in every way, which will add greatly to the appearance of Andover square.

25 Years Ago — June 1958

The State Division of Waterways has given the town definite assurances that it will match the $175,000 appropriated locally for Rogers Brook drainage and approved construction based on plans drawn by Clinton Goodwin back in 1955. The Board of Public Works and Selectmen immediately threw their weight behind the move to get Rogers Brook drainage underway, after years of waiting and discussing its pros and cons.

Four of the town's five operating playgrounds drew a total registration of 537 Tuesday morning, the second day of operation. Only Indian Ridge — where the Board of Public Works this week is completing a grading project — did not open on schedule Monday. This playground should be ready for use the last of next week, as the Board of Public Works plans to have the old school site filled and leveled off by tonight.

No decision has been reached on changing Wolcott avenue house numbers back to the old system, as requested by residents of the avenue. Every house number on the avenue was changed by professional mappers, as part of an over-all project authorized by the Assessors. About 1,200 numbers were either changed or issued for the first time in the comprehensive program. Notices to residents went out last week and the howl of protest from Wolcott ave. residents was immediate, according to the Assessors.

10 Years Ago — June 1973

The refuse pickup program is off to a successful start, according to Town Manager J. Maynard Austin and Public Works Director Robert McQuade, who both reported to the selectman Monday night they were very pleased with the progress to date. Both the refuse pickup and the recycling program have gone through the first complete week and well into the second week of operation with only minor problems.

The decision of the Andover Zoning Board of Appeals in refusing a permit for the conduct of pony racing on property at Chandler road and Brundrett avenue, has been upheld in Superior Court. "Dizzy Downs," the pony trotting track, had been before the board over a year ago when residents of the area complained about the Middlesex Pony Trotting Association, Inc., conducting races there on Sunday. The property is located in a single residence district.

Harry Scmitke of 5 Moraine St., Andover, suddenly become a millionaire this week as the top award winner in "The Game", held Monday night in Boston. Scmitke, a Ukrainian born artist, is a 1962 graduate of the Rhode Island School of Design who currently designs packages for the Federal Paper Board Co. of Medford, and no doubt will have little difficulty in designing a new future with his newly gained winnings.

For Those of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Don't forget the potluck lunch at the Haven Friday. The center will be closed Monday in celebration of July 4.

The school lunch program resumes July 5 at the Doherty Junior High at 12 noon. Be sure to note this earlier time. Reservations should be made no later than 9:30 a.m. the day you plan to attend. Reservations are absolutely required!!!

Did you know you can get your blood pressure checked every Wednesday afternoon at the center? Between 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. each week, Andover's public health nurses are there to administer the check and counsel you. This is separate from the Tuesday mini-clinics which are much more extensive and for which appointments are required. The next Tuesday mini-clinic will be held at the center on July 5 and appointments are made through the health department.

There is room for you to go to Cape Cod Thursday, July 7. Lunch will be at the Coonamessett Inn in Falmouth and then a visit to the Heritage Plantation in Sandwich. Did you know they have little tram buses to transport you around the plantation? You don't have to walk all over the place. You can ride, included in the price of admission. Cost for the trip is $23. It is so lovely there, flowers in bloom, trees so richly leaved and such a sense of history. You'll love it!

At press time there are three tickets left for the Lawrence Welk Show in September.

It is not too early to sign up for the trip to the Fuller Gardens July 19 with lunch at the Pirates' Cove in Rye—cost $15.50—or for the clam bake on August 31. The clam bake will be held at the Captain's Clambake Emporium in Dennisport on Cape Cod. Menu includes lobster or steak, clam chowder, steamed clams, corn on the cob, baked potato, cole slaw, melon, complimentary wine, beer or soft drinks, as well as coffee. Price for the day—$26.50.

The discussion series, "Aging: A New Look," will begin Thursday, today, June 30, at 1 p.m. at Stowe Court Recreation Room. The same program will be held at Doherty School cafeteria at 11 a.m. beginning July 7. Call the center and sign up for whichever location suits you best. It is necessary that you sign up, although there is no fee involved. The discussion will touch on new thoughts about aging in the building of self esteem, combating discrimination, making new friends and enjoying yourself.

V.F.W. Awards, given by Post 2128 to the boy and girl who have the highest qualities of loyalty and Americanism, were presented to Celeste Concemi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Concemi of 22 Launching Road, and Robert Mattedi. The award is given in memory of PFC Alexander S. Waldie, who died in service in World War II, and in memory of all deceased member of the post.

The Anthony J. Stabile Memorial Award, presented to the outstanding athlete of the year, was awarded to Torrie Fitzpatrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Fitzpatrick, 11 Smithshire Estates; and Timothy Perry. The Janet Conte Memorial Plaque, awarded for excellence in foreign language study in memory of Janet Conte, an Andover foreign language teacher from 1961 to 1981, was presented to Julie Hovious, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hovious, 377 High Plain Road; Lisa Oberst; and William Liaw.

Gold Medals for Good Citizenship were presented to Kimber McGinley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McGinley of 32 North St.; Lisa Oberst; Lisa Spinelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Spinelli, 6 Mulberry Circle; Russell Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Henderson, 133 Andover St.; Tad Kitowitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kitowitz, 6 Belle Haven Drive; and Edward Kupa, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kupa of 4 Joseph St.

Western Stars, presented to those students who demonstrated outstanding character, courtesy, commitment, cooperation and citizenship, were presented to the following students who were selected for this honor in Grade 9: Jennifer Coe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Coe; Amanda Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kelly; Karen Pike, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pike; Christine Scanlon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scanlon; Kerri Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Smith; and Sharon Worcester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Worcester.

A number of students were installed in the Triple A Society, for having been named to the honor roll for all four terms: Earl Abdo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Abdo, 6 Argyle St.; Christopher Abell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grasso, Jr., 53 Juniper Road; Jennifer Amstutz; Leslie Aznoian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Aznoian, 62 Wild Rose Drive; David Bartle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bartle, 8 Talbot Road; Anglea Bobba, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Archambeault, 8 Ferndale Ave.; Arlene Ciaccia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ciaccia, 9 Exeter Way; Debra Cookson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Cookson, 17 Arundel St.; Tracy Costello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Costello, 31 Smithshire Estates; Steven Dolfe; and Kristen Duffy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duffy, 7 Dascomb Road.

And: Kathleen Griffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Griffin, 6 Sandlewood Lane; Amy Heartquist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Heartquist, 8 Dartmouth Road; Lisa Haley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Haly, 449 Lowell St.; Sheila Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, 64 Princeton Ave.; Julie Hovious; Susan Kachen; Tad Kitowitz; Edward Kupa; William Liaw; Kelly McCann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison McCann, 37 Canterbury St.; and Kimber McGinley.

Also: Karen Mesler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mesler, 12 Fulton Road; Kristen Beth Mirisola, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mirisola, 7 Carisbrooke St.; Lisa Oberst; Suzanne Patriakis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Patriakis, 35 Chandler Road; Lauren Pickard, daughter of Mrs. Joan Johnson, 2 Cyr Circle; Karen Pike; Walter Radulski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Radulski, 7 Bradlee Road; Beth Salamone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Salamone, 9 Carisbrooke St.; Christine Scanlon; Sharon Worcester, and Joy Stafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Stafford, 37 Lowell St.

And high honor awards, presented for outstanding academic achievement, were awarded to Jennifer Amstutz; Angela Bobba; Debra Cookson; Julie Hovious; William Liaw; Karen Mesler; Karen Pike; Beth Salamone; and Sharon Worcester. Those awards are presented to students who placed on the high honors list for four terms.

The class proceeded into the final assembly to "Pomp and Circumstance." Student Council President Timothy Perry opened the program with the Salute to the Flag and welcoming remarks. Celeste Concemi offered her reflections, and the West Side Singers sang "Gonna Rise Up Singin'."

Following the awards presentations by teachers, administrators and School Committee members, Principal William Hart and Tim Perry performed the bicentennial lantern ceremony, and the West Side Singers sang "The Impossible Dream." Tim Perry and Karen Pike presented the class gift, and Mr. Hart then presented the Class of 1986 to Andover High School Principal Mary Jennings. The assembly ended with the singing of "America"; the recessional was "An Anthem of Peace" by Mary Guziejka.

Doherty's Ninth Grade Honored

Doherty Junior High School honored its ninth-grade class during two recent assemblies, a final assembly held on the last day of school and an earlier awards assembly.

During the final assembly, the John Grecoe Award for athletics, scholarship, posture, habits, health and sportsmanship was presented to Robert DiTroia, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DiTroia of One Ivanhoe Lane; and to Mary Ellen Lee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee of 2 Twinbrook Circle.

The Principal's Award, presented in recognition of outstanding service to the school community, was awarded to Kathryn Murphy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy of One Punchard Avenue.

Susan Sofia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sofia of 29 Gray Road, was presented the Faculty Award, given to that student who has maintained the highest average in academic subjects in honor of former East Junior High teacher Stephen Lavioie.

The Coleman Award, given for the highest achievement in the English language in honor of M. Adelaide Coleman, a devoted teacher with 20 years of service to Andover, was presented to Bonnie Taylor, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor of 19 Timothy Drive.

Mark Hebeisen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hebeisen of 242 South Main St., was presented the L. Evelyn Parker Award for excellence in mathematics, in honor of L. Evelyn Parker, a devoted teacher at Andover Junior High from 1927 to 1965.

The Monell Award for excellence in science was presented to Pamela Kostka, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kostka, 131 Woburn St. That award is presented in honor of Helen P. Monell, an East Junior High teacher from 1960 to 1970.

Timothy McAllister, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McAllister, 8 Alderbrook Road, was presented the Social Studies award, for highest scholastic achievement in social studies.

Cheryl Giammusso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Giammusso of 68 Summer St., was awarded the Coates Award for excellence in French, presented in honor of Suzanne P. Coates, an East Junior High teacher from 1960 to 1979.

A garden bathroom creates a natural setting for bathing by allowing a view of outdoor gardens through a large fixed window or sliding glass door. The result is that an invigorating feeling can be imparted to the morning bath routine. In some cases, plants can be brought indoors to give the bath a greening touch. The addition of a skylight allows natural sunlight to assist plant growth and to provide perfect illumination for make-up. Plexiglass dividers, enclosures, windows and skylights all serve to turn a functional bath into a refreshing experience.

Baths are becoming less stereotyped these days and whether you want an elegant decor or practical, WINDSOR KITCHENS can serve your needs. We can save you time, money and needless worrying. You will find us in Ward Hill 1/2 mile north of Western Electric on Rte. 125 where we are open Mon-Thurs 9-5:30, Fri 9-8, Sat 9-2, even by appt. or phone 372-3444. There is plenty of easy and free parking near our showroom and you are welcome to come in and experience our modern showroom. We also wish you all a safe and happy July 4th. Please drive carefully over the holiday weekend.

Andover Blue Stay Hot

The Andover Blue Babe Ruth team climbed back into the thick of the league race as they won back-to-back games against North Andover and South Lawrence East. They received outstanding pitching from Rob Carpentier against North Andover and Nick Lembo (one hitter) against South Lawrence. The wins (four in last five games) enabled the Ruthers to even their record at 4-4 at the half-way mark.

Andover Blue 3 - No. Andover 2

Rob Carpentier pitched a solid seven innings in leading Andover Blue to a 3-2 victory over North Andover. Carpentier struck out five batters and yielded only five hits in his route-going performance.

Nick Lembo broke up a scoreless game in the fourth with a single knocking in John Nuzzo who had singled earlier.

North Andover pushed across two runs in the sixth to take a 2-1 lead but, with their backs to the wall, the Blue came up with two of their own in their half of the inning.

The early Spanish dollar was broken into eight piece to make change.

Andover Blue

Nuzzo led off with a long double to center and took third on a ground ball to the pitcher. He came in on a wild pitch at Ted Cormier drew a walk and stole second. The next batter flew out with Cormier still holding at second, but with two outs, Jeff Smith singled to right, scoring Cormier, which was the eventual game winner.

Andover's defense gave Carpentier fine support; Rob DiTroia at second, Ted Cormier behind the plate and Glenn Allard in rightfield all made nice plays to help preserve the win.

Andover 8 - So. Lawrence East 2

Andover jumped on East early as they scored two runs in the first inning. Rob DiTroia led off with a single and promptly stole second base. John Nuzzo rescued him with a line shot to center for the first run. After Nuzzo stole second, Ted Cormier drilled a single to left for the second tally.

South Lawrence tied the game 2-2 in the fourth without the aid of a hit. That was all they were to get however, as Nick Lembo struck out nine and walked only two on his way to a magnificent one-hit pitching performance. South Lawrence's one hit was an infield hit in the sixth inning. DiTroia made a spectacular play on it at second, but was unable to throw out the runner at first.

The Blue broke the game open in the sixth inning as they pushed across six runs. Lembo reached on an error and Jeff Smith walked to start the rally. Matt Shine followed with a hard shot up the middle which was bobbled allowing one run to score. After another South Lawrence error, Rob Carpentier lined a two-run single into left center. Nuzzo brought home the fifth run of the inning as he rocketed his third hit of the night up the middle. Lembo plated the last run with a crisp line drive single scoring pinch runner Tom Tormey from second.

Andover Gold Babe Ruth Team Stays One Game Behind First

By Rick Harrison

Despite the fact its bats were silent for most of last week, the Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team managed to stay in the middle of the Greater-Lawrence League regular-season title fight although winning just one of three games.

AG, winner of more than 100 games the last four years and 50-6 the previous two seasons, escaped from last week's action with a 6-4 overall record and 5-4 league mark.

That left Gold one game behind first-place South Lawrence West, which also dropped two of three and fell to 6-3, while North Andover is 5-3 and Andover Blue is also in solid contention at 4-4.

Gold managed just one run and five hits in its first two games last week, dropping a 4-0 decision to Blue (details in last week's TOWNSMAN) and then losing to North Andover 4-1 at Grogan's Field.

AG, suffering through its most anemic offensive period in almost four years, snapped a 14-inning scoreless string with a seventh inning run against North Andover.

Gold turned things around in its final game of the week, pounding out 12 hits enroute to a 5-3 decision over South Lawrence West at the Phillips Academy field.

AG pitching remained consistently strong as Scott Deery tossed a six-hitter and struck out four against Blue, Kevin Rourke fired a four-hitter and fanned six against North Andover and Mark Doherty scattered seven safeties while whiffing five against SLW.

North Andover, 4-1

North Andover, beaten 5-3 by Gold the first time around, squared the season's series as hard-throwing Rich Blinn checked AG on two hits.

Blinn, who had a no-hitter working for 5-2/3 innings, struck out five and walked only two.

Kevin Rourke (1-1) was the hard-luck loser, tossing a four-hitter, walking five and striking out six. Two of the runs off Rourke were unearned.

NA jumped ahead 2-0 in the bottom of the second when Mike McCabe walked. Blinn reached on an error and Dan Strobel spanked a two-run, one-out single through the draw-in Gold infield.

Rourke then walked the next two batters, but escaped further trouble by retiring the following two hitters on a strikeout and infield popup.

North Andover added a pair of insurance runs in the third when Chris Abel grounded an opposite-field single to right, McCabe lashed an RBI triple to rightfield and Paul Bernardin laid down a suicide squeeze bunt.

Rourke retired the last 10 men he faced in order, but Gold was unable to get its offense untracked.

Chris Colsia broke up the no-hit bid with a sharp sixth inning single and the shutout was ruined in the seventh when Rourke hammered a leadoff double, took third on a wild pitch and scored on Mike Lane's infield out.

Gold threatened in the first and second stanzas when Leo Gravell and Lane were safe on errors and eventually moved to third base, but both times Blinn bore down to escape the jam.

Defensive standouts for AG included Gravell at second base, Lane at first base, Rourke on the mound (four assists) and catcher Shane Smith who gunned down two would-be stealers (seven for the season).

Andover Gold, 5-3

Gold finally got the bats working against South Lawrence West, scoring all five runs on six hits in baserunners in every other inning, but failed to add to their total.

Mark Doherty (2-0 league, 3-0 overall) pitched a courageous game, working out of several jams while allowing seven hits and alking six.

Larry Aiello had a perfect night offensively, going 4-for-4 at the plate while Leo Gravel and Shane Smith added two hits apiece.

West took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first when leadoff batter Ron Drouin walked, stole second and scored as Bob Farrington smacked a two-out, two-strike knuckleball to right-centerfield for a double.

Aiello started the five-run Gold eruption wit a one-out single to centerfield, Chirs Colsia walked and Kevin Rourke beat out an infield hit to load the bases.

Doherty slapped an RBI single to centerfield, Smith followed with a two-run single to center and Scott Deery rescued Doherty with a suicide squeeze bunt.

Kurt Burzlaff walked to reload the bases, Earl Abdoo forced Smith at home on a questionable call and then Gravel spanked an RBI single to right-field to plate Deery.

Burzlaff also tried to score on the hit, but was thrown out at the plate on another controversial call.

SLW, which had baserunners in every inning including the fourth when Doherty struck out the side, made it 5-2 in the third as Bill Buckley walked, Bill Blackwell walked and Farrington rapped an RBI single.

The final West run came in the seventh when Dan Bergeron walked, Farrington singled and Bob St. Louis' infield roller was misplayed for Gold's only error. The game ended on the same play, however, as Farrington made a wide turn at third base and was nailed as he tried to scramble back to the bag.

Gold's other serious threat came in the fourth when Gravel and Aiello laced back-to-back one-out singles, then advanced on a passed ball.

SLW complete-game losing pitcher Dan Cardillo worked his way out of the jam.

Burzlaff contributed a single for AG, while defensive standouts were Gravel at second base (five chances), Doherty on the mound (four assists), Smith at catcher (two more assists) and Aiello at first base.

Because of several major conflicts, Gold's 13th annual trip to Montreal was postponed this week and rescheduled for early August.

Golf Tourney

Planning is underway for the Fifth Annual Ceres Street Open, a fund-raising golf tournament which has been described as "the most unusual golfing event in the U.S.", using everything including golf clubs to complete the play.

The 1983 Ceres Street Open will be held on September 18, in the Ceres Street and Old harbor District of Portsmouth, N. H. This is normally a quiet and elegant street offering dining and shopping, overlooking the scenic Piscataqua River. In a few months, for one Sunday afternoon, celebrities and spectators with gather to be giddy, outlandish, to entertain and be entertained in the craziest mock chip and putt celebrity golf tourney in the U. S.

The originators and members of the CSO Board, Anne Blanchard, Michael Smith, Russell Rahn and Anthony Scar-poni, have decided this year to direct the fund-raising efforts toward the Seacoast Big Brothers/Big Sisters organization, and to the late Governor Hugh J. Gallen's Special Children's Fund for Camp Fatima, Copper Canyon and N. H. Special Olympics. In addition, this Fifth Annual Ceres Street Open will be dedicated to the memory of the late Governor who "always found time to support events aimed at improving the well-being of N. H.'s youth."

During the past four years the fund-raising efforts have resulted in steady increases. After the first Open was over in 1979, the net funds realized for Great Bay School & Training Center were $2000. The second year the CSO was fund-raising for Portsmouth Rehabilitation and made $5000. In 1981 and last year, n. H. Special Olympics was the beneficiary of the CSO efforts. They received $8000 in 1981 and last year the CSO raised funds beyond everyone's expectations to net $10,000.

Anne Blanchard, spokesperson for the Ceres Street Open Committee, said "Our goal this year is $15,000 and we believe we can do it, thanks to the tremendous support given by the community, visitors and our dedicated volunteer group."

Orioles 7 - Twins 0

The Orioles shut out the Twins behind the two-hit pitching of Brett Hammond and Hugh Maginnis and the hitting of David Carriere who had two hits and four RBIs.

The Orioles scored one run in the first. Maginnis led off with a walk. Carriere forced him at second. Craig Knight singled and Pat Kelley's infield hit scored Carriere. The Orioles' Hammond pitched scoreless ball through three innings allowing only a base hit to Keith Abernathy and a bunt single to Jerome Guerrard. The Twins' Chris Lane settled down, shutting out the Orioles in the second and third.

The Orioles put the game out of reach in the fourth with four runs. Chip Stella singled to center. Jay Busby and Maginnis walked. Carriere tripled to right-center, clearing the bases. Knight singled to score Carriere. Two insurance runs were added in the fifth. Mark Leinson walked, Maginnis tripled to score Leinson and Carriere singled home Maginnis.

Defensively, Kelley made a great grab of a pop fly in right. Hammond, playing shortstop, turned an unassisted double play. Mike Smith, the Orioles' second baseman, handled three assists and two put outs flawlessly. Stella had eight put outs at first base.

The Twins' shortstop Abernathy and centerfielder Peter Radulski made several fine plays to support the pitching of Lane and Scott Livermore.

Indians 7 - Tigers 6

The Indians squeaked out an extra inning win against the Tigers. It was 4-1 Indians after four, but the Tigers tied it up in the fifth. The Tigers put two across in the top of the seventh, but the Tribe scored three to win.

There were many offensive stars. For the Indians, John Pike (3 hits, a triple to lead off the seventh), Matt Pothier (3 hits, 2 doubles, bases loaded double in the seventh won the game), Brian Smith (2 hits, key bases loaded single in the seventh scored the fifth run), John Glynn (2 hits, 3 RBI) and Ken Leng (single). For the Tigers, Steve Howes, (2 hits, key triple in fifth to tie game), Doug Howes (2 hits, 2 runs), Jose Guerra (double in seventh knocked in two runs), Paul Salafia (single) and Steve Knight (single).

The game was well pitched with John Glynn going six and striking out nine for the Indians. Peter Donegan pitched the seventh. Doug Howes, George Bilger and Sean Ryan all pitched well for the Tigers.

Defensively, Tigers third baseman David Sopp made a great stab. Ian O'Neal and Peter Van Olinda also played well. Mike Lebreck, Todd Roycroft and Chris Pothier played five defense for the Indians.

Indians 11 - Yankees 8

The Indians came from behind to beat the first-place Yankees. The Yanks had built up an 8-3 lead through four innings, but the Indians rallied for eight runs in the fifth.

The Yanks' Sean Bergen was definitely the hitting star of the day (4-for-4, 2 home runs, 2 doubles, 5 RBIs, 4 runs scored), David Jaye had 2 hits, 2 RBIs, Pat Hayes 2, Josh Malitsky and Bob Lowry.

For the Indians Mike Lebreck delivered a key bases loaded double in the big rally. Derek Camarota also had two important hits. Other hitters were John Glynn (2B), Jamie Spinelli (1 RBI) and Matt Pothier (1 RBI).

Defensively, Pat Breen for the Yaks and Ken Leng for the Indians played well.

Yankees 8 - White Sox 7

The Yankees clinched the American League title with an 8-7 victory over the White Sox in the completion of a game which was suspended earlier in the season. The game began in the top of the eighth inning with Brian Davies pitching for the Yankees. He got the side out without a run being scored, striking out two batters and walking two. Sean Bergen led off in the bottom of the inning and promptly hit a long homerun to end the game and clinch the title for the Yankees.

Yankees 9 - Red Sox 3

The American League Yankees came back from a 1-0 deficit after the first half-inning to post a 9-3 victory over the Red Sox. The Red Sox took the lead on a long home run by Kevin Foley. The Yankees came back with two runs on three straight hits, a nice bunt by Josh Malitsky, a single off the pitcher's leg by Pat Breen and a long double by Sean Bergen. The Red Sox tied the score in the second inning on a hit batsman, a couple passed balls and a single by David Milne. They went ahead in the third on singles by Jeremy Gibson and Kevin Foley with Gibson scoring on a passed ball. The Yankees went ahead to stay in the fourth inning scoring seven runs on four walks, two to Geoff Schaake, singles by Pat Breen, David Jaye and a double by Josh Malitsky.

Defensively, David Hughes, John Davies and Schaake all made fine plays in the field for the Yankees. Steve Liaw played a strong game at first base. For the Red Sox, Andy Weiner and Foley played well in the field. Breen pitched four innings, giving up three runs on four hits while Malitsky went the last two innings without allowing a hit. Foley went the distance for the Red Sox, giving up eight hits while striking out nine hitters.

Tigers 16 - White Sox 3

The Tigers' demolition team exploded with 16 runs, 12 hits and seven walks-barrage enroute to dominating the White Sox.

Steve Howes pitched very well for the Tigers giving up only five hits while striking out seven White Sox. Handling the White Sox pitching were Mark Schwetz, Chris Eggert and Bill Haley.

Leading the Tiger offensive onslaught were Ian O'Neal (single, 2 walks), Doug Howes (double, single), Steve Howes (2 doubles), Dave Sopp (single), Sean Ryan (double, single), Mike Hein (single), Paul Salafia (single, walk), George Bilger (single, walk), Mike Tiberii (2 walks) and Steve Knight (walk).

White Sox hits were produced by Chris Eggert (home run and walk), Rob Labell (double), Mike DiStefano (single), Bill Haley (single) and Mark Schwetz (single).

The Tigers' defensive stars were Hein, Doug Howes, Tiberii, Steve Howes and Ryan.

The Declaration of Independence wasn't signed on July 4, 1776 as is popularly believed. It was adopted that day, but most of the delegates didn't sign it until Aug. 2, 1776.

It seems hard to believe, but Montreal, Canada, is farther south than Paris, France.

Miami, Florida's name was originally Fort Dallas.

The only cities or towns in America whose names start with the letter "X" are Xenia, Illinois and Xenia, Ohio.

George Washington lived in a house called the White House 30 years before he was President. When he married Martha Custis, her home, by coincidence, was known as the "White House"; Washington lived there in 1759. He didn't become President till 1789.

And, here's another interesting fact... In 1950 the average car cost 70% of income today it's only cost 35%.

Mets Take 2nd Half Title

The Mets' second-half record of 8 wins-2 losses was good enough to best the fast-closing Cubs and the first-half champion Cardinals. The team featured good pitching from right-hander Mike Troy, solid catching by Andy Shea and over .400 hitting from Shea, Troy and Mark Angelos. The team was not a high run producer, but was consistent defensively and won several low-scoring contests.

Mets 6 - Dodgers 5

With David Tucker pitching a perfect game over the first three stanzas and only allowing two hits after five innings, the Mets were cruising along with a 6-1 lead. But, in the sixth the Dodgers combined three hits and a walk to narrow the margin to 6-4. Andy Shea relieved the starter Tucker and earned the save by whiffing the last two outs with the bases loaded. Bo Wilmer, Shea and Troy had the Mets' hits.

53 journalists from 16 countries named it Europe's "Car of The Year."

We named it the new Audi 5000S.

Audi When the new Audi 5000S was voted Europe's "Car of The Year," we were, of course, pleased. But we weren't surprised.

You won't be either once you drive it.

How many other five-passenger luxury touring sedans can accelerate from zero to 50 in just 8 seconds? Or cut through wind resistance with the impunity of a sports car? Or handle superbly, even in tight-cornering situations?

The new 5000S, with its advanced German engineering, can do all this. And more. In fact, after 6 years of designing and refining and over 3.2 million kilometers of road testing, this just may be the most roadworthy luxury sedan ever built.

The 5000S is also the product of fresh design ideas. For example, the idea of flush-mounted side windows and bonded front and rear windows (which not only help reduce drag but virtually eliminate wind noise).

What's more, you'll like the idea of our new 24-month, unlimited mileage warranty* and the long-term reliability that prompted it.

But, most of all, you'll like driving the new Audi 5000S.

Not because all those experts did. But for all the same reasons they did.

Bob's Auto Body For A Great Look

When you need body or refinishing work done on your car or truck turn to Bob's Auto Body, 90 Main St., N. Reading (opposite the Star-Lite Drive-In), for quality work giving you perfect results every time!

Bob's Auto Body has not only the most up-to-date equipment but also more machines and equipment than most other auto body shops in the area to handle absolutely anything you bring in. The auto industry is changing so quickly that most auto body shops aren't keeping up with the latest technology. At Bob's everything from dented fenders to complete body work and paint jobs on foreign and domestic cars as well as any size trucks can be made to look better than new like the almost completed MG pictured above.

They are Merrimack Valley's Unibody Repair specialists. Most new cars have unibody frames where the frame is actually welded to the car and requires special care. Bob's has the unibody expertise to give your car that special care.

A member of the Massachusetts Auto Body Shop Owners Association, Bob Fierro, owner of Bob's Auto Body, has over ten years experience and manager Tom Meuse also has ten years experience. Regardless of the size of the problem, the type or year of the automobile, Bob's Auto Body assures you of professional quality work.

Need a paint job? Bob mixes all his own paints on the premises to create a perfect color match. There can be many variables in repainting, but the latest technological machine allows Bob's to compensate for any varying hues.

As licensed appraisers, Bob's Auto Body can also give you insurance estimates. And if you need glasswork done, they can handle that, too.

So when you want the best body or refinishing work for your car or truck, call Bob's Auto Body. Open Monday-Friday 8-5 p.m. Tel. 664-5990.

BUSINESS PROFILES

Ace Upholstering Company

Ace Upholstering Company, 164 So. Union St., Lawrence, offers complete re-upholstering service for commercial and residential furniture: free pick-up and delivery, re-upholstering, refinishing if needed, they'll even redesign the piece to your specifications and they stand behind all their work!

Whether it's restoring an antique, replacing worn fabric, recovering lawn furniture or completely changing the style of the furniture, owner Frank Moreau and his men can assure you of quality workmanship.

And since all work is performed on the premises, you are welcome to come anytime to see exactly how the upholstery is done.

If you don't want to be without your furniture, why not have it picked up before you go on vacation to have it all ready for you when you return.

Upholstering any piece begins by selecting a suitable fabric. Ace Upholstering always offers 20% off a wide selection of fabrics: everything from leather to nylon to brocades. There's sure to be something you'll love.

Before the fabric is applied, the piece is stripped down to its frame. This enables joints to be reglued, springs to be retied and allows for rewebbing if necessary. Wood refinishing can also be done at this time.

Horsehair or foam rubber padding and cotton batting are then added to give the comfort desired. And finally the fabric is expertly fitted for the finishing touch.

Ace Upholstering also carries all upholstery supplies for do-it-yourselfers. And Frank says that if you run into a problem while doing your own reupholstering, he'd be happy to answer your questions.

With Friendly service like that and quality workmanship, you'd think that would be enough. But Ace Upholstering also fully guarantees all their work and supplies fitted arm covers and a head rest free for the upholstered piece.

So if you've found a flea market bargain or just need new fabric on your home or office furniture call Ace Upholstering Co. Monday-Friday 8-5. Tel. 683-2542.

THE EXCLUSIVE LISTING

When you make your decision to sell your home, there are a variety of arrangements you can make. But if you are seriously intent on selling your home in the shortest amount of time and at the price you are asking, it would pay you to consider making an "exclusive" listing with your REALTOR.

Under these conditions, the REALTOR will have the added incentive and protection to go all-out in heavily advertising your home and putting all the extra effort possible into selling the property.

When would you want to deal on an exclusive contract basis with your REALTOR? If your home is somewhat special or especially high-priced, it would pay you to work with a REALTOR who has shown a good track record in selling these kinds of homes. He has the right list of prospects and the experience and technique which could be put to your full advantage.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pynchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Mansion Tours

A 59-room mansion designed by Chicago architect David Adler and once the summer residence of Chicago industrialist Richard T. Crane, Jr. at Castle Hill in Ipswich, will be open to the public July 8, 9, 22, 23 and August 5 and 6 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Castle Hill, which was placed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1978, overlooks 200 acres of preservation land, Crane Beach and the Atlantic Ocean and includes 165 acres of formal gardens and landscaped grounds.

The Olmsted Brothers Firm designed much of the landscaping and provided an Italian garden and an allee which is punctuated by a swimming pool and casino. Shortly after completion, Crane's neighbor, landscape architect Arthur Schurcliff, added the rose garden, a vegetable garden, a maze and bowling (no longer extant). The present approach road and continued the grand allee from the casino to the sea.

In 1927 the original villa was razed and the present English-style manor house was built in its place.

The Crane Estate is also the setting for the 11th Castle Hill Festival, a festival of chamber music, theatre and entertainments, which will take place on the grounds every weekend through August 21.

HAVE A SAFE AND HAPPY FOURTH!!

Jim's mother used to say that the summer was almost over when the fourth of July was celebrated. To me, it had just begun!! But it's true - before we know it, Labor Day will be here!! So have a wonderful vacation but, if you need a new home before school starts, don't delay ... time has a way of creeping up on us.

The perfect home for a growing family. Four bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, maple floors, leaded windows, good solid construction and so conveniently located. A wonderful value—
$120,000

VILLAGE GREEN TOWNHOUSE - Two bedrooms, 1 1/2 baths, finished room in basement and conveniently located near pool. Very affordable. $57,500

Introducing the vacation home mortgage that can have you moving in the right circles.

Whether you like to soak up sun in Falmouth or take a break in the Berkshires, it's worth taking time off to visit BayBanks® first.

Because right now we're offering a variety of fixed and variable rate mortgages with the flexibility to fit almost every situation.

Be it a cottage on the beach, a pied-à-terre in the city or a cabin in the mountains, we can finance it to as much as $500,000.

Plus, BayBanks mortgages provide you with a competitive rate, competitive closing costs, and the promise to process your application with speed.

Even better, you can apply for a mortgage at any of the more than 200 convenient BayBank offices around Massachusetts.

So if any of the homes you've been circling look promising, visit your nearest BayBank office. And get the mortgage that can make it easier to move right in.

Dining Out Enjoyed by Millions

The art of dining out is enjoyed by millions each year.

This is the report of a survey made by the National Restaurant Association which states that one out of every three food dollars is spent for meals outside the home.

The NRA also reports that one out of every three persons in the United States enjoys dining out, be it for a snack, lunch or dinner.

Better than 50 percent of the families included in the survey said they had eaten out in the prior week. By 1982, the projections from the survey indicate, one out of every two dollars spent for food will be spent for meals away from home.

Why do people leave the home to dine?

There are no doubt as many answers as there are people but one major reason is that it is an enjoyable activity in which the entire family can participate. But, and this is the big factor, no member of the family has to wash the dishes or clean up the dining room.

People are naturally drawn to good food, excellently prepared and served with style. And it is to such restaurants that the American family turns to for a change, whether it is once a week, one a month or just to celebrate a birthday, a promotion or an anniversary.

Such restaurants are becoming more popular each year according to the most recent NRA survey. Currently they rate third in popularity and all indications are that they will gain in the years to come.

Choosing restaurants is a personal thing and there are many and varied reasons, but the most important factor is quality.

The cost of a meal also enters into the habit of eating out. According to the NRA survey, the average amount spent on breakfast at restaurants is $1.81 per person; $3.50 for an average lunch; 6.95 for an average dinner and 1.00 cents for between meal snacks.

The 45 and 54 age group eat out more frequently and they spend the most money — an average of $25.00 a week. The lowest expenditure was among the under 25 age group, averaging $20.00 a week. Families in the 55 and over age group spent $17.00 weekly.

These are averages for the nation; some areas perhaps have higher percentages. And this section of the country, with an international reputation for good food, no doubt has a higher percentage than many areas. Right now, dining out has grown to the extent that restaurants purchase about 20 percent of the country's food products. In addition, the food service industry employs 4.7 percent of the nation's work force, the largest number of any retail sector, according to the National Restaurant Association.

In fact, an NRA official said recently that "the food service industry is one of the bright spots in the nation's economic picture. Dining out is a significant part of the life-style of this great country, and the restaurant industry makes a major contribution to our nation's economy."

— Dining Out — An Occasion For All Seasons

Dining out has become a popular American experience, whether it be for a snack, sandwich or a formal meal. Once reserved for special occasions, visits to fine restaurants in our area are now more popular and commonplace than ever. It offers a relaxing change of pace, a chance to discuss business, or just a social gathering among friends, with good food and beverage to spice the occasion.

In the pages of this special TOWNSMAN dining section you'll find many of our area's, and New England's finest dining places, offering the right atmosphere and the right menu for any occasion.

Dining Out Decision 'Food For Thought'

The decisions involved in eating out differ from circumstance to circumstance, according to results of a new National Restaurant Association consumer attitude and behavior study.

The decision on where to eat is made differently depending on restaurant type. The decision to go to a fast food or family restaurant is usually made on a spur of the moment, while deciding to go to an upscale restaurant generally requires more planning — perhaps due to the need for resertions.

Six out of 10 respondents reported that they decided which fast food restaurant to go to immediately before eating out another 26 percent made the decision within two hours prior to eating. Of family restaurant patrons, 41.7 percent decided where to eat immediately before going there, 33.7 percent made the decision within two hours before eating, and 21.4 percent decided where to eat more than two hours before eating out but on the same day.

Most Seafood Eaten Out

Americans eat an average of 111 pounds of meat each year, but only 12 pounds of fish.

Fish, however, is considered big business for restaurateurs because an estimated 75 percent of all seafood is eaten out.

As one fish and chip franchise owner put it, "Fish is the meal you can take home, but can't make as well at home."

While Americans eagerly throw a steak into the broiler or pop a roast into the oven, most wait until they're seated at a restaurant to order baked stuffed lobster or shrimp Creole.

Dining experts say that most Americans simply haven't had enough exposure to seafood, but all that's changing.

Throughout the midwest and non-coastal regions of the United States, new seafood restaurants are cropping up. Nautical white tablecloth restaurants, as well as lower priced, family dining out spots featuring seafood, are growing rapidly.

Can Too Much Service Be Annoying?

As hard as it may be to believe, there can be such a thing as too much service in a restaurant or, more precisely misguided service that becomes intrusive. Good service, in the traditional idiom, should be virtually invisible, with captains, waiters and busboys at the ready but otherwise out of the diner's consciousness if not out of sight.

This is not to say that a dining-room staff is made up of nonentities or automatons. In the best European restaurants there is always an exchange of recognition and greeting between guest and captain or waiter and waitress, some eye-to-eye exchange of mutual respect, acknowledging that all are in it together. The best waiters and waitresses develop a sixth sense that enables them to anticipate a customer's needs and to fulfill them deftly and unobtrusively.

In New York's more expensive and tonier restaurants, however, there seems to be an increasing sense that it is the customer who must adjust to the schedule and convenience of the staff, not the other way around. If the captain is ready to describe the day's specials or take the order, the customer had better be ready, never mind the conversation that was under way. Without so much as an "excuse me," many captains and waiters push their way into conversations, certain that their business is far more urgent than yours. If they do not interrupt outright, they hover like angels of doom, laying a heavy trip of guilt and a sense of urgency on paying guests. Nor do they display great patience with guests who must deliberate more than a few minutes about what they want to eat. Waiters, after, all have things to do, so the game must be played at their pace.

That feeling is transmitted when one guest eats more slowly than others, so that the timing of later courses becomes a bit tricky. It is not unusual to be made aware of an exasperated waiter standing in the wings, or worse yet, for him to remove empty plates in an attempt to rush guests who have not finished.

In a misguided effort to impart a sense of service (or perhaps because they are Aquarians), some waiters become incessant water pourers, reaching across tables with pitchers every time a sip is taken. Others think good service is a matter of clean ashtrays and replace them whenever an ash is flicked. Still others, apparently unable to stand seeing a roll with a piece out of it, repeatedly replace half-eaten ones with whole ones — a practice as distracting as wasteful. As the meal progresses and an arm darts in and out of view, it feels as if one is being waited on by an overzealous octopus, albeit with cloth-covered tentacles.

Most annoying, no matter how well-intended, is the apparent notion that guests are too incompetent to season their food with pepper or mustard, to know how much cheese to spoon out of a bowl, or to pour oil and vinegar. It would seem far better to put those seasonings on the table so guests can "add to taste," as the writers of recipes are fond of saying. No waiter has ever added exactly the right amount of any seasoning or sauce for my taste, and I invariably wish he would simply put the mill, jar or sauceboat on the table and go away.

It is of course helpful and often necessary to have a captain perform the major table-side services — flambeing crepes, boning fish, tossing fettuccine with cream and cheese — but seasoning, it would seem, is best left to the eater. If that means more service ware, so be it.

Though the display of a beautifully prepared dish before it is served is traditional, members of a well-trained dining-room staff should be able to sense when the action will break the tone of a conversation.

Wines Of The Chablis Region

By Terry Robards

The menu, extracted from a heap of memorabilia, was from the Savoy Hotel in London, with its crest centered in red at the top. It offered several choices, including a lobster mousse and lamb chops, plus two recommendations for wine. Intended to accompany the lamb chops was a Chateau Mouton Baron Philippe 1967, a Bordeaux of good character. But the first was more interesting: a Petit Chablis 1970, intended to complement the lobster mousse.

It turned out to be a luscious wine, fruity yet dry, with the characteristic earthiness of the Chablis area — a flavor that is readily identifiable and that bears no similarity to the wines made in other countries that borrow the chablis name.

Not since that day have I encountered a Petit Chablis on any restaurant's wine list, nor have I seen one in a store in a number of years. Has Petit Chablis disappeared as a French appellation? Do consumers no longer have the option to order the least expensive genuine Chablis from France?

The questions intrigued me, for my acquaintance with the wines of Chablis, the northernmost outpost of the French Burgundy district, had begun with Petit Chablis, mainly because it was the least costly of the genuine Chablis. Moreover, it was usually good value for it displayed the steely or flinty dryness typical of Chablis even if it lacked the depth and richness of others of the name.

To understand what Petit Chablis requires a comprehension of the hierarchy of the Chablis district. The greatest are the so-called grands crus, or great growths, the wines from individual vineyards whose names appear on labels — for example, Les Clos or Grenouilles.

Then there are the premiers crus, or first growths, also with named vineyards such as Montee de Tonnerre or Vaillon. Then there is the general category called, simply, Chablis — very good wine but not quite as full of character as the grands or premiers crus.

At the lower end of the hierarchy is Petit Chablis, so named no doubt because the least favorably situated vineyards produce it. Nevertheless, it was genuine Chablis and a favorite of budget-conscious consumers because it always cost a dollar or two a bottle less than regular Chablis.

Abdallah H. Simon, president of the chateau and estate wines division of Seagram, said: "The availability has been reduced because there's been resistance to the appellation."

Restaurants Respond To NRA Survey

A survey was conducted among 200 members selected at random from the National Restaurant Association membership, with proportional representation from all 48 continental states.

Some statistics on respondents:

1. Seventy-four percent characterize themselves as family service, medium-check; 17% say they're white-cloth, high-check types; and 9% say they're fast food and carry-out places.

2. The sample says 17% of their revenues come from breakfast, 30% from luncheon, and 53% from dinner.

3. The average restaurant in the sample redecorates (paints or washes) every 2.5 years, while it completely remodels and refurnishes every 5.7 years.

4. The sample says 54% of customers prefer to sit in side chairs (not arms), 30% like arm chairs, 6% like swivel chairs, and 10% prefer booths.

Some conclusions:

1. Dining out involved companionship, even at breakfast. Most people eat with two persons or more: 38% with two more at breakfast, 48% at lunch, 57% at dinner.

2. Most dining patrons (47% to 59%) prefer to sit at tables rather than in booths or at the counter.

3. Anywhere from 54% to 61% of diners are men.

4. Men spend less time at dinner (1 hour 35 minutes vs. 1 hour 30 minutes).

5. Breakfast averages $1.12 in price, luncheons $1.70 and dinners $3.95. Luncheons and dinners are higher-priced at private parties in the same restaurants. Prices have stayed approximately the same over the past year.

6. Men tip consistently higher than women: 13% vs. 9% at breakfast, 14% vs. 10% at lunch, and 15% vs. 12% at dinner.

7. Tastes in foods vary between men and women. At breakfast, over two-thirds of men prefer eggs with some form of breakfast meat (bacon, sausage, ham), while almost half of the women prefer rolls or toast. At luncheon beef is preferred by the men, while the women want salads. At dinner, nearly half the men like steak, while the same number of women prefer seafood.

8. Men and women see almost eye-to-eye on the ordering of dessert; only about a quarter to a third do so. Pies are the preferred luncheon dessert for those men who do order, and they're also the leading favorite with women. At dinner, pies lead with men, but women prefer ice cream.

9. Where drinks are available, the men will outdrink the women: 1.5 vs. 1.1 cocktails at lunch, 2.5 vs. 1.5 cocktails at dinner.

10. Cash is the preferred method of paying for a meal. 95% at breakfast, 89% at luncheon, 84% at dinner.

The word "tips" is said to have originated from the first letters of the phrase "to insure prompt service." Since most tipping is done after the service has been performed, it would appear to reward rather than to insure good service.

But why should tipping be a prerequisite for being served promptly and courteously? Frankly, I do not think that it is. Rather, I believe that the custom must have originated as a sort of status symbol on the part of the served to demonstrate their ability to pay for special treatment.

For many years, waitresses, waiters, bellboys and other service employees in many large hotels, restaurants and clubs not only worked for their tips, alone but actually paid for the privilege of working. With the advent of the minimum wage laws, this custom was abolished.

Many Facets To Proper Tipping

You've just finished a superb meal in a leading Parisian restaurant. As the waiter hovers at your right elbow and the wine steward smiles encouragingly on the left, you wonder nervously how much of a tip they expect — how much, in other words, must you give to enable a dignified retreat from the premises.

There are pros and cons on this one, and a rule of thumb could be based on what kind of wages the servant receives. If the person works only for tips — and some do, then give a tip. If service is excellent, be generous. Where a living wage is paid anyway, think in terms of how good the service was, and tip accordingly. Tips are a way of life in most of the world, and the well-greased palm is the one on which the system turns. Some balance between no tips and too liberal a tip is desired.

Coming to the rescue on tipping is a new TWA pamphlet called "Tipping." Covering customs on tipping in countries the airline serves, the pamphlet is the result of a survey taken among TWA employees around the world. National include Austria, Egypt, France West Germany, Britain, Greece, Israel, Italy Portugal, Spain and the United States.

You didn't know theater ushers receive tips? In most countries they don't but count on this in Egypt, France, Greece, Italy, Portugal and Spain.

Cab drivers around the world usually expect from 10 to 15 percent of the meter charges. There are some exceptions, such as in Japan and New Zealand. TWA's booklet covers customs in the countries listed above.

Waiters around the world expect a tip, even if a service charge already has been levied on your bill. Try 10 to 15 percent of the bill, minus taxes, such as the European V.A.T.

Newburyport's Garrison Inn Steeped In History

Facing Brown Square in Newburyport, is a four story brick building of the middle Georgian period known as the Garrison Inn. Built for a leading Newburyport merchant and philanthropist, Moses Brown, at the peak of Newburyport's Clipper Ship prosperity in the years 1809-1810, this structure was apparently designed as a row of elegant town houses facing a square laid out for public enjoyment in the year 1802. Illness of the unidentified contractor curtailed construction after only the first two residences were completed, each with a bake oven, front and rear entrance, and elaborate second floor drawing room. Rat-tailed brick connectors for the unbuilt third residence still show, though work probably stopped in 1810. Even with the Brown Square House, uncompleted, the two interconnected residences in it constitute the largest remaining 19th century brick house in the city of Newburyport, a community known for its multitude of early 19th century brick houses.

Possibly a row of three brick residences was designed for Moses Brown and two older surviving brothers, one of whom died while construction work was in progress. In any event, Moses Brown never moved from the Tristram Dalton House on State Street. By 1812-1813 two families occupied the two completed residences: the son-in-law and only daughter of Moses Brown, William B. and Mary Banister, newlyweds in November 1812, and Dr. Lawrence Sprague, physician and surgeon, and family. Banister was a lawyer and leading Federalist in Newburyport politics. He served as a Representative, later a Senator in the legislature, and a delegate to the State Constitutional Convention in 1820.

The great Newburyport fire of May 1811 did not quite reach Brown Square or Moses Brown's wharves, but the war of 1812 depressed the economy of the town, and caused Moses Brown financial losses. By 1813 the Brown Square House had been partly converted to commercial uses. There were stores, including a dry goods store, perhaps selling the New England rum manufactured by Moses Brown at the distillery on his wharves. Dr. Sprague saw patients in his residence, also. In the 1820's Moses Brown encouraged the location of commercial enterprises on Brown Square.

Following Moses Brown's death in 1827, the Brown Square House passed to his only heir, Sarah White Banister, who owned the property until her death in 1880. By 1850 Mrs. C. C. P. Betton had a boarding house there, being succeeded by W. H. Thompson innkeeper, in turn succeeded by E. P. Pride in the 1870's. After Mrs. Sarah Banister Hale's death in 1880, Mr. Pride named the building the Brown Square Hotel. In 1907 the hotel has steam heat, baths, electric lights, and was open year-round. By 1909 there was dining room service. Robert W. Welche, owner of Newburyport's now-demolished Wolfe Tavern, purchased the property in 1922, and on July 2, 1923 opened the Garrison Inn, named in honor of Newburyport's famed abolitionist, William Lloyd Garrison, whose statue has stood in Brown Square since 1893.

Following construction of the Interstate 95 by-pass, guest usage of the Garrison Inn declined, and in the Spring of 1954 the Garrison Inn closed its doors.

In 1970 Mr. Welshe died, leaving the Garrison Inn to his close friend, Mrs. J. Therese O'Leary, who on February 3, 1972 sold the property to Martin R. Staab's Garrison Inn Trust.

Today the building stands as Newburyport's last remaining inn.

Dining Out Can Save Money, Says Expert

"Dining out can be significantly cheaper than preparing and eating the same meal at home," says Professor Lee Kreul of Purdue University's School of Consumer and Family Sciences. "In fact, it can be as much as 92 percent cheaper in some cases!"

Kreul's statement is based on a recently completed study evaluating the cost dynamics of home vs. restaurant dining commissioned by the Time Out Institute.

One role most women continue to dominate is that of meal planner-preparer with total food budgeting and expenditure responsibilities. "We wanted to know if making a meal from scratch was still the most economical and practical means of feeding her family," commented Kreul. "So many aspects of women's lives and family structure have changed, we felt certain traditional meal economics may well have changed also."

Kreul's assumption proved correct. His study compared eight different dining situations for both sandwich and fried chicken meal prepared at home and purchased by four different sized families. Every attempt was made to duplicate the restaurant meal in the home situation as closely as possible.

The study confirmed the smaller the family unit, the greater the savings realized by opting for the restaurant meal. In fact, a single person could save as much as 92 percent by eating a chicken dinner out versus preparing a similar meal at home.

As families continue to decrease in size and change in structure, the option to dine out is even more of an economic value Kreul stresses. The Bureau of Census reports family unit size decreased from 3.14 persons in 1970 to 2.78 in 1979 ... a figure expected to drop to 2.5 by 1980. "Our study clearly shows that a restaurant's ability to inexpensively produce a meal at a lower unit cost is due to the large volume of meals served daily. As family sizes decrease, that restaurant economy of scale naturally makes it far more expensive for the home chef to produce a low-unit cost meal," Kreul summarizes.

Kreul's study disproved the common assumption "made-from-scratch-meals" are always less expensive. Findings also sharply contradict a recent USDA study which compared raw food costs of a hamburger meal at home with the same meal's menu price in a fast food restaurant. The USDA concluded the homemade meal to be a clear cost savings.

"the USDA study isn't realistic," charges Kreul. "It is a narrow view to compare just the food price and totally disregard other costs incurred in home food preparation — preparer's time, service, clean-up, kitchen facility and utility use costs. These variable costs are all included, plus profit, in the restaurant's menu price and should be taken into consideration in any price comparison research."

Studies generally, and wrongly, overlook the cost of a homemaker's meal planning, preparation and service time. Other household costs such as gas and electricity or range maintenance, related to each meal, have also increased. Kreul points out, "A woman's rising opportunity cost of time, or the value she places on her uncommitted time, has given rise to an age of convenience foods and more frequent meals out." More than 50 percent of all adult females now work, according to the U. S. Department of Labor Statistics.

"Double incomes and hectic lifestyles have all been instrumental in reducing her willingness to cook and have increased the practicality of dining out," Kreul notes.

Service Top Consideration

Area restaurants joined the National Restaurant Association and allied industry trade groups in a nationwide drive to heighten pride in service throughout the giant $45 billion food service industry.

"Under the banner of 'We're Proud to Serve You!' area foodservice and lodging businesses are seeking to rekindle new enthusiasm for an old-fashioned concept — pride in service.

"The area," says the National Restaurant Association, "is to get hundreds of thousands of restaurant employees involved in a program that builds pride in accomplishment."

"We're Proud to Serve You!" offers a plan to improve service performance and morale together with a program to merchandise this effort in ways that capture the public's attention.

A wide array of promotional materials, including campaign buttons, posters, floor mats, counter cards and customer giveaway items will begin appearing soon in area restaurants, the NRA said.

"Pride in service is a positive value that can be shared by both employee and customer at no additional cost to either. It follows that if foodservice employees take pride in what they do it will translate directly to restaurant customers in the form of more courteous and conscientious service," the trade association believe.

The NRA further described the drive as "a positive, purposeful program that will help the industry win new friends. It represents a novel, fun approach to a situation that restaurant customers consider important when dining away from home.

Surveys show that when service falters in a restaurant, the quality of the total dining experience is diminished in the eyes of the consumer.

The NRA said foodservice and lodging businesses everywhere, regardless of size or type of service, are being encouraged to take part in the drive to promote pride in service. Potential for participation is great because the industry ranks first in the nation in terms of total number of business units.

There are an estimated 336,400 commercial restaurants and about 151,800 institutional foodservice operations in the U. S. today. In terms of people, the industry employs more than 3.8 million, including more teenagers and parttime workers than any other industry in the country.

Tipping Began In The Middle Ages

Tipping began in the Middle Ages when it became customary to reward the servant who rushed out to the carriage with a beverage.

That servant received a coin so he too could enjoy a beverage in return for the favor.

The gesture continued through the 18th century in England where it became customary to leave coins in a box at the entrance to a restaurant. The box was labeled, "To Insure Prompt Service."

Later it was abbreviated to read,

"TIPS." Coins were deposited in the box in expectation of getting a table and a reasonable amount of service.

Today we have become more sophisticated and don't pay for the product until we receive it.

The amount of tip is determined by the service actually received. It is recommended that 15 to 20 percent be tipped for excellent service and adjusted downward as service declines.

Elimination of tipping in restaurants would not reduce, but would actually increase, the price of a meal.

Survey Says That Male Diners Tip Higher

Male diners are better tipplers, eat breakfast and lunch faster, and have more fun eating out than do women.

B. Brody Seating Company, Chicago.

manufacturer of contract dining furniture, undertook this survey to obtain a better ideal of trends in the restaurant industry and to garner facts which might be relevant to the design of dining furniture.

Fine Dining In An Atmosphere Of The Past

The charm of a 3-centuries old setting enhances the pleasure of leisurely, relaxed dining at the Kingston 1686 House - the oldest house in the town of Kingston, N. H.

Built in 1686 and converted to a restaurant in 1972, the house retains many original features, such as the beehive bake-oven, 9 over 6 windows, Indian shutters, wide pine floor boards, and handcut beams. The atmosphere of times past is further heightened by candlelit dining rooms, 6 working fireplaces, and a staff in period costumes.

Since acquiring the restaurant in 1973, owners Peter and Niki Speliotis, along with their son Peter, Jr., have carefully preserved the sense of tradition while adding their own unique touches and innovations, from the decor to the menu. The interior is enlivened throughout by Niki's own crewel work - the exterior by her extensive garden of dwarf evergreens and perennials.

The Speliotis family's determination to serve top quality food is as important a factor in the Kingston 1686 House's popularity as its appealing atmosphere. Superb dinners - all individually prepared to order from the finest prime-graded meats and fresh seafood - include such specialties as Baked Stuffed El Presidenti Jumbo Shrimp, Chateaubriand, Plume de Veau veal dishes, Rack of Lamb, and Baked Stuffed Fresh Haddock. Customers can even pick their own lobsters from the live lobster tank on the porch. Desserts are all homemade. Moreover, all dinners include several extra touches - cheese dip and crackers, hot bread and butter, relish plate, salads with homemade dressings, and daily "tidbits" such as marinated mushrooms, Greek meatballs, chicken wings, or Feta cheese puffs.

Featuring one of the finest selections of wines north of Boston, the Kingston 1686 House recently became the first restaurant in northern New England to install a "Cruvinet" wine dispenser - a revolutionary new machine that can serve an individual portion of any wine while preserving the remainder in the bottle in unopened condition. Now, many selections from the Kingston 1686 House's extensive wine cellars are available by the glass. This development, says Peter, Sr., creates unprecedented opportunities for matching foods and wines.

A new lounge and banquet room were also added within the last year. Named for the historic Linden Tree planted during the Revolution and presently shading its lovely windows, the beautiful Linden Room seats 150 while maintaining the charm and character of the five intimate dining rooms which occupy the old house, the extension and the original barn.

In the new lounge, a unique bar and valence has been created by chef Peter, Jr. from the handsome wooden boxes which originally contained wines served in the restaurant.

The harmonious blending of present-day excellence with the charm of yesteryear creates a memorable dining experience at the Kingston 1686 House.

The Kingston House, built in 1686 and converted to a restaurant in 1972, still retains many of its 3-centuries old features such as the beehive bake oven, 9 over 6 windows, Indian shutters, wide pine floor beams and handcut beams.

Recently Opened Whittier Inn Is Federalist In Decor; Has Open Hearth

The Whittier Inn, formerly the Whittier Hotel and Cobbler's Bench restaurant, opened in April, completely renovated by developers John and Vincent Grasso of the Grasso Construction Company, 793 Turnpike St., North Andover. The new inn will open with 55 employees.

The decor of the establishment is that of the new Federalist period and features several dining areas, a pub and function room. An open hearth makes up a portion of one of the redecorated rooms.

The inn will not be open for lunch Saturdays and for the present time, will be closed Sundays.

The business is operated by Gerhard Schnellinger, manager of restaurants throughout Europe and the United States. He reports to the Grassos.

Head Chef Heinz Ahnfeldt has 22 years experience as a cook in Germany and Jamaica. He also served as chef of the Oken Spruce in the Berkshires.

Ahnfeldt specializes in American, German, French and Italian foods.

Manager, Janice Libby previously served as manager of the San Piper Bay Resort, Port St., Lucie, Fla.; Blue Hill Country Club, Canton; Boston Park Plaza; and the Colonial Hilton, Lynnfield.

She said "a very elegant type of dining" has been designed with captains of the floor; roll girls, serving various breads; bus boys, serving butter individually at tables, and a complement of waiters, waitresses and cooks.

Some foods such as Whole Roasted Long Island Duck will be cooked at the table, she said. She said the restaurant compares favorably with the finest restaurants in Boston and added the management is hoping people will find the Whittier Inn a local alternative to Boston restaurants.

The staff, she said, is undergoing much training and all have backgrounds in large functions. Functions have already been booked for the new inn in advance, and the possible acquisition of the former Essex Street Fire Station would complement these events, she said.

Future plans include the construction of a glass atrium between the Inn and the fire station if the city agrees to sell the latter.

Libby said dinners will feature scrod, shrimp, foods from the open hearth, lamb chops, English mixed grill, filet mignon, center cut pork chops, specialties for two, double sirloin steak, beef stroganoff and many European dishes.

Lunches will feature many kinds of salads, crepes, seafood, quiches, sandwiches on giant croissants, London broil and the Whittier Inn Burger Deluxe.

European pastries and special desserts will round out the menu, she said, adding prices are "reasonable" and compare with others in the area.

Some Places Now Add 'Gratuity' To Your Bill

Restaurants and hotels across the country have begun to adopt the European practice of automatically adding to the customer's bill a "gratuity" or service charge.

Rather than allowing the patron to decide when and how much to tip, as has been traditional in this country, a predetermined percentage of the food and beverage total is added before the patron receives the bill.

A Gallup Organization survey of diners' attitudes toward the two systems of tipping revealed 88 percent of those responding preferred the traditional method of tipping.

Only 9 percent expressed a preference for an automatic surcharge of 15 percent.

While only a small number of consumers said they would prefer the 15 percent surcharge, even fewer of those people surveyed who dine out often said they would prefer the European method of tipping.

Only 7 percent of those who eat out on the average of four or more times a week reported they would prefer a 15 percent surcharge added to the check. Yet the automatic tip was preferred by 11 percent of those who dine out infrequently.

A preference for the automatic surcharge was highest among adults age 65 and older and women who are not employed outside the home — two groups that dine out relatively infrequently.

It is apparent that most consumers — especially those who dine out often — want to make their own decisions about the amount of tip to leave when they have dinner out. This preference may not be based on the amount of money involved, but perhaps because customers feel that personal discretion on tipping is the best way that they can ensure prompt and courteous service.

'Dining Out' On A Diet

Your favorite restaurant with its luxurious decor, a solicitous maitre d', a chef famous for pound-producing sauces and congenial dinner companions need not crumble the determination of the most dedicated dieter, according to Elaine Robin, director of a weight-watching group in Eastern Massachusetts and Rhode Island. "Special events," Mrs. Robin noted, "provide a good opportunity to demonstrate that even the weight-conscious diner can enjoy eating out, provided he or she follows certain guidelines to avoid eating traps."

Some of her "dining out" guidelines are as follows:

1. Choose steak houses or seafood restaurants whenever possible.

If you go to another kind of restaurant you can always order meat, poultry, or fish broiled and ask that your vegetables be prepared without butter.

2. Don't pour over the menu.

If you are on a weight reduction program, you know what you can have.

Ask for it.

Be cordial to the maitre d' and send your compliments to the chef for helping you stay on your diet.

3. Order a salad or coffee immediately. Move the basket of rolls to the other side of the table.

If you have something to eat that meets your diet requirements, and if you are not confronted with the temptation to nibble, you will find it much easier to follow your food program.

4. Be the first one in your party to order.

This avoids the "me, too" syndrome and keeps you away from a major trap.

NRA Offers Facts On Eating Out

Here are some facts about eating out from the National Restaurant Association:

• The average person eat out 3.5 times a week.

• The average per-person check is $3.50.

• Lunch is the meal most likely to be eaten out. • Men eat away from home more frequently than women.

• Singles eat out more often than families.

• As income increases, consumers eat away from home more frequently.

• 78 percent of all families report eating at restaurants regularly.

Food Service Industry Has Fascinating History

The history of public eating service is probably as ancient as the Old Testament, which frequently refers to ins.

"Restaurant" has its origin in the latin root word, "restaurare" which means "to restore." In the 16th century, this Latin root word was applied to a spicy broth and called a "restorative beverage." Later it was applied to other "restorative" foods, especially gravy, soups, bouillions, and similar preparations.

The honor for creating the first "businessmen's lunch" apparently belongs to a chap named Segius Locates, a Roman in-keeper in 50 B.C. He devised the feature for ship brokers who were too busy to go home.

Some authorities claim that the "medieval" history of the restaurant industry began during the French Revolution in 1789, when hiding aristocrats were fed in secret by their servants. These rendezvous became known to other aristocrats who were willing to pay a small charge for well-cooked meals.

In ancient times, there were places for public eating roughly similar to our restaurants. Before the dawn of civilization, when people began making their homes in one place and occasionally traveling away from home — as distinguished from nomads who had no real homes — they needed a place to eat and sleep enroute. Thus early restaurants were usually in conjunction with sleeping accommodations.

Inns, hotels and monasteries of Europe served this function up to the 17th century. Chaucer's Canterbury, pilgrims used to gather prior to their journeys to the shrine of St. Thomas A. Becket to dine and revel. They also held inners there after they returned, at which time the best teller of stories during the pilgrimage was rewarded with a free meal and feted. This was the idea of the inn host, Barry Baileu, who went along on the trip to judge the best tales.

In England, commoners had patronized eating places called "ordinary" as far back as 1577. These were taverns which served only at specified mealtimes — usually between one and four o'clock.

A noted ordinary frequented by literary figures in the 17th century was the Castle Ordinary. It burned down in 1666 and was rebuilt as Dolly's Chop House. The later gained reknown when "Dolly" introduced pretty serving aids instead of waiters. Dolly's Chop House was famed for choice of beefsteaks and ales, Fielding, Defoe, Swift, Dryden, Pope, Gainsborough and Handel were steady customers of this Chop House.

When coffee was introduced to Europe, the restaurant function was taken over by coffee houses which were popular in England from the 17th century on. In France, the "Cafe" (coffee) arose. The first English coffee house was in St. Michaels Alley, Cornhill, owned by a Greek named Pasqua Rosee who was the first to teach the method of roasting coffee and to introduce it in England.

The first public eating place to be designated as a restaurant was opened in Paris in 1975. It was called LeChamp d'Oiseau and its proprietor was a gentleman called Boulanger. Over the doorway was a Latin inscription: Venite and me omnes que stomacho laboratis et ego restaurabo vos ) "Come to me all whose stomachs cry out in anguish and I shall restore you."

British Aristocracy Influence On Silverware

For centuries, England was a world leader in manufacturing silver.

The British aristocracy encouraged the design and production of magnificent gold and silver tableware, flatware and fixtures.

Laws strictly controlled silversmiths and governed silver content with elaborate methods of identification under the direction of the Goldsmiths Company.

During the colonial period of our history, the austere life here and the demands of establishing homes in the wilderness discouraged the development of the American silversmith. For this reason, silver of our colonial period is extremely rare and valuable.

Not subject to the laws of the English Guild, American silver was generally identified by the maker's name alone.

As our country grew, American smiths became more dominant in the field of producing fine silver articles. In the 1850's, our silver manufacturers began classifying silver with the identification, Sterling, signifying it as .925 part silver and .075 other metals.

Thus most silver marked, Coin, Pure Coin or Warrented, was manufactured between 1830 and 1850. Although it varies slightly in silver content, generally it contains about .900 parts silver. It also frequently appears lighter in weight and more fragile than Sterling.

Table Settings And Salt Shakers

Restaurant goers are quick to appreciate the handsomely-appointed table setting and the shining silver flanking the plate.

There was a time when such table appointments were rare, reserved only for the very wealthy.

In Tudor England, salt cellars were distinguished family possessions, used only by the very rich who could afford the prestigious container for the then expensive seasoning.

The salt cellar was always placed within the easy reach of the master of the house, and social status was designated by seating around the table in relation to the salt cellar.

This gave rise to the oldest eating utensil, dating back to the shells first used by primi-
